Issue 851

Date: February 9 2017

Time: 8 pm

We begin this session by being aware firstly of yourself, firstly of your body and the surroundings where you are, being aware of noises in the room and outside of the room and then bring your attention deeply within yourself. Going deeper within, withdrawing from those senses you have just been using until you sense your energy body, your energy self and this is the aspect of you - a conscious aspect of you - that comes readily with me to gather into the receiving area of the Station of Light. This is the area where the communication is facilitated quite clearly and where you can be experiencing a different type of energy perhaps to that which you may receive in your personal meditations and in the times when you are receiving the shifts in energy individually. In this state it is as if we are given a greater opportunity, because we are surrounded by more of the Beings who assist us and who do have us in their care and who do oversee us in our progress and also they remind each and every one of us that we are here in this body only temporarily - that is, the part of us that is here exists in this body for a temporary time until such time as we are called or we chose to be somewhere else. Part of the Light Beings' purpose is to gather us together and to strengthen awareness in each one of us, in you, to help you be very clear and reconnected to the purpose that you have of being in this present body and in this present moment in the Earth plane. Bringing you into the present moment allows you to balance all aspects of yourself, and so being balanced, you will be more able to receive the energy presented to you in this state of consciousness, in the state of your presence here. Perhaps you perceive that you are just a Light Being yourself, standing in the universe, or perhaps you do perceive that you are in a particular space and have details shown to you. This is appropriate to you as an individual.

Now I withdraw and I sense that Orem is around us here.

“As I introduce myself to you again Beloved, Orem addressing you, I am surrounding you each in this space. This space changes as I have commented to you previously, in accordance with the energy that you bring forward, the energy that you attract to you in this space, depending on your state of perception and readiness now, in the moment. The energy that is being drawn around you here now is separating you from everything and everyone, so in this aspect you may feel that there is just you as an individual, being presented with a whole network and structure and perhaps a map or a plan that is appropriate to you for the surrounding influences around you now and what you perceive you are ready to begin or ready to leave behind you.

We are focussing on each of you individually in this time because you have reached a point where you have sensed a change in the energy frequency around you and for some of you this will have been giving you a sense of out of balance, out of tune, or out of synchronisation with the flow of energy usually you are actively using and drawing into you. We are assisting you to be synchronised with the pattern of energy now around you and the flows entering into your system, both in the planetary system and you individually as being a system, have become intensified and everything is being altered in accordance with this energy streaming to you now.

We mentioned in previous messages about specific beams of energy coming into the planet. These beams of energy have now increased and they are having an effect on your entire energy system. Part of this is to expand your perception and to allow you to receive the light energy frequency, the crystalline light energy frequency. This is coming into and around you in this moment, right into this introductory phase of the transmission to you, and of course this will be uplifting you even more strongly in your light body here. There has been the sense that part of you has been out of alignment, part of you has been working very hard to continue the existence in the material formation around you which you have created, and part of you which responds to the light energy system has been wanting to be more aware of operating in the crystalline civilisation frequency. This will be continuing but in these times when you gather into these spaces, more assistance is given to you to help regulate the flows and to help you integrate the higher frequency throughout you.

Your light body system here is drawing this particularly deeply into the energy structure of you as it is presented here in this state - in this altered dimensional state. The altered dimensional state also reflects and contains the energy DNA structure for you each, so we have often referred to the blueprint for your bodily systems and the energy blueprint and energy DNA and in this particular transmission this is a focus for you. Your light body, as you sense it, will be pulsating with this information between the words, surrounding you in an energy matrix which is responding to the incoming flows of energy and the alteration in the frequency referred to as magnetic flows and pulses. There has been discussion about this subject and awareness around various groups around your planet, so this is being described to you here and you are in the space where you can experience this flow of energy. Indeed, in one sense you may feel it relates to gravity as you know it to be, because there is shifting deeply within your own electrical systems within you, and the energy cellular processes within you, and you may find that there is a moving apart, drawing away from you through your energy structure of different aspects that need to be drawn away out of the deeper cellular matrix and working of your body systems. This is an energy clearance for you and an energy adjustment.

