Issue 881

Date: September 7, 2017

Time: 4 pm

Welcome to another session with the transmission of energy and information through this Omega Portal.

Are you ready to move along that inner connection again, travelling the pathway to connect in, in your body of light consciousness state and within the receiving area of the Station of Light? Are you ready to understand, or to adjust to the changes which have been happening within you or around you? I trust this session will help us understand more of what has been and what is happening, so begin this process of letting go of your conscious mind and its thoughts and letting go of everything you think about in your daily life, and how that is so much of your existence, and identify with this deeper state of consciousness that you are, and then we are ready to begin.

Just as we closed the last transmission with the Silver Light Beings around, these Silver Light Beings are around us now, they are filling this space, there are many of them and they are moving you and everyone into the closely connected group of energy systems and there are the Star Elders - the beautiful Golden Light energy Beings present in this state. They are beginning to communicate and move amongst you and touch you, so I withdraw to allow the energy and information to come through.

“We welcome you into this space and we greet you as we are able to review your systems and your pathways of energy running throughout you. Your pathways of energy which we refer to, connect you into different times and different places - not necessarily all on the Earth space as it is now and in the present civilisation as it is now - all of which you have participated in the creation of and you are continuing with the creation of the current civilisation.

You may be aware that the timelines that have affected you up to this present moment have been altered and this is having an effect on some of you in your dreams. Some of your dreams may have seemed very real with people, very real in your life, some present in the body and some who have left the earth body. The reality of that is they continue to exist in a different timeline and you have been aware of that. You have ideally been acknowledging the information you have received and any guidance and realisation that has been offered to you. This is the effect of the fluctuations in the energy field around you and how that has caused a change in your current timeline and appearance.

You will be assisted in this transmission to adjust to the changing frequencies and you will be able to adapt in such a way that you will stabilise where you are in the situation that is most appropriate for you to be, and in that way, where it is appropriate, you will be drawing upon the information received over some periods of time in different transmissions and immersions in the energy to assist what is changing and unfolding in the civilisation around you immediately.

For this to really take place, we are altering your energy frequency here so that you will feel you are now within one of the central meeting chambers. There are many groups in here who are organising you in the participation of the change and the many people who are being uplifted into areas within the Station. This is for the purpose of agreeing the information which can be received and the likelihood of what may occur as the result of people being shifted in their timeline and also you will be given information to help explain to people what is happening and to help them adapt to the energy frequencies. There are also some who you will be explaining to them that they may experience the time shift, time lapses, and they may experience being somewhere else. Some of that will be when they are drawn into areas within the cities of light and into areas within this Station. It is dependent on the resonant frequency and the understanding of each individual. Each individual chooses the elements particular for them which they can accept and interpret. What is offered to the overall population is a mixture containing different layers, which are the different resonating frequencies, and that is what each individual is drawn to. The interpretations will be different. The representations given to people in the different layers will be different, but all have the underlying truth and energy information as to what is happening, not just to planet Earth station, but also to other areas assisting in the movement of expansion of consciousness, over a vast entire dimensional matrix. You are experiencing just what you need to experience, at this time.

There have been different areas in your life pattern changing, and thus it is shown to you that you are being drawn into a different frequency - a different pattern of living or working in some way and you receive information. You are already aware that many times if you hold a thought pattern that you need some information or you need some assistance, it is presented to you in the most natural way in your environment as it is present around you. It is always present around you.

You just become more aware when you need the specific item or information, and there it is, and then it is your choice as to whether you accept it, or choose something different which may be presented to you in a different way at a different time.

You may be aware in this moment in the presentation as we surround you, we are making group adjustments, the group being those ones that you share a common thread of energy or information with and we are able to move you entirely as a group into the pattern of frequency and in this way you are receiving a great deal more than these words which are being spoken through this vessel who must interpret the concept of what is given and present it into words to surround you. There is communication on a greater level - energy system to energy system and we are observing this. We can perceive what has been understood and accepted by you.

In raising the vibration of you here, the energy around you again is supporting you and sustaining you in many different realities and ways and we are also revealing to you that there is a very deep pattern being integrated in your energy systems which is helping you adapt to the different vibration of the planet. If you are aware of responsive design, or connections for electrical systems or waterway systems - many different ways - it will be depicted to you that there is an alteration - a reconnection of some areas and enlivening of some others in you. This prepares you as more of the incoming rays of light are creating change and are responsible for the upliftment of you into different spaces.

In this moment presented to you, you are all uplifted into different areas. Again, it is a state of suspension within the flows of energy and as you are taken out of the conscious mind and thought patterns of the world you are involved in, you are facilitating the change around you in that world, actively participating in the creation of the new fundamental existence emerging.

Now you will be perceiving a shift in the light around you and the light contains the energy structure for what is needed now, and following this transmission you may already feel you are moving in a different way and you have identified a different structure for you.

We are giving this information in an unfolding way in a continuation of a series within the pattern of the transmissions and it is very clearly needed for you and the greater population who are becoming aware of the states of consciousness as being responsible for change. Not the ones who want to physically destruct society or people. This is beyond that. We are talking about construction of a new civilisation where you are empowered within the rays of light of the universe. Much is happening and you are facilitating much to happen. In these times when you are held suspended out of time, you are in the midst of the flow of information and not just the information pattern for the world and environment around you, but also for you as an individual. It is a method to help accelerate the processes within you and resulting from that, there will be much improvement in the cellular improvement, in adapting to the food patterns you eat and assimilation of it and the energy you are immersed in, in this present time, is helping all of that change.

Loosen the hold that you have had concerning how you view your life or your physicality body unit. Loosen the hold and allow the greater aspect of yourself to manifest, which is already existing within the construction of the energy of the cities of light and that aspect is helping you to adapt and drawing you into that same awareness. There can be times when you have experienced being separated or fragmented and you feel you are out of balance and out of connection. Receiving the energy in this transmission is drawing you back into alignment and reconnection to the one state of consciousness of you. This has been what has been required.

Now we draw you back away from the immersion in the inter-dimensional space beyond configuration of time as you know it, and we draw you back to the receiving area of the Station. We have been using this vessel to present the group consciousness to you of that which we participate in and we have been using Silver Light Beings to help the adjustment of you and we - you know us as Star Beings, have been overseeing all of this pattern for you. Now it is appropriate for you to gather all of this experience into your awareness of your light body self. Experience that. We gently withdraw now from this space. “

This is Lani speaking again. Thank you Star Beings and Silver Light Beings for this further immersion into very deep states of dimensional existence. It all seems perfect and completely comprehensible when we are surrounded in that energy, that vibration, in the message and even if we do not fully understand it, there is an aspect of each one of us which completely accepts and acknowledges all of this pattern. This is what I want you to remember and bring back with you now as you reconnect with your body units and your life.

Remember to observe and to be aware of the change in the light or the energy constructs around you, just as they said may happen to you. We are creating the new civilisation and we have also been restored and aligned again, all the fragments drawn back into oneness, into alignment for the present undertaking that is upon us.

I close the Omega portal on this transmission and I ask you to be fully present, aware of the present, aware of your present surroundings, aware of the change in you and around you and around other people. Thank you for receiving this.
