Date: April 20, 2017
Time: 8 pm

Today as I open the Omega Portal and I open myself to receive the energy and to create a clear space around us, I link with you, each of you, as your light body energy self. In a way, I draw this aspect of you away from your physical body, so make sure your body is relaxed and comfortable and let yourself come with me and we will move together into the receiving area of the Station of Light. This receiving area seems to be very busy as we come in and it does draw you into this space. It draws you away from circumstances and it draws you into a deeper, stronger centre of light and energy, so this is the opportunity for you to release everything you have been holding onto or resisting and to let go of everything you consider yourself to be and let go of all experiences to be here in the present moment in this state of consciousness. Even though I draw you here in your energy body of light, it is a conscious body - a consciousness layer - a state of consciousness, perhaps, and so you are here as a different dimensional being, existing in and around your physical form, but definitely an energy construct, flowing energy. A construct we often think of is solid, but in this term it is metaphysical. Feel the energy that is around you in this receiving state and space.

“Upon you each in this time, Beloved, is a sphere of living energy particularly attuned to you. Orem addressing you at this time and this sphere of energy for you exists here, because as you come into this space, you remember being here and you have access to the energy that you need especially at this time, for the multi layers of you in whatever form you identify yourself as. You may be identifying yourself as several different forms or aspects of an energy concept that manifested in the physical body you have at present. In whatever form we draw you into one particular aspect of the energy Self that is you here. This is important for you to realise. It is also understandable that you may want to proceed beyond what we are delivering you into at the present moment. For the purpose of this transmission you are identified as a particular aspect in your light body consciousness form here. Realise this. Have a sense of it, of yourself. Those of us who move amongst you will be assisting you to identify self in some form or colour or presentation. This is sufficient for you to establish your presence here again and to be in the flow of energy around you.

In this space, you are outside of all of the impressions and impulses which may have been disturbing you in your daily circumstances. We understand that these are apparent to you and have a very strong effect at times upon you all, so bringing yourself willingly into this state of consciousness assists you to disengage all of that and also to realign you into this Station of Light and as such you then realise your connection to the greater Source Energy of Creation.

We introduce this to you quickly at this time because there is a need to strengthen the aspect of your light body essence. There can be the opportunities that arise around you which, in a sense, draws apart the energy system that you have here with us - disturbs it - and yes this is occurring even in the energy body, which is very strong in itself. So, as well as strengthening it again, you also are taking in energy from this space to help you in the forthcoming phase as you move through your journey in experience.

We do assist all of the processes that will strengthen you.

Moving aside from that now and moving with us into one of the communication chambers, this chamber is being accessed by an alignment into different dimensions. There is a change in the dimensional field and many of the energies you have been introduced to have been changing and this arises from the need to make further adjustments, firstly to your light energy body system, and this in turn you are learning to absorb from it into your physicality to assist you. The change also is modified at times each time you tune back into your Source Energy of the origination state and where you assembled what you needed to bring through into matter and the change also identifies some of the alteration in the energy field construction of planet Earth.

As the entire system within multi layers of consciousness changes, then it is required that your energy system is enhanced to help you also move into the adjustment period which is changing the Earth energy construction. What you are receiving now is introducing to you a very strong pattern. As you are here, in your light body, you will be experiencing this moving around you as if you had a solid form and you were enfolded in a garment - that is the strength of the energy presented to you here. It changes some of the codes that are necessary with the interchange of energy and this particular interchange occurs from the energy body light self through the transference of the liquid flowing in your body into the cells and we speak about many times to you of the crystalline light higher spectrum energy and this is what is being enhanced in this present state where you are in the moment and in turn, this comes into your cellular activity in the physical body - from the metaphysical to the physical.

You may have been experiencing a sense that you have been losing energy in your physicality, that you are perhaps not as bright or as energetic as you felt you were in earlier times, and you would have analysed this and put it into words - created a reason for it.

