Issue 885

Date: October 5, 2017

Time: 4.30 pm

Hello, as I open the Omega Portal for this energy message and I reach out to link with you, as you also put your attention into this space.

As usual, relax your mind and body and be open to receive what we will be enveloped in during this session, so I ask you to allow yourself to travel in that energy system that we label the body of light, allowing yourself to travel into the receiving area of the Station of Light.

You will feel the shift in energy, as you focus within this space. It increases the level of your awareness. It increases your sense of expansion and in this space that we gather into, which leads into deeper levels of consciousness, there is expansion - expansion of yourself and your consciousness. It is as if you expand to enfold another aspect of yourself, that aspect which is part of Source Energy. Let's begin this session now with holding that intention of expanding and raising your energy.

“Assembled here in this space we are able to greet you, Beloved, Orem addressing you and I come forth once more to embrace you in this sphere of energy activity for you.

Already what we are encompassing you within in this sphere of energy is assessing you and is working through your timeline. The timeline is visible because it is part of your experience that you have brought into this space within this aspect of your conscious self. So, as we assess that, we are also able to bring you further into the appropriate unfoldment of what is particularly for your enhancement, because it is what you will resonate with. You resonate already with the overall energy system in this space and together we also lift you into an expanded area.

The dimension within this Station of Light changes and so this adjustment activity when we first greet you also will align you into the particular pattern that is available for you to experience in this session. We are aware of the aspect of you which often will travel beyond what is available in this Station and the travelling could well be in your visions and in the layers of your activity when you are moving into sleep. In those patterns you are more aware and perceptive of the fields of creation that you can experience.

For the purpose of this particular transmission we move you deeper, away from the initial receiving area and we are travelling with you into a space within the area initially through the portal created through the Star Elder Beings and what they offer for you to enhance you and to allow you to understand more of the levels of creation. In this space you will find that you may be remembering different aspects of your life and how you reacted to different situations and relationships - all of those experiences that you have when you are experiencing life on the planet Earth system with its levels of emotional experience. As the Star Elders position you into different fields in this Station here that you are drawn into, you will also be releasing the responses that you had, and you will be aware of this. This enables you to participate in the joining together of a vast number of Beings who are actively involved in changing the positioning of the gateways that are open to the Earth at this time.

You probably have all heard of solar gateways and solar activity and where energy is offered forth to the Earth planet due to the alignment of different planetary systems and they create the portals through which you can travel.

At this energy gathering, you are participating in the opening of a portal to allow the introduction of the higher pattern of energy frequency for you. It is apparent that many of you are ready to sustain a higher frequency throughout your energetic systems and these energetic systems of you also incorporate the layers that are actively engaged in emotional determination or response in some way. It is when you are sufficiently clear of those that you can embrace the higher frequency coming in and you are participating in drawing this energy into you now.

We would also say to you to open your energy self here to receiving the patterning that is appropriate for you.

If you are visualising this, you will see different patterns or alignments of energy structures contained within this flow of energy. Every intersection in the flowing grid system that you may be observing has a particular purpose and a particular energy signature or tone and therefore each one of you will be recognising different points in this energy flow coming in through this portal to you.

Immerse yourself within this and it has the effect of transferring the energy frequency to you, as well as integrating and intersecting with aspects of your own energy field structure. When you can experience this and as such you are doing this in this moment, it will be changing some of the disturbances you have been experiencing directly affecting your energy levels in some way in the days around you currently, and it is upon us to assist you to be clear, and thus this portal was made apparent to you and you were prepared, sufficiently clear enough, to align with it and experience the energies around you. You may be experiencing this as if you are within a stream - the flow - the energy. It may also be giving you the appearance of travelling - of moving. This relates to you moving out of the energy structures you have been experiencing which have been disturbing you.

In this way you are already being helped and changed and this is the main purpose of gathering you into this transmission at this time. It can be used in ongoing phases because it will adapt to what you are experiencing and what your energy field is presenting into the entire energy grid around you. This balancing and enlivening in this way is a way of supporting you and confirming to you that there is assistance provided.

You are filled with this and so we withdraw you from moving beyond through that portal, bringing you back into this Station of Light.

There are many aspects being attended to through this Station. Places set in order. Items of particular interest that may be affecting the Beings on the planet and some of the plans that are being promoted and enacted to move out of the planet's atmosphere to travel in various forms. groups of people being prepared to travel beyond the planet and all of this is overseen so that it will be working in a way that is entirely needed at the present moment for the future evolutionary process, but it will also be under the guidance of Beings stationed here in this Station, so that the information is correct for that group of people and what has been decided that could be allowed for the group to travel. There is information around all of that activity being attended to. There is also information being attended to in regard to the planetary changes and how the planet itself is responding to the changing frequencies that are surrounding it, coming to it. Remember that everything changes. You change. Situations change. Dimensions change.

Life changes. Livingness - which is creation manifested - and that changes through the consciousness levels of the Beings present in any dimension, even what we refer to as the Earth planet dimension.

Following on from that comment we would advise you to embrace yourself and your life in the greatest light and joy of Source Energy. It is the source of creation. It is the substance from which creation forms into substance. There is more detailed information about that, of course, and this will be presented and unfolded to you as you expand and are ready to understand creation.

Now it is time for me to bring you back to the initial receiving area, for I want you to be feeling that you are fully aligned, fully connected in many ways to the energy that you connected with and you chose to bring into this life pattern that you are experiencing currently. There is a level, of course, that you chose this same pattern of Source Energy to experience in a different timeline. We are addressing you in the present timeline where you are receiving this now and this is mentioned to you many times to be aware of this current state of existence and to enhance it, as much as you are able to draw upon Source Energy creation. In that process you may be aware that you are supported by future aspects of self who have already achieved what you are working to achieve now, and those aspects come to support you, just as you support earlier types of existence you have had in different timelines. You may feel the strength of this within you.

Again, I embrace you in this sphere of energy here Beloved and withdraw at this time

Orem out

Lani speaking to you again and I thank Orem and all of the other Beings that I sensed were with us, and I thank You - drawn into this state of receptivity from Earth.

Even though I am aware of what is coming through and I experience it, I experience it differently each time I listen to the message again, so at this time I am filled with that energy we were presented with and I am aware of different patterns around me being clicked in, as if it had to be aligned properly around me, and when the alignment is correct, in many different layers and facets, then it feels right. So, I trust that you also experience that, and that it feels right and that you are comfortable now with what you have been given.

It is time now to bring all of that back into your physical form again, enlivening it, enriching it with this light energy frequency. I am sure that is what we need, as much as the food that we take in - we need this light energy frequency.

As you now become fully conscious of your surroundings and the day and where you are in every sense, I close the Omega Portal and I thank you again for being with me here. .
