"We are with you here Dear Ones. Orem addressing you and in this moment you will be sensing movement, adjustment, and a stripping away from you of certain concepts that had been accepted by you as to what reality was and as to how Earth had developed and as to how human beings had evolved on this planet.

We would ask you to be open to allow the truer level of your consciousness to bring you answers, to bring you into that state of awareness where you feel even your humanoid body has changed. If you are feeling this, we would acknowledge that in you, because it indicates that you have been integrating the flows of energy around you.

There have been different timeframes brought to your attention for certain indicators, for certain gateways to be accessed, or for the inflow of important information to you. The gateways relate not to timing or dates or physical location of other planetary bodies. They relate to your perception and the degree of your openness to expand your consciousness and step through into different layers at the edge of your consciousness field of acceptability and of what you are ready and prepared to understand.

In the interval between transmissions, there has been a shift in the dimensional patterns and thus you are more able to accept and realise that there have been moments when you have been very aware of different realities around you.

We have been working with you to adjust your energy frequency, to help you realise what the shifts involve. They help you to identify that in many cases you need to shift your understanding, or shift your locality, or shift your way of doing things, or shift your concept of what is full of nutrition for you, or not. You see, the shift can be identified on many different levels. You may shift from reading one particular author, or you may shift from following a particular musician. It is all indicative of the shift in consciousness which you allow yourself to adapt to.

Continuing the process involved as you move into these sessions, you may be feeling adjustments being made to your positioning, to your energy field, in the ways that are most appropriate for you to accept. Definition is not required. You will sense and perhaps perceive yourself what is changing around you and therefore this leaves a dimensional pathway open for you to progress along. It is part of your alignment to the pattern and the sequencing that you brought into your physical life on Earth in the present life pattern, and as you identify that pathway, then you engage the higher states of consciousness through Source Energy pattern around you.

We are needing to help you identify with that more closely, so that you move beyond the interference and the disturbance of what has been circulating around the planet system, in terms of atmospheric change, in terms of gaseous change, in terms of interference from signals emitted from different transmitters that have been activated around the planet. There is no necessity for you to feel that you are limited by any of those devices or patterns. In these sessions you become disconnected from all interference and this is why many of you feel uplifted and cleared as a result of receiving these transmissions.

There is a balancing effect occurring between many of the visitations to the planet, by many of the Beings involved who are positioned in the outer atmosphere around the planet and who are not visible to sight. There is technology that does detect the presence, but as yet, there has been no engagement in terms of any antagonism directed to these vessels and contingents who at times appear to be visiting en masse around the planet. They do not appear to be visible to those who are watching for a long period of time, simply because they are in a different dimension and time is not measured as you measured it in recent years.

Time: 5.30 pm

The Omega Portal is open for a new transmission. Are you ready? Are you open to understand more of your situation and more of your presence - of your purpose for being here on Earth? When you are ready, come and link with me as we gradually disengage our focus from the physical location and we move into the altered state of consciousness in which we access the light body consciousness and therefore we are able to assemble into that area known as the receiving area of the Station of Light.

We are already welcomed here. We have been receiving information individually during the interval between transmissions, so perhaps you have been aware of receiving that energy and information. Perhaps in this transmission, confirmation will be given to you, or perhaps it will be something new and outside of your known level of consciousness and knowledge. So, as we assemble here, we are calling in together many other Beings working with us and those ones who are receiving with us. There is no judgement or criticism - we are all accepted here as being conscious Beings of Light. That seems to be important for this session.

There will be opportunities given as evolvement occurs to understand the linkage between dimensions and different states and concepts of time measurement and how there are Beings who can move between different dimensional time elements and thus they can appear beside you or they can instantly disappear. The ones we refer to are not part of those of us working within the Station and who come around you to help you and so it was needed to explain this to you.

There is a smooth passageway for many of you now and already you will be experiencing this. Remember that your life journey, as you have relinquished the emotional patterns, then becomes one of adventure, one of joy and one of sharing the energy systems that you have available to you with other ones who are ready to receive. You will be experiencing at times when you are conversing with certain people either a discordant energy or a resonating energy and the resonance is when the other one comes to you and recognises the value of the energy frequency that you are immersed in and they are lifted up, they resonate with that and they are lifted up with it, and within it. It is a simple act of maintaining your clear connection to Source Energy and thus the contacts you have with other people means that you are distributing that energy.

There is energy flowing out through you at this time into different avenues, through you into different groups and different patterns that have been created around the planet. There are many areas already known to have a higher frequency and some are recognised as being gateways or portals to other dimensions where there can be a transference of information or people. Just acknowledge that. If it is appropriate for you to be drawn to such places or to recognise them, it will happen quite naturally in your movements, in your association with people and different times. There is everything around you to be absorbed on a level which necessitates that you recognise assistance is with you in an ongoing way, helping you to be more in alignment with the energy patterns.

In this moment there is the presence of the Star Elders amongst you here, waiting to make themselves known to you.”

“This is an encounter with you so that you will unfold the energy codes, or mechanisms, contained within your light body presence here. It will be activated as you are present here by you resonating with what we are presenting you with, beyond the words. Many of you have gone beyond this situation and feel you are visiting to place your presence and renew relationships in different parts of Creation. We allow this. We allow you to reconnect with this. It will not disturb what is occurring with the activation of the energy within your light body here at this time. We just move aside and allow the reconnection to occur. Most of you here are experiencing visions of different places or travelling to different places in different travelling devices. All is becoming more apparent and clearer to you. When you experience these different journeys and ways, you are filled with it, you remember it, it fills your current thought patterns, it fills the organism and the energy field that constructs your human organism field. When you sense this, that is when you can be assured you are actively taking part in what we are presenting you with as part of our function of being with this planet as it evolves. We are working within this energy activation to promote more of the joyous energy of allowance and forgiveness, of support, of love, of peace, all of that which is the natural state of the essence of all creatures. And thus bringing you into this and making it your reality, is what we reconnected with you for, and so we now withdraw from this connection at this time.”

“Orem again addressing you. This will be reinforcing the introduction I gave you in this transmission and I am observing you here with different energy flowing through you, different light repositioned within you. Now it is appropriate for you to become more aware of your presence in this receiving area. The times that you spend in these sessions change you some-what. They may appear to distort the very function and identification that you have of yourself and the world and why people are on this planet, and so we help you to adjust with the core energy essence of you, with your higher self, your light energy system which equalises and harmonises everything that you receive in such a way that you then can happily accept it, as you absorb all of the energy and information.

This is what we brought you into this area to receive in this transmission. Continue as you are. Be aware of information which relates to you which will be of assistance to you.

Thank you beloved

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem and the Star Elder Beings, this is Lani again and I bring my attention back into this space to be with you and even that will help regulate you again back into the humanness, back into your body, so be aware of the wonderful energy system of your Light Self merging with your physical body again and your life. You will know that changes are happening when you allow that light body energy to bring in all of the higher pattern that you have been aligned with and reconnected with. It does seem to take a continual persistence to reconnect with it, simply because of the denseness around us on the planet and some of those layers referred to that can interfere with your clear connection and that is why you need to rise above that and draw on pure Source Energy for you to keep the codes active within you. Now be fully aware of your location and the present time. I have enjoyed allowing all of this to come through to you and to me today. I now close the Omega Portal so that we can continue in our physical life pattern here.

Thank you

Lani
