Issue 880

Date: August 31, 2017

Time: 4 pm

I am happy to open the Omega Portal again and welcome you into this space - this space that we have created together and a space where we can draw other people into - a space where we can release the confines of the human vehicle and we allow our consciousness to reside in our light body. This light body then is easily integrated into the area known as the receiving area of the Station of Light and this is how we begin. This is the standard route for beginning the sessions and it helps you to disassociate from the Earth world and its constructs and to associate with the higher plane of dimensional existence easily accessible as you focus within this receiving area of the Station.

Here you receive energy and information appropriate for you, at this time. Even though words will be coming through on certain matters, the energy which you as an individual will receive will be just what you are needing and you may interpret the words into what is appropriate for you. It is very interesting, because it allows your multi-dimensional self to draw around you the energy and information.

Settle yourself now into this space, becoming more and more aware of the consciousness that you are in this light body situation in this Station of Light.

“Welcome and greetings everybody. Orem addressing you and in this state we always, firstly, assess your energy levels. We do this because we can discern what is needed to eliminate from you areas that are of discomfort or of concern to you and we also can receive the information which you bring forth with you into this pattern of receptivity. Many groups and stations analyse the activities and information which is relayed by the ones, like you, who are ready to come into these receiving stations and to enable the examination of the information and also, then, as part of the process in the transmission to receive what is necessary for you as an individual and for what is around you. Are you prepared for this? Indeed, if you were not, you would not be present receiving this transmission.

We are moving you around in this area so that we can assemble you into the right configuration of groups of Beings and in that way, we can discern what is necessary for you within a certain group energy field. You will still be receiving your individual attention and information and you are also receiving what is necessary for the greater group around you.

Moving deeper into this level and state of consciousness now, we are grouping you into the chamber within the presence of the Council of Light.

The Council of Light has many members. There is the core foundation group and there are other ones who are called in at a specific energy frequency to allow the dimensional information and shift to become apparent, into this central area. You will find that you are positioned in this communication chamber in such a way that you are receiving the flows of information encoded in the energy from specific coordinates within dimensional unfoldments. Feel that you are enveloped in this.

It may be sensed as colours or information or sounds. The overall assembly is within the embrace of the energy field of the Council of Light.

We are able to discern some of the patterns occurring on planet Earth at this time and what is required. We are observing the pattern that has been created to allow a certain reconfiguring in the natural elemental structure around the planet. This is what is being brought forth to attention here in this assembly so that corrective energy can be flowed to the particular individuals to make change. The change will then restore balance to some of the elemental conditions and can also initiate more opportunities to engage a presentation of created beneficial structures for the population to live in, until such time as it may be necessary for upliftment to another state of consciousness to exist in.

In your presence here, you could be perceiving energy structures around you which will facilitate ease of living for you and many others. If you are able to discern these, then you are involved in the group who are manifesting them in certain placements around the planet, under the ground and above the surface and some are being created to exist in similar to an orbit around the planet, but still within the atmosphere and gravitational pull of the planet. There are multi levels existing for the support of those ones who resonate with the right energy pattern of dwellings or existing spaces.

Having presented this to you, now we are bringing you all into a different state of consciousness in a different space and you will be aware that you are losing sense of time and what is around you physically, as you move deeper into the consciousness state which allows you to receive sustenance and support for however length of time is needed for you. During this period of cessation of time and space, adjustments will be occurring around the physical Earth time and space and within it and you are experiencing this, so already you are adapting to, as you receive, the flows of the higher coding patterns.

In this state of suspension also, there can be changes made to modify the condition of the health of your energy system as it affects the body system. Perceive what is happening, as you allow that to occur for you.

Drawing that in back to you, we now withdraw you from that suspension state of consciousness and already you have awakened to become more aware of the life pattern on this Station and the conformity of each to the inner sense of communication, of communion, of oneness, of being present within a purposeful field of consciousness. Holding the awareness of that state of consciousness gives the opportunity of the introduction of patterns of order into the greater environment around you. It occurs naturally within your sensing as to what that is and it will become part of your existence, of your role of actively participating in this civilisation. Before any outward change occurs, it is the change in this level of consciousness which is necessary and this is why we have presented you into this, in this transmission. You are ready and prepared for this and enabling it to be active, then you become actively participating in your purpose which was apparent to you before you entered into the Earth plane. For some of you that will be before this present lifeform and for some other people it will be a multitude of existences, but it is the core essence that is being re-presented to you for you to realise and incorporate into your conscious state of awareness.

Messages are passed from you to another and to another and to another. It is part of being connected into the matrix of energy supporting this planet and the inhabitants of it and the surrounding environment of the particular place of the planetary system that you are in.

You will realise that as you open your heart and your mind, even in this light existence, you envelop what is presented to you in this central core essence of Creation.

As you become aware that you are more able to participate in this evolutionary change and you question what can I do now - then you will get the information presented to you in the many different ways in the systems in place around you.

We conclude this part of this transmission for you now and we return you to the initial receiving area. If is necessary for you to bring all of this into your conscious awareness, bringing it back from that deep state of support and suspension out of time, out of all existence, and so it is that this is now back within your light body consciousness state here.

Thus, I am able to withdraw from you now

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem, this is Lani again and I am aware that the many of us gathered here today are surrounded by the Silver Light Beings that occur in our presence from time to time, individually or within the group, and there are many of them and they are shepherded by the taller Golden Light Beings, as I describe them, and they are giving forth directions to these Silver Light Beings. They are being instructed to assist the information network and to move deep within the Earth pattern and to infiltrate the layers of groups working within the constructs within the Earth. Some of those groups of Beings working from very scientific ways, are interrupting the pattern of the energy coming forth from other dimensions which is intended to uplift the consciousness state on the planet. So, the Silver Light Beings bring in order and wholeness, because that is what they are and do and so their presence is manifesting a different state and a different time to eliminate interference. Just as it is with individuals, they will come forth to some to help stabilise or repair or to give instruction to the physical form required to house the consciousness at present - to ground the greater consciousness field at present, in the present - and we did present this to you to help you understand the depth and the layer of support that is given. Do not be caught up in feeling that there is too much occurring to allow the proper change to happen. When you visibly see the supporting systems then you know that is being initiated and that is what you link with.

That is all that is necessary at this time and the vision of those Beings fades and I am aware of us all gathered in this still space. It is time now to be restored in every way, in the proper way, with all of the energy and information you have received today in this transmission, bringing it back through the vehicle of your light body into your physical unit and all layers of that - All of that energy matrix that you are.

There is sufficient information and energy given in this transmission to continue the process within you each that began as part of our inner awakening - well, its outer awakening really - just awakening and reconnection and upliftment!

Now I am closing the Omega Portal on this transmission and I want you to be fully aware of your surroundings and fully back in the present time, feeling the difference within you and around you.

Thank you, Orem, Silver Light Beings and the Golden Light Beings and the Council and all the many Beings involved in this session - I thank you all.

Lani