Your light body consciousness here is adapting already to this and takes in more of the frequency of the light and the concepts which are contained within that and already you will be feeling you are embracing a greater space around you. Your energy field has expanded in this space, as an individual and this is what we were working to help you achieve and adapt to.

Now we are moving you away into another area within this Station of Light, another phase, another level of how you are able to function using the energy, and being collected into a vast chamber with many other Beings, as you are, present here. Together we are indicating to you that you could sense movement within the Earth structure itself. The various land masses move and expand and the water flows move and expand. There is contained in that, an element of the processes involved in enhancing the energy of water which exists in the atmosphere and in the land and all through creation. Every time you breathe in and out, you are working with water - the element of water, and as such, it is known as an element. Even in this space in your light body, you understand what that is. We could show you the patterns within the water, the movement and the flows, and how some of the energy within some parts of water differs and can be measured differently. We are explaining this to you so that you will understand that the enhancing of the water will have a major effect around the planet and it can also be incorporated and affected by the energy flows, the waves and the pulses around the Earth, measured by scientists in different layers around the planet. Because you exist in the current time line and conditions, then you notice the changes and the fluctuations.

As the group connected into this area here, you are utilising the connectedness in the consciousness field to experience the movement of water. Water can change, as you are aware, into different forms and as it is changed into a crystalline-type state, that is important in the process of clearing away influences and matter and created essences and created aspects that are not needed as you progress and evolve. It is another way of clearing away the energy patterns from you. This is being made known to you now and will be made known to other people that you come in contact with, simply because there might be times when you would perceive that your body feels as if it has grit on it, or perhaps you feel there are salt crystals on your body that you feel you could remove and wash away and that is the effect of the transformation of some matter and energy systems to that form that is easily cleansed away from you.

Now, coming back to the sense of yourself in this group in this special chamber, you will be seeing that many of the people around you have felt they have achieved something by being present, by observing the water throughout the planet and it is that very often when you are connected into this space, you share in the activities in which we are able to help the Earth adapt to energy changes and to help the shift in consciousness of people and to help that same shift occur throughout your bodily energy systems including the physical systems. The physical systems are lesser than the energy systems and so with the energy systems being worked on, then the physical will adapt to a greater degree.

Gently now we draw you back to be conscious that you are now within the receiving area of the Station once more. This time you will be aware that there are various sections in this area you might think some of these are storage devices and areas and perhaps your own storage unit here that you have used over time on some particular visits to this area, perhaps you will be focusing on that in this time, and you will feel yourself drawn to a specific aspect or manifested creation here for you and you will feel that you are linking your energy systems with that. For a moment also, experience receiving an energy boost in a way that you can experience and you can bring back into your physical form. This storage space you have created and you would relate it to something you could identify as an object and that relates to the physical manifested world around you and thus you are able to draw on it to bring it back correctly in the right sequence into your physical form.

Perhaps you feel you are enveloped in this energy, uniquely for you and during that process I withdraw at this time

Orem out “

Thank you Orem. This is Lani again and I am now drawing you away from that little experience. Already you will be more aware that your light body has become more identified as you, as your physical body here and already you will be also aware of your body where you are receiving this energy transmission. There are two aspects of you - your light energy form, separate before merging back with the physical body. There has been an energy infusion and so you might be aware of this in your mind or in your head as you start to reconnect with your physical body, just as if you are passing through a barrier to come back into the body, a layer, a denseness, perhaps it's the veil of forgetfulness when we come into birth time into the body, but of course you now remember your connections and you remember the energy shifts you have experienced and taken part in during this transmission. Now embrace all aspects of you, coming back into this reality of your body form and also send loving gratitude energy to all parts of this life that you have lived on this journey - all of those aspects that have brought you to this point of being present here today - with loving gratitude. I close the Omega Portal on this transmission today. Make sure you are fully aware of your surroundings and body and the beautiful enhanced energy you have taken in through the energy DNA through your light body, deeply into everything that is identified as your physical DNA and body now and really enjoy this energy. Thank you everyone

Lani
