Issue 856

Date: March 16, 2017

Time: 6.30 pm

Welcome again to the Omega Communications Portal. Give yourself permission to put aside what you have been doing and thinking about and allow yourself to deeply relax your body and your mind and then bring your awareness into your light energy body - a whole different system that operates separately from your physicality. At this time I call you forth in your light body to be with me and to assemble into the transition space known as the receiving area of the Station of Light.

We have been focusing in this area for many sessions and each session builds on previous sessions because you expand and the information coming through can be expanded also, so here you are in the midst of an expanding sphere of energy which contains a great deal of information and patterns for you. Now bring your focus into this sphere of light and energy and wait with me while other Beings come forward and gather also into this session.

"Now I come forward and greet you, Beloved, Orem addressing you and we have in this moment established the communion between us each and a communication link is established at the same time between our Station here and many other satellite stations, some of which are within the Earth energy system and many of them are beyond. There is a pattern encircling Earth Station at this time and with the connections and the communication, it is increased, the pattern is strengthened and increased and adjustments can be made.

There is a parallel example with this within your entire energy field system. Your light body system here has a separate flow of energy around it and that can also be adjusted in accordance with - you might call them timelines - and they are different dimensional realities - and as those adjustments occur, then in time - in physical Earth time - the adjustments will also occur in your physical units. Let that be accepted and allow the adjustments in the appropriate time to occur. The appropriate time in this moment is for your energy light body system to be assessed, reviewed, and many segments adjusted. You could perceive this - some of you who are aware of what is happening - as multi layers - rings perhaps, encircling you completely as if you are within a sphere of energy, and the layers are shifting and moving and many of the layers are being modulated to resonate with a particular energy field communicating from a different part of creational universe.

It goes beyond substance. Substance in the universal mechanism can be identified as matter, some would refer to it as dark matter, and some of it also is simply a different density, in pockets, resulting from an accumulation of different bodies and energy systems in different areas of the universe.

You have been connecting in with and have been resonating with specific parts of this energy field and strengthening this at this time is happening through the adjustment and remodulation of the layers of energy around your particular light body.

You also are participating in this. It is an essential aspect of your beingness here that you immediately perceive the positioning and the adjustment needed and you then increase the pattern you are drawing to you and which you connect with and in that way you are making the adjustments for yourself in accordance with what is being brought forth. Some of what is being brought forth is referred to as the beams of energy coming to Earth Station and of course these are touching upon your energy systems and there has been reported to us some discomfort in some people, until they perhaps can have a deep sleep during which time they are adjusted to the energy frequency. Otherwise there would be pressures felt around areas of the body, in particular, areas of the head and upper back, so in this way, and because you are used to attuning yourself to your point of origin, many of you do not experience any such symptoms. The symptoms appear and are disturbing for those people who do not consciously accept and connect with the energy patterns.

It was intended that all of the inhabitants on Earth would be aware of such fluctuations and movements and changes in the energy field and would happily embrace the flows of energy because then they would put into place change in the magnificent creation needed for the Being as planet Earth. Even though there is the shifting and separation in part of the planet Earth you do still need to respond to the energy frequencies coming to you, to take them into you so that wherever you are, you are releasing the energy cells and the fluctuation and the memory and the enhancements out into the places you visit or maintain. You will become more used to doing this and perceiving the flows of energy around you.

This is being initiated in people as we are able to draw them to you for this assistance and for the connection, because the light body of the people will understand and relate to your energy field and to what is happening. Then there is the possibility that the human mind will begin to interpret what is happening and understand it.

This is another part of initiating the higher pattern within you and already those adjustments have taken place and we draw you away from the initial receiving area, where we can see that you are able to be present in a dimensional field being an aspect of the overall cities of light - the collectedness of them - and we draw you into the centre of a large pattern. You could sense what is around you and beyond you in the field of changing energy. There are many images in the presentation to you and for some of you there is no need to focus on the images, but just allow them to occur. They are part of the process of establishing the civilisation. Preparing it for those ones who are able to connect into these areas.

The ongoing work is similar to a flow of energy having its own rhythm and pattern and this you may perceive. Knowing that this is happening also establishes it firmly within your consciousness and will bring to you the positioning of certain portals into this area and ones that you can travel to in this inner journeying and perhaps if you were in the vicinity of known portals on the Earth's surface, you may be drawn to some also, but this is not entirely necessary at this time.

There is a significant upliftment project occurring. It is referred to as upliftment, but for some people it will be necessitating movement underground and separated from the population, so that you identify the elements of construction taking place, such as within the Oceania type activities, and more than that. There is a constant flow of energy and adjustments occurring and also to maintain where possible, a level of balance within the Earth structure itself. If you are drawn into any of these areas, it is part of the upliftment process.

At this moment we call you back to assemble in the central communication chamber of this Station.

It becomes essential to connect into this area each time you are drawn here.

This confirms to you the presence of the Station, you become accustomed to the sense of it, how it feels to be here and the presentation to you of some of the Beings who are helping you, as an individual, and greater groups. It is sometimes just getting together to renew the relationships and this is part of the repatterning of you, even here in your light body.

Also in your light body here, there is a moment when you feel fully connected into the entire process of the change extended into making special adjustments for you all and giving you a sense of a more specific outline of what is to be. You will be receiving this because you are connected into the entire session and the entire linked consciousness here.

This will be enlivening the pattern and at this point again it is time to bring you back away from that communication chamber and gathering, bringing your focus back into the receiving area of the Station.

In this session, do you see the many different portals into this space? Each portal has Beings beside it to observe who passes in and out and to help the process. There is sometimes a reluctance for some to leave this space and there is the necessity to maintain your presence on the Earth, treating the Earth and your life as a base that you return to. You have established much as your base in a continuation of your particular life journey.

We are also in the receiving area checking you over for the adjustments that were made in different layers around you must be set in place easily and accepted as normal, because it has created an expansion of you. And this is done.

I will draw now, Beloved

Orem out “

Again, I thank you Orem for all of this adjustment, insight and energy.

Lani speaking again to everyone here. You may be aware of particular portals by which you leave this receiving area. You may already feel that you are moving through them, coming back to Earth, and suddenly you are back at your body - within and around your body.

If you could change the body, what way would you do that? Would you make changes? Is there a need to make changes or around you? Or is the need purely to lovingly accept Self and for you to lovingly accept the Light Body Self, in every aspect of you, in every cell of your body and memory cells, tissue and energy all around you?

I feel this has been a very powerful immersion in energy during this transmission, but it is complete at this time. Layer by layer, as Orem says, and so now I close the Omega Portal and I ask you to make sure that you are fully back in the present, in your surroundings, as you are reading this, or listening to it. Fully focused in the present moment and you may allow yourself to feel the expansion and information you received.

Thank you - all of you Light Beings - everywhere

Lani
