It helps you to establish your awareness and to open your perception into this space so that you become receptive to the information and energy presented. Because we each have individual experiences which shape our concepts and ideas, then your perception of this space will be different to how other people perceive it to be. That does not make it right or wrong in any one's view. It is simply appropriate for you at this time to perceive this space in the way that you do so. So, be comfortable here as well and you may feel the shift in energy within this space, as the Beings of Light stationed here come forward to embrace you and address you.

“Acknowledged. With this presentation, this is Orem coming forward to you and already, as you have established the link, then you are within the energy sphere that is available to you here and which you contact and you are already communicating in a different way, beyond the words that I am bringing forth to you through this vessel. You are communicating on an energetic level and if your senses are working correctly, you will be perceiving a flow of energy symbols coming to you. It is these symbols which are interpreted into words to help you physically understand as you read them or as you listen to them. Already you are receiving an important flow of energy which is going to be presented to you during this time in this session. If you are having visions before you, you will understand what is to come to you in this state.

We come to you individually to make certain adjustments around you and to clear your energy field. You are being exposed in your earthly body to many energies and states of consciousness which can change your true perception and change your absolute alignment to your origination state and source energy. This initially is what we do when we bring you into this Station and that is to align you again and to clear away energy blockages or information that you have brought with you from the Earth planet which is observed as not helping you.

Perhaps you could view this as passing through a space that purifies you. You have these in your known constructs in different places and it is all done with light - with frequency patterns - then we can proceed and so we offer you the opportunity at this time to establish the sense of yourself already actively participating in many of the assignments here within the Station.

Can you identify the activities that you are engaged in, in this space? Can you identify particular personal areas established for you in this space, alongside the construct that you created to help you remember all of the information that you received in this state? Therefore, it becomes apparent to you that because you are actively engaged in activities in the Station, you could identify more strongly with some of the patterns here which are actively engaged in upliftment processes and in adjustment process also of areas within the planet and around the planet. You may also identify that there are certain ones on the planet intent on changing the systems of civilisation. You would identify systems of civilisation in which you would wish to be engaged in and they have nothing to do with what we have just referred to, by other groups and individuals.

The familiarity you have with being present in this Station already establishes a way of existence for you and if you are exposed to areas in your environment that do not resonate with this, it becomes clear to you that there needs to be change, perhaps consciously made by yourself, or because of changes happening in the environment, you may wish to remove yourself from it. There is also the possibility that some of you can bring forward higher understanding into the pattern that has emerged or been created in the environment. Recognise that as you actively participate in energy systems here in the Station, you gain a sense of order, wholeness, purpose and this is what we would have been expecting you to carry with you every day, because you have received it, you have experienced it in every journey into this specific Station that you have ever experienced.

Date: June 22, 2017

Time: 4.00 pm

Hello everyone. This is Lani speaking to you and I welcome you again into this space. It is wonderful to share these sessions together, where we travel into altered dimensions - altered states of consciousness - to coexist and meet up with other dimensional Beings and as usual, this is easier when we identify with the different state of consciousness than your normal waking stage. So, begin as usual by making sure you are comfortable and you won't be disturbed during this little time that we journey together.

Shift your awareness into your energy light self body. Perhaps you visualise this as a specific form or colour or shape. Whatever it is that helps you identify with it, use it and allow the sense of yourself in this light body to move aside from the physical body unit. You perhaps could look at it wherever it is and so now you are ready to leave that body and you travel with me into the receiving area of the great Station of Light, existing within our awareness, within our consciousness and within the energy field of planet Earth station. I haven't seen it physically with my eyes but perhaps one day this will happen. The metaphysical shape of it is very familiar to me and it will be familiar to you also and it is a transitional space - this receiving area that we move into.

Some of those journeys into this specific Station occurred before you were actively conscious within the present physical body you have, but the overall purpose within you exists as one purpose and that links you in particular to the origination state out of which you came forth, many times, to coexist in the civilisation on Earth which is evolving and to actively particulate in it.

You have specific concepts of what that is. You have specific commissions to present around you. You also have specific dimensional coordinates that you identify with and some of these you perhaps you have not acknowledged or moved into, up until this present session. You will begin to search for these. You may be sensing that you have a sense of direction deep within your knowingness, even within your physical form, so it is identifying with that until you learn to find that correct alignment and pattern, and that will be where you will be giving forth the next phase within the overall plan.

Because you are multi-dimensional, the specific coordinates may be in a different dimension and this is for you to discern and you will do so, by your intention of connecting with that exact dimensional space. Some of the spaces overlap, so there will be the need to identify correctly how you respond to what you feel you are drawn to. All of this becomes more apparent to you as you bring all of this information back into your current lifestyle.

Because you are present here in a receptive condition, you are also being drawn to communicate with the group of Beings representing themselves as the Star Elders. It is a collective name. The individuals work with one purpose and so it is not necessary to identify different names, many of which could not be pronounced or understood by you at present, because the name is a vibration and so it is the correct vibration that identifies particular individuals amongst the group.

The group presentation to you is also making adjustments, modifications, within your light body energy present here so that the correct flow of energy will be easily maintained when you reconnect with the physical body unit.

We perceive that there are many things as a human form that you would need to change and would want to change, improve, fix in some way and some of the efforts have not produced the result that you wanted to see happen. With the modification contained within the codes of your energy light system here, you will find that more will be achieved within you, whether that would be mentally, emotionally or physically, it becomes one and can be worked on different levels of that. Your intention and motivation to allow the energy to support you in every way is important.

There is also the aspect of you that has gone through this process at other times, in other life patterns and you are just reconnecting with it again in the current life pattern. Already around you within this group of Star Elders is the presence of an aspect of you that has already achieved this and that aspect is now helping you to bring all of the information together that you have experienced and received on the multi layers involved in your upliftment and activation. As this becomes more predominant within you, then more areas open up to you to experience and so you are learning through experience in this time. You are learning to use more of your perception in this way.

You will be assimilating all of this into all of your light processes and as a group the Star Elders indicate that they have given you the appropriate adjustment for this time and so it is that we present you back into the receiving space in this Station.

Some of you feel very motivated and driven because you know that there is more to accomplish in this Station and in your life pattern and you will do this. Continue with the process of assimilating all of the change.

You do not need to isolate yourself from the community and the civilisation to evolve. You are evolving now during these sessions.

I leave this with you now, Beloved

Orem out “

Lani speaking again and I give my thanks to those Beings for this presentation, and for the reminders and for everything that they offer in explanation and in energy work.

Now I want you to draw in all of this that you have experienced in this session, more than what has been spoken. You will have had many visions and sensing and maybe heard different words, so bring it all around you, bring it all back within your light body, back into your physical form, again connecting firmly into it, into your life pattern, feeling that you are much more in control of your life pattern, because you are taking into you the adjusted frequency received through your light body system.

The transmission of energy and information is complete at this time, so I close the Omega Portal and I ask you to be fully aware of your surroundings. I trust that you feel energised and that you have benefitted from this session.

Thank you

Lani
