Issue 850

Date: February 2 2017

Time: 4.30 pm

Welcome again to the Omega Portal and I greet you and I ask you to settle your mind, settle your body, be at peace so that you can travel with me as your light body consciousness form and we will journey together again, as I call you to be within the receiving area of the Station of Light. Here it is that we begin another chapter of the journey.

It is indeed like opening a familiar book and moving into the pages as the journey and the story unfolds and is described. Partly it is a journey of you unfolding to reveal the pure essence of you and to draw you into the area of your purpose and your service and your presence - making sense of your presence on Earth perhaps.

So, I leave it to the Beings of Light from the Station to come through and be with us again.

“Indeed, Beloved, Orem addressing you here and I come forward with the energy that I bring through to you at this time and the other Beings with me who carry forward the pattern that you have become familiar with, known as the crystalline energy. The effect of this is having a marked changing effect on your energy systems.

You may have been experiencing sensations around your body. This will be as the result of you integrating the incoming flows of this energy system presented to you, in an ongoing way. At present here in the receiving area we assess you again and we are assisting the stabilisation of this energy. The impulses coming through with this energy have intensified and you will have been reacting to this. Also, you may have had the sense of losing the sense of time and reality. Again, all of these issues occur during the state of transition as you absorb higher energy frequencies.

The higher energy frequencies tend to uplift you out of your surroundings momentarily and you are constantly adjusting to the higher functioning of the consciousness field of you and reacting to what is around you in the daily activities. Bringing yourself into sessions such as this and in other ways you incorporate into your daily routines does assist this process of adjustment.

Continuing further, we are now presenting you into the chambers beyond this initial receiving area, and as we progress into a particular area, you may sense the framework change. It is a dimensional section we have not delivered you into until this point and the dimensions change. There is a constant wave pattern and ebb and flow within the energies. Normally you do not react to or sense many of these, because of the shifting in your awareness and the pattern of your own life. In this area and in this current phase of change, the presentation of you into this dimensional field will be presenting to you a different opportunity and this opportunity will begin the process of changing your perception in such a way that you may find you are able to see further and to see in a different way to what you have normally perceived, even within these sessions and especially within your daylight visibility on the planet. The enhancement is working in a dimensional way on your energy systems.

There are aspects within your physical units which are being activated during this presentation to you.

Visually you might sense it as a network or a grid, especially around the upper part of your body, even as you are present here in your light body system and you may also observe it and perceive it and around your physicality as you rest. This is part of the ongoing adjustment to the energy coding structure and form that is maintaining your present physicality. When you are present here in your energy form, the energy grid network works very fast to repair or replace any particular pathways and energy systems which are needing that and this then helps you synchronise the energy field of your light body with this dimensional matrix here. It is done for you out of time, in this altered dimension.

Perceive the many people around you. Many indeed. Do you understand the significance of this? Do you understand that many of you are linked as a particular strong field of energy present and operating around the entire planet? We have also called in at this time some Beings aware of this who are stationed on the moon associated with planet Earth. This will give you the understanding of the sense that some of you have had of different Beings brought in to be allies to you and to help you extend your focus beyond Earth to encompass other systems.

Travelling beyond this dimensional space again, we present you into the portal and thus moving into the cities of light presentation to you. There is an expansion also in this field of knowledge and awareness of these light city civilisations now and being involved in the activation and energy of the crystalline energy, now you are able to move readily into these civilisations.

These civilisations are likened to a community who is self-supporting of each other, self-supporting in the way that you continue to expand your awareness in a joyful ongoing connection and communication. This civilisation does not include any of the other thought forms that have worked into manifestation in the present civilisation on Earth throughout many of the levels and the bodies who operate and control the existence of you. You are able to withdraw into this state of consciousness at any time, and you can work with that, to feel yourself immersed within the supporting system of this creation.

As we continue, we would also help you identify some of the beams of energy referred to in our previous transmission to you which are coming into specific light stations around the planet and the beams of energy are also bringing in altered lifestyles of Beings coming forward. This is not to intimidate you or to give you the thought that there is a stronger presence of these Beings who might change what is happening on Earth. It is information and also preparing all of you on Earth to communicate with these different Beings coming through in the beams of light. Some of the Beings will present themselves physically, otherwise it is an energy system.

The energy systems also have an element known as purification and it is also to do with the crystallisation of some of the pollution that has become strongly evident in some areas of the planet. The crystallisation process changes one condition to another so that it can be either withdrawn or transmuted into some other element as part of the purification and cleansing. And that is just one more aspect of these beams of light energy coming through to different areas around the planet.

Do you understand that you are capable of assisting this ongoing presentation of altered energy frequency? You are able to assist more as you accept the interchange of energy, such as you have been presented with in this transmission.

The expansion of the energy grid around you works very deeply into the concepts that you hold of the creation of Earth and the evolution of it at present and also you have been receiving energy messages which will direct you into different areas of service and of presenting yourself into layers of the communication network around the planet, where you can clearly see what is needed and will be given the right words or action. You will be listening very deeply to your inner messages more and this is coming through to you now so that you will be able to work more cooperatively with the flows of energy you are receiving.

Remember that it is also in alignment with you and your purpose, from your Point of Origin. Directly taking in that information and knowledge of your presence in that state will assist everything we have been bringing to you at this time.

This has been an introduction to you of a new formation of energy for you and around you and I am now bringing you back from the crystalline area civilisation and moving back directly into the receiving area of the Station again.

Feel that you are being drawn to a particular space within here that you stand on, as an anchoring point and stabilisation again, because as you took on some of this higher energy, you changed. Your appearance, even to us, changed in accordance with the energy you resonated with, so you may feel yourself as a different form, a different colour, perhaps clothed in something different to what you first appeared as at the start of this transmission. You will feel the strengthening you have received and clarity in many ways.

It is in this respect that I acknowledge you and your awareness and your presence here. I withdraw at this time

Orem out

Thank you Orem. This is Lani addressing you now and personally I do feel that I acquired somehow a sense of a suit I was wearing - a garment. Very special, very light, not like any fabric we have here on Earth because it was flowing and very active, luminescent and breathable - and it was all over me from my neck, down my arms, across my hands, right down to my feet. It will be interesting to hear if you felt you were clothed in something different today.

Now bring your attention, through my voice, back to the sense of yourself and realise that you are coming back to connect all of this special energy into your physical unit again.

You can feel proud of the way you are adapting to the energy - all the fluids within you - all the cells - all the activities. Bring it into areas of your body that you may feel need enhancing. You are capable of doing that.

Now it is time for me to close the portal on this transmission and for you to be firmly into the reality that you have created around you on Earth. You may also feel you have a big bubble of protective energy around you where you are, and this will help you in many ways retain the energy and absorb it.

Thank you for being with me again

Lani
