Date: February 23, 2017
Time: 5.30 pm

I open the Omega Portal for this transmission and call on you to identify yourself as a greater conscious Being than you perhaps normally are in your daily life, with the distractions of the daily life.

As a conscious Being, you have available to you a greater network of communication and a greater sense of alignment to the universal pattern and many other things that you would be on Earth to perform as a function, or to enliven yourself, to anchor energy. There are many reasons for the very many people present on Earth at this time, Even amongst all of you who are receiving this transmission, it varies. There is one constant, and that is that we can all assemble in the receiving area of the Station of Light and connect with the Beings within this Station, over-viewing progress on planet Earth and assisting in many ways, more than I can detail, I am sure, but their presence and the information coming through their presence becomes more detailed and more complex as we unfold and we are prepared to understand and receive.

Therefore, in this state of consciousness that you are present here within this receiving area of the Station, you have a complex number of experiences and perhaps other groups of Beings who will come forward to you.

"We advise you of this before we begin the session. Many of you have established a greater insight and greater visionary experience, so we are preparing you to perceive many different Beings and Stations during these transmissions.

Orem with you here Beloved. I have already established the connection to you individually and I address you as such. I acknowledge you here and I would also help you to define yourself as the essential Being of Light here.

In addressing you as an individual, we are drawing you deeper into a selected area within and between dimensions - the dimensional field. Many of you are well known to what is called a transition experience and phase between dimensions and we do not label particular dimensions and densities, or light cities, because these adapt to whoever is present and change in accordance with the energy field structure. We do advise you that all of these centres of light are a greater energy experience than what you have around you in the present circumstances on Earth.

There are sufficient energy penetrations into the Earth structure to initiate a vast elevation of many of the lifeforms and the entities who have become conscious of the need to evolve and the need to experience the level of exchange of information between altered states of consciousness in which there are a great number of different Beings.

The impulse, therefore, is within every living form. In the humanistic form that you have, you also have the deep longing to know more and to be correctly positioned and aligned to receive the information. The pattern, you see it is the pattern of the energy which is the information. It informs memory cells, it informs all cells within you.

In bringing this information to you in this way, we are utilising a different aspect of the vessel who is delivering the words and the information carries an energy level unfamiliar to her existence and so there is the expression coming through the voice which will take you further and which is currently adjusting many of the aspects to do with the human voice structure and the patterning. There are many streams of information and Beings who receive this in a telepathic communication - an impression into the mind - but we are delivering it in such a way that the words convey the impression and the impulses and the energy which engineers many of the changes and the responses in you.

This has been intense in this opening address to you, so we now draw you deeper into a chamber within this Station where there is relaxation, where there is a vast pool surrounding you of energy flows and this will calm down many of the cells which have become activated and the impulses throughout your bodily systems which you will be aware of at this time. In particular we are immersing your light body energy systems here in this flow of energy.

You are also supported by many of the Beings of light who have made themselves known to you over many sessions and so the Star Elders come forward to you and they are in particular assessing the adjustments being performed in the light body structure you have here, with the acceleration of the process. This also will have caught the attention of your conscious mind, because there will be a relationship occurring to different areas within your body.

“We attend thee in this time and we open the area around you where you will be receiving higher rays in a different energy spectrum to what you are familiar with. Allow yourself to receive this, because it will be of benefit to the multi layers that you are. It is already configured especially for each of you individually, to match the individual energy pattern of you.

That was our purpose in presenting ourselves to you. “

“Orem again addressing you. As you adapt and integrate this energy process within you, become aware of the impulse you have to proceed, to completely disengage from you aspects that you have held onto from your life experience. These may include familiar thought patterns, these may include aspects of disturbances within your mental, emotional or physical units. It is necessary for you to realise you can lay those aside and emerge into this frequency pattern surrounding you in this Station in this transmission.

You will feel the expansion this gives you, deeply, and thus we are able to establish your connections as you resonate with a greater encompassing field surrounding the planet. You are experiencing a different layer and this is revealing to you many of the links that the Earth Station has to other places similar to Earth in the greater universe of manifested worlds. Your commitment to becoming one with this and in alignment with your individual purpose ensures that you receive the flow of energy necessary for you and that you do not engage a flow of energy that is not intended for you or will not be helpful for you as you progress and expand and cooperate with the deeper layers.

This indicates an expansion in the overall consciousness field of many of the inhabitants of planet Earth at this time.

You will have been experiencing different sensations within your body over recent day phases, because you have already been merging with this expanded field. This you will continue to experience in such a way that you may feel connected, deeply activated, deeply committed into this process. Arising from this is a great adjustment within many layers of the Earth planet structure itself. So, there is a multi-purpose to you moving into this expanded area. It is indeed a very clear area and so your entire energy field is clear at this time.

Now we will continue, as you integrate this, to bring you back to the receiving area. Hold yourself in this space, this dimensional space until you feel sufficiently stabilised here to consider what you have been experiencing. Much of what you have gathered into you exists out of Earth measurement and time. When you integrate it and bring it back into Earth measurement of time, it will accelerate the process of enlivening many of the areas around the planet which need it, and it also increases the energetic field described in the last session with you, referred to as higher energy places that you would consider to be safe and protected. Those are definition terms. In our level of consciousness they are not defined as that - it is just a purified layer.

Beloved, I have informed you of much in this session and I leave this with you.

Orem out “

This is Lani speaking again. Thank you Orem, thank you Star Elders and many of the other Beings I was aware of who came around each one of us to help us in this situation. Time seemed to exist in pockets, or spaces, during this transmission and now I am having to bring you back from this Station, becoming aware of your light energy system and form, and aligning it correctly with the physical form known as you, defined as you, in this time, in this day, in the locality where your body is.

So, take all of this great expansion into your awareness. You could perhaps see your brain surrounded by energy circuits and an energy field surrounding your entire body form, increased, accelerated, right down to the tiniest aspect. When you move right into the tiniest aspect of a cell that you could image, there is the entire universe - all within you.

Now breathe consciously and deeply as you take into you all of this energy now, and so as this transmission concludes, I close the Omega Portal today. Make sure you are grounded and aware of your time and day and surroundings in the present.

Thank you for sharing in this

Lani
