Time: 4 pm

Hello and welcome again, as I greet you in this space and open the Omega Communications Portal. Are you ready to go deep within yourself, deep within your heart centre to connect in with your inner self-being, with your light body self? Are you ready to be relaxed and open? When you are ready, link with me in my body of light. I reach out a hand to link with you and to draw you into the greater group who are already gathering in the receiving area of the Station of Light. Again there is the sense of being greeted, welcomed and sharing one intention and so as you let go of everything about you, which is necessary when you to come into this space - to let go of everything you recognise yourself to be as your human self - it is necessary because then that allows you to access the higher levels of your higher self consciousness. Also, it makes it easier for you to receive the energy impressions and impulses here and then integrate them back into your conscious mind and your conscious body self.

I have the sense of many people here, coming in, settling themselves down in some way and being really ready to receive on this other consciousness level.

“Orem coming forward to you here and I greet you Beloved. In this space, which is a different dimension to what you normally are active within in the Earth plane, you are able to be readily assessed and you are also able to assess yourself what you perceive here, how you would interpret the symbols contained here and also you would be seeking the avenues to travel into, the different spaces that might become apparent to you and also many of you are wishing to move more quickly into seeing and experiencing a result of ongoing sessions in this space. That eagerness to move forward pulls you forward to the edge of your consciousness field again and thus you are more prepared to untangle any resistances around you and to be open.

Much of what can be revealed to you in this space, even in this receiving transition space, can only be received in symbols. We describe some aspects of what is here for you. Each one of you has your individual experience in sensing, perceiving, in whatever is your strongest perception.

We have steadied and readied you here during this initial deliverance to you and thus you are able to move with us deeper within chambers within this Station. We want you to be aware of the areas that are clearly defined within the Station which allow you to move within. We want you also to be aware of other areas that are presently occupied by Beings from different situations to your situation of planet Earth. We have groups who have come in the Station currently who are seeking to reclaim some knowledge to re-assess where they have come from and in acquiring some knowledge to give them realisation of Creative Universe, then it appears that they can be re-assembled into different life paths and different life patterns. We want you to understand that this is another aspect of activity within the Station.

Moving beyond that, again we are presenting you into the chamber where there is the Council of Light here. There is a sorting out procedure as it relates to some of the groups which have projected energy onto Beings on Earth.

The purpose of that was to identify those who could be changed from their perceptive thinking into a way that could create barriers or resistance to the ultimate purpose for the planet and its existence. So, many of you have been also sensing this energy pattern that has been creating disturbances. We have addressed this in several of the later sessions to you and we continue to do so. We can give you the information at this time that much has been cleared and you are already in a state of being redefined as to how you represent yourself in localities and how you are able to bring into you a greater power and depth from the aspects of Creation that you connect with.

Around you therefore, you will be sensing what these groups are and what they represent to you. Some of you also will be remembering other aspects of your existences where you gathered information from other life styles and you brought it into the attention of an overseeing group and many of you had the experience of being reassigned to different localities. There is the sense of this assignment process happening for some of you who are present in this session today. It is an adjustment from how you have been active in bringing forward the energy and information and in some ways it might be activating you more in that process so that you are able to facilitate the transference of higher patterns of energy to other people in the way that as you observe what happens to other people, you are also presenting a pattern to them, and you just let it be around yourself and around the space where you. This happens at certain timeframes in your life pattern and this also has been brought to your attention previously.

The information given to you can be stored in your memory processes and when it is relevant, you will remember some of the aspects of what has been imparted to you. In giving you the information in this way, you are also being given concepts which contain certain levels of activity which could be undertaken by you, or by several people gathered together.

These are little highlights to help you understand some of the impressions you have been receiving recently. Maintain your balance and alignment and all that is necessary for you will come through in the appropriate intersection within the flows of energy. Therefore, you would interpret this as the appropriate time and place. There is shifting in the energy field around individuals to create that dimensional intersection for most of you. Your awareness and your light body system with your higher self receives all of this and it is maintained in energy in a certain level of your energy framework, external to your physical body form, but part of you because it is part of your energy field, part of your consciousness state.

During several sessions, there has been the unfolding of certain aspects of you to release energy patterns that have been disturbing you in any way. You will have been feeling this and responding and resonating with the extra energy that becomes available to you when your energy field is cleared.

In this moment do you perceive that you are in a group and what is being presented to you is around you, but it is also presented in a spherical form for you to view as if it is a revolving screen so you can identify certain dimensional intersections and the groups of other Beings also part of this gathering but linking in from different Stations. There is much activity in this communication area as all of this is presented to multi-layers of Beings and if you expand your own perception, you will be embraced by those other energy groups within their spheres of light. Also, this creates a free flow between a greater energy matrix between you all, we are talking about the connections and you will experience this around you, at this time.

You may feel you are in the centre of flows and lines of energy systems. It is also connecting you in your inner heart space with many of these other groups and Beings and also a connection to the group energy of the Council of Light here. In this way, they can communicate a great deal to you, to help you understand all of this process that you are actively engaged in.

There is a levelling out in some of the energy discords being experienced around the planet. This is because the many of you who are allowing the energy to come in, creates the balancing and levelling of some of the discordant patterns. This opens a further connection and pathway coming forward into the energy system of Earth and the first aspect which passes through that is an energy you would perceive as cleansing. This raises the energy frequency of what is felt and perceived with this opening and therefore, the Beings coming through will have the opportunity to present more of a complete pattern of the change that is happening into that area. You would recognise in yourself if you cleanse your body in some way or your mind or emotions, there is freshness and the freshness of clear energy resonates with greater input. This occurs naturally as part of the process of the continuation of bringing you into higher energy spaces and bringing the energy into you. Even though it may seem not very relevant to you as an individual, it will become apparent that it is part of your connectedness in the overall plan here.

You are taking all of this energy and information deeply into your light body self here and thus you are withdrawing from this space and we reconnect into the receiving area where you first presented yourself in the Station. You will be pausing here, adjusting again to the different energy, so you may experience a slight out of balance sensation, until you feel you are aligned again. This was my purpose for bringing you into the Station at this time “Greetings here to you as a group. Su Yan Rah addressing you and I have come into the assembly to identify some of you who are already working with our groups and identifying ones that we will be meeting up with and greeting you individually and identifying you as being able to work with us.

Orem out

We work alongside and in unison with the Beings in this Station and we also bring in a different level of activity to you. We speak more of inner communication with you, so be aware and listen and we are also moving amongst you at this time, checking out your physical energy signature and perceiving difficulties that arise in many of you from time to time because you become out of tune and out of balance with the energy frequencies needed. This is all we needed to identify around you and within you.

Farewell until we meet again ”

Lani speaking again now. There is still the energy signature of Su Yan Rah and it is the initial greeting, the information which comes through him that I am still sensing. That was preparing you that at some time you may see him. He is another Being of blue-ish energy, taller than a human being, different in appearance.

Now it is time to regather yourself back into your physical form. Connect deeply within your heart centre again and then you will absorb everything that the Council of Light presented to you, in your heart centre in your light body. It is integrating around you and through you right now. Many times we feel there is not enough clear information in these messages, but as you continue to receive them, you will be hearing different words, you will be having different visions and you understand more, because the energy you receive creates change around you in your world and thus it gets confirmed to you. Now become fully connected again into the current time, current space, the energy of the present and we will continue again next week. Thank you. Thank you, Orem, Su Yan Rah, Council of Light and all of the Beings from different dimensions, it all helps us and I trust that we are all helping.