Well, the reason is that the whole energy system around Earth is changing and it needs this higher aspect and input that we are presenting to you now to help you in all the layers of your energy field. This is the main purpose of the presentation to you in the transmission at this time. Feel the vitality you have during this transmission.

Progressing from this now, we move you into experiencing the sensation of being within the city of light structure field. This is strengthening, in a sense you may experience it to be expanding, going beyond what you felt you knew it to be. Through the expansion of your own consciousness field, this city of light civilisation is expanding. There is a direct link between consciousness and creation. Therefore, as you expand your consciousness to accept the higher frequency, you are expanding creation and light and energy and information around you and the information will manifest into some form of creation, some physical form. If you are a creator and you are making something, let your higher state of consciousness recognise the energy form which exists first in your consciousness before you work on the creation physically and this can refer to many of the daily activities you undertake. They are all creations. Even a repetitive activity you do daily can seem different when you realise the aspect of consciousness involved in what you are doing and presenting.

Bringing your attention back to being in the light energy civilisation, momentarily express your love and joy for the wholeness that is being created, for the support, for the enlivenment, for the expansion of consciousness of all Beings and thus you are participating in the creation of that. It will touch every Being, for all is conscious - perhaps not all on the same expansion of consciousness, but receiving in whatever way is possible. There are many layers of support which are given directly through multi dimensions, just as you give your support and you witness others supporting others.

We are able to also advise you at this time that some of the constructions which had been manifested in earlier times in different areas of the planet and different satellite stations are also being altered because of the general upliftment in consciousness. People who have been controlled or confined are being released and there is an ongoing change-over into a more stable and positive situation for many of those groups of Beings and people and organisations. So, some of you who are receiving this will understand the intention behind it and what is happening. The release of information about it will also come forward.

You can also feel the strength of the light in an ongoing way being emitted and transferred into many other areas of life beyond planet Earth. The direct linkages are becoming stronger and more available and recognised by a lot more people as they expand their consciousness and are willing to see and observe what exists beyond the area of Earth.

Much of the information we are presenting to you is being released from some of the Councils of Light who oversee the evolutionary processes and there is information being presented to many people who are, you would think, senior on your planet or in control. There is the overall understanding of the turning of the evolutionary cycle and that people are being given information individually, such as you each are as you come together in the group, but even in your individual links back to the pure energy source, you get feelings, you get insights coming to you and that cannot be stopped. Once you make the connection clearly to the layers of the commissioned Beings, to the Command Stations, to this Station of Light you come into the oversight of those of us present assisting you and that is always with you. So, continue to be aware of that and open and accepting.

Now I am drawing you back to assemble again in the receiving area of the Station. Here you will find this is a comfortable space to be in, you created areas of it which you recognise. Remember, you can also observe aspects of Earth from this space and of course you came to Earth to be conscious and to consciously present higher concepts of life in the ways most appropriate for you to do that.

In these sessions we are helping you do that and we are helping you to stabilise the energy and to receive the higher energy for you. This we have done for you at this time, Beloved

Orem out “

“Thank you Orem. Ulea addressing you at this time and I am here especially to help you recognise me again. I have not presented myself to you in regular sessions, but I am here and I am also requesting you to move back connecting into your physical form. Also, with this I am ensuring that the higher pattern of energy you received, you are able to bring back around you. Use some form of tool if you wish to do so, as an object or a tool that contains all of that energy and you have it within your light body essence. As you come back to your body, you can feel you are presenting it back into your body. It is energy and energy is everywhere, so it can be absorbed deeply into you.

I am able to see this effectively present within you here. You are enveloped in energy and you will have an impression of my energy, or appearance.

You are loved. Thank you for being present and receiving this

Ulea out “

Lani again speaking and I give my thanks to those wonderful Beings of Light, Energy and Information. Now make sure you bring your attention back right into your physical form, right into where you are receiving this, right back into being present here now. Thank you, and I close the Omega Portal on this transmission.
