Issue 887

Date: October 19, 2017

Time: 7 pm

The Omega Portal is open again for you to move through it, to proceed into the different state of consciousness and to activate some of the greater senses and coded information that already is part of you. Now, to do this, you have to allow your body to be relaxed and your mind to be open to receive all of the images and information. Are you ready to do this? I welcome you into this space with me, into the gathering in the receiving area of the Station, as your Light Body self, as that different level of consciousness and so already you have stepped through the portal into this different state of energy and information. I sometimes wonder whether this is the real state of our existence - that state which we reach when we feel we are daydreaming, or when we feel we just lost awareness of the physical surroundings and world. What is reality? What is the correct reality? I guess it is where we intend to focus our attention, so let's begin in this state focused within the receiving area of the Station. It is a very safe and protected space and already you would be remembering some of what you have experienced in previous sessions. Perhaps you have to let go even of the memories of that but I do want you to remember that in this space you have a special place for you to be. That special place was where you connected in with some object or energy field where you retained the memory of what you had received. It was as if it was a receptacle or a memory bank - some special place just for you and you could come back to that and refresh the energy and memory of that at any time.

Now, moving away from that, just be open because the energy is shifting around us.

“Welcome into this space, all of you beautiful Beings of Light. Orem addressing you and with me are many of the members of this area within this transition state who have come to assist you and at this time we observe you, we observe your energy patterns. There is energy being introduced around you which you may feel you have recognised as something different, because it places you into a different time phase for some moments and in those time phases you are experiencing the reality of that different state of consciousness. Also in that time you are being adjusted to that different reality for the purpose of helping you in the present. This may occur in the future for some of you, if you have not recognised what we are referring to.

Now, continuing, we are directed to align you all into a pattern where you all can be transported immediately into one of the inner chambers to be amongst the Council of Light. There is activity in this space and it is upon us to help you recognise this space. There have been many messages given to you concerning time lapses, time shifts, and an alteration in the measurement of the time that you measure as you are on Earth. That alteration occurs because of the necessity to adjust the timeline and to adjust your consciousness into different fields of awareness. This confirms to you there is expansion happening and with any expansion you need to reconfirm yourself within the central area of light and to allow the adjustments to occur.

Some patterns of light you will be observing have changed and some areas around you, you will be observing, have changed. This can be in your physical reality - in the density as it is - it may also be how you perceive the interactions of other people and it may also be how you respond to the input and the influence of other people. So, there is a pattern evolving and you are evolving with that pattern and you are allowing the evolution to take place. There is joining together of all of those patterns. We are helping you within this. We are helping support you and we are helping the shift so that you integrate into the absolute appropriate area within the channels and the beams and the existences of light and this pattern we are referring to is outside of that area of the light civilisations. This is just an individual adjustment pattern for you here in the present. We have aligned you into this. The alignment you are within this chamber is a pattern that you align with out into the universal energy matrix and that is part of the overall purpose of existence for you in the present and for what is unfolding around you in the present and around Earth planet in the present, and this is why it is necessary for you to be attentive in the present moment where you are physically active. At the same time when you are physically and centred present, other aspects of you are drawing upon the energy that is being drawn to you in that state. Your balanced state allows more of the higher pattern of energy to come into you. In your balanced state you are not resisting or rejecting or analysing or anticipating. You just are present, allowing the continual flow of energy and information into you.

There is a continuation of the division between the two polarisation fields of existence present now in the reality around you. On one end of the scale you are aware of the cities of light and your purpose and the other end of that relates to the ones who are resisting change and who wish to continue domination and control, but in your balanced state you are receiving all of the energy and information of that higher evolution pattern, and you are drawn to that because it is a space and energy that you resonate with.

There is separation occurring and we bring this to your attention. Consciously, when it is necessary, focus into the higher pattern of light until you become less aware of anything else.

If this brings up memories or points of discussion in you, then you turn to your higher self aspect and you enquire, so that the information will come into you that you require in any way to satisfy the enquiry that you make to your higher self and your origination station and the pure essence of creation. In presenting this to you in this way, you are immersed in that energy pattern brought through to you through different layers so that you can adapt and receive it from Source energy level. Thus, you are again aware that as you are receiving this, the sense you have of yourself would be of an energy Being. Emphasis is upon this in the present.

The portal that is open to you which allows this energy to flow into you through Source Creation is the portal through different layers and dimensions and we have referred to this in other transmissions where, when you are correctly attuned and aligned there is the pathway through the different dimensions that is presented to you available to you at that time when you are clear of any emotional aspect that relates to the personality that you exist as presently on Earth.

Around you each are many dimensions containing the alternate realities that you may be aware of presently and the other realities that have existed from which you have gained experience and when there is continuation of some of those, there is the residue of some commitments and energy and this is what we often refer to in every session of clearing you of those vows or commitments, the limitations which hold you back from seeing clearly the pattern and moving in such a way that you are evolving without the necessity of experiencing more patterns and instead, you release and you move into the pattern of joy and light, recognising that you can do that, because you have realised that you are a Being of Light.

Again, this information is presented to you in different words, in a different way and has the ongoing effect of helping you.

Now we move you back from this chamber where you have been in the influence of the Council of Light and bring you back to the initial receiving chamber. This means that you are more aware of just your light body which contains impressions of your personality, impressions of your current life pattern and these are being examined deeply as well as examining what has been active within your energy field on many layers of your physicality. If you wish assistance to be given for any aspect of you that you have brought into this space, then you are now drawing upon the appropriate frequency of the light to assist, to clear, to maintain, to repair, and this you may feel being drawn into you so that you are more powerfully aligned and strengthened.

This has been the intention and purpose of this session and you have received that as you experienced it. There is an interchange of information, there is the concept of the codes that are received in the energy flow relating to how you react and respond to the different dimensions available to you as part of your consciousness field. We refer to this at times as going to the edge of your consciousness field, going out to where there appears to be a limit to what you can understand and receive. That is all around you but you have extended that with the ongoing sessions. Many of you want to analyse and identify coordinates so that you understand it better. At present the dimensional coordinates, even of this Station, are not able to be discerned in any way that would make great sense to you. We needed to bring that to your attention because there are some of you who have been asking why that information is not presented. There are subtle changes. There is energy enfolding the Station that needs to be there because the ones who would want to disturb it are not permitted to see it, are not permitted to know of its existence and location but you have been present in this Station, so in your energy systems you are aware of where it is and you are able to be present within it, as you are in this transmission. It is all here to help you and all of the Beings on this planetary station and surrounding area. I am leaving all of this pattern of information around you and within you, Beloved

Again, I thank you, Orem, and this is Lani speaking again to you all. I want you to bring your attention firstly into your body of light in this space. It seems each session we go deeper and it becomes more of an effort to come back to be within your light body and now to come back to merge completely with your physicality in all of its levels. Also, you will be feeling greater than how you were feeling when we began this session. It is just a different feeling. Perhaps you are filled with light, as I feel that I am, and a feeling that I have been given such a lot of information, although I can't describe it, can't write it down. This is the value of having it in the written word, but more information is contained between the words that are set down onto paper when I transcribe this.

Now, just bring all of your experience back into your physical self, present here on Earth. Feel that you have been helped physically, emotionally and mentally and the extended aspect of consciousness, so until we gather again for the next transmission, I would ask you to be fully conscious of your surroundings and the present moment and enjoy everything around you and enjoy who and what you are.

I close the Omega Portal now.

Thank you

Lani
