Issue 865

Date: May 18, 2017

Time: 4 pm

Hello everyone, again, as I open the Omega Portal and link with you from my body of light consciousness state and if I could gather you all up with me and transport you into the receiving area of the Station of Light, just as you are now, then is what I would do. At this stage, we are still working with states of consciousness - levels of consciousness - but you can still experience being there in this level of consciousness. We are told that this is the most powerful state to be in, as it is more powerful and more encompassing than what we operate as in our physical form and life and unit, and yet that greater level of consciousness within the light body, or as the light body, is always linking into higher existences and it links in with your infinite self - that higher self consciousness and your purpose, always.

In this session, bring your awareness up to identify with that higher state of consciousness that is You, and it is in that state that we are assessed and we are addressed by other Beings in that state and in the higher states again of evolutionary process.

“We deliver unto you many states of consciousness and many areas to exist in, Beloved. Orem addressing you at this stage and it is with a greatness - a great appreciation of you, that we come forward and address you, because it is your willingness and your intention to receive which is greatly appreciated and as you continue to work with us, then you find that you are more able to relax in your own physical environment and with the intenseness of the changes of energy field around you. You will notice that many people are not able to handle, to adapt, to the changes in energy and so this results in discomforts, in the body or mind or emotions. All of those discomforts you are able to leave behind you when you come into this state of consciousness to be present here in the Station of Light and Energy and Information.

It informs you in a different way because the energy, as you receive it, you are able to interpret into different places and to put into perspective in your life what is given to you here. Also, you are able to travel into other dimensions in these sessions. Some of those dimensions we have taken you into. You might want to identify the location.

We work intensely with the consciousness states of you, to help you realise that they are identified in many different levels of existence. Even in spaces where you have lived in other localities, either on Earth station or other planetary stations, while you were functioning as that physical entity, you were still in contact with the higher states of your consciousness, so you will understand why we impress this upon you and to bring you into receiving the linkages, the connection, that allows you again to participate on that higher consciousness level with the overall plan of evolution and upliftment.

The work continues to assess the level of consciousness attained around the human life force present on planet Earth and we also do identify the Beings who have entered into the bodies who are working to obstruct the upliftment process. We do acknowledge there can be such interference.

We also acknowledge that when we bring you into this state to connect with your higher states of consciousness you are not receiving interference. Always your focus needs to be into the higher states of reality existing here.

Already you may be aware that the presentation of you into the receiving area of the Station is fading and you are mixing with a greater number of Beings in a greater communication chamber.

We are assembled here to discuss many of the changes happening around the planet and to indicate that many of the people in places of influence around your planet are also drawn into discussion areas such as you are in here. Perhaps you can identify some known personalities here. Perhaps you will also identify the assistance given to them. Although some of that information received is not in the right time sequence to be released to the general mass of population consciousness, some of it is, and some of the information will be retained by these Beings present here and will surface at the appropriate time. The appropriate time is measured by the energy frequencies surrounding the individual Beings and the patterns surrounding experiences and the number of Beings present who are actively working within the higher light civilisation.

There has been distraction around the world on different experiences that are being outworked - patterns that continue to repeat and which are indeed distractions from your original point of origination to come into work in a unified field of consciousness. Some of that has layers that reveal what is going on, and some of it is to bring into alignment a general connectedness within the consciousness grid.

As we describe this to you, you may sense that. You may sense you have been lifted up into a higher level of this energetic grid. This serves the purpose of bringing you into a position with your alignment to some of the Source Energy which can filter through you and help make adjustments.

It is offered to the people and this energy you are bringing through will attract a certain level of understanding of some of the Beings who have opened their awareness and who are seeking to understand the pathway to move along. The pathway, as the purpose for each, is individually encoded into every Being. The encoding is held within the energy field within consciousness and the attempts that we are making to present everyone with a higher field of consciousness, then can attract those codes and by the resonance field, will expand those codes within the individual and they will begin to participate consciously, bringing about a unified field of consciousness and working together. It works in many ways through the creative fields of consciousness.

As we deliver this aspect to you also, you will feel that even though you are in a vast space with a vast number of people here from many Stations, you are being focused upon individually with a core energy field. Draw this to you. It will appear in your knowingness in some fashion for you to identify and to be able to link with and bring it in around you and this is how we help many through these sessions.

You may have the sense that all around your planet system, whether people are travelling in some vehicle, or whether they are within the Earth somewhere, they are still aware of receiving this energy and you may be aware that you are seeing some of these Beings around you. This is the entire network receiving the information which you are receiving.

You may feel at times the information presented through these transmissions and gatherings is purely for you. Each of you is a centre of a vast universe which interacts with other universes and therefore, while you are receiving the appropriate energy for you, it is also appropriate for those who resonate with the same frequency. You are happily receiving this and you are also able to realise that in the way it is presented to you, you are given many opportunities to relay that in many different ways.

Enjoying who you are and what you are doing is part of that process of bringing in the higher energy field and state.

Now, going beyond all this again, you will be having the sense of passing through various areas in this Station and some of the areas you are aware completely enclose the representation of planet Earth, remembering it is an energy itself, and energy can manifest in many different ways. What you may be perceiving with the Earth being in the embrace here is that the field of energy is being measured and assessed and the level of disturbance is being identified, just as it is in you, and so the whole process becomes you helping Earth to be clear and also you are communicating with many of the Beings involved in this process. If you therefore feel that are drawn to particular locations, it will be with that intention in mind - that your presence is needed, your energy presence is needed - anywhere.

You are experiencing this deeply.

Now that image will be fading and you will feel you are naturally drawing back to being in the receiving area of the Station. While we have delivered this in a compressed state of time, because it is out of time, you have been immersed in layers of different dimensions and therefore what you are gaining will be with you until the next transmission. You will recognise that we have not labelled you as an individual Being, nor have we labelled ourselves as different personalities, but we do have the name given to you of who is addressing you at this time and so it is that I withdraw at this time from you

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem. This is Lani again speaking and I felt the withdrawing of the energy of that Being and yet at the same time I am not diminished with that energy withdrawing from me, but I am left with a sense of well-being and love and I expect that each of you will be experiencing this also. You may have experienced closely many people that you knew in that greater gathering in the inner chamber and you might also remember what was communicated to you as an individual - messages for you or messages for the greater population.

It is not easily defined.

Now I am feeling that I need to bring you back to your physical body, descending, surrounding your body, filling it with this greater level of consciousness you have been experiencing. You can even use that energy to help you with your daily tasks, to help you with everything and so you then are working, as you have done in many different life realities, enjoying the physical life and enjoying the metaphysical state of existence in other levels, bringing it all into alignment into the present.

Bring yourself back into the present now and I close the Omega Portal at the conclusion of this transmission. Thank you for being here. I thank all the layers of you for being present receiving this and assisting yourself to receive and evolve.

Thank you
Lani
