Issue 891

Date: November 30, 2017

Time: 4 pm

Hello again and welcome to the Omega Communications Portal. Are you ready to come with me again on one of these inner journeys into the Station of Light and into that energy system where you are fully supported and understood and accepted in every way?

Begin this session today by linking with, and calling on, your Higher Self. It is a state of consciousness, an aspect of you, and call on through that aspect, what is appropriate for you to receive today. You may hear something beyond the words that are uttered. Come with me and with all of us who are gathering together and who assemble in the receiving area of the Station of Light. It is the most appropriate beginning space for this session. As you become accustomed to the energy system here, and each time it will seem different because your energy changes and the energy of the space changes, so there is the adjustment period when you first assemble here, allowing you to be comfortable in your focus and attention here and allowing the physical world and life you are in, to recede. This puts you in this receptive state.

Relax and enjoy this time out together. Some of you may be aware that you are greeting other ones here in this space and you will be supporting each other as you each receive individually specific energy and information for you.

“Assembled here you may already be aware of the shift in energy. This shift in energy allows us to come forth to you, Orem addressing you in this space, in this aspect of you and in the appearance of this receptive state and space that you are assembled within. The dimension of it changes and will fluctuate, depending on what you are drawing forth and also the Beings who come forward to help you bring in a different type of energy frequency and thus you respond to the differences, to the variations. The variations allow different portals to be presented to you, or a different level of perception in some way.

It indicates that you are not alone in this journey in experience in this space.

To facilitate this drawing together has meant that many sessions were required to assemble the necessary elements that would be hospitable to you, recognising you have a humanistic personality, desires and understanding, and also drawing in around you into this space the higher dimensional frequency of the higher level of your consciousness. The higher level of your consciousness has existed in many different life-forms. So, there is the gathering of all this information and energy systems in around you for you to feel that you are accustomed to being here and that you can allow yourself to receive energy and information.

We are shifting you immediately in response to this energy that you have accepted and we give you an overview of the planet. In particular, you may be observing large expanses of water beneath you, as you perceive this from above the planet. Within these large expanses of water exist many areas and realities of life.

There is a continuation of the adjustment of the element of water and alongside this adjustment of the element of water comes the higher essence of it in a vaporised form and also the coalescence of it into compressed states and into states where there is the formation of the presence of icy water, icy temperatures, which change the composition of the element of water. Above that there is a gaseous layer and this gaseous layer is affected by much of what is produced upon the planet that rises as it heats into this extended layer around this planet system.

There are processes involved in assessing the components of the various layers around the planet and assessing the effects they would have on the present existence of lifeforms and life generally including all types of organisms and life systems. You indeed are not alone in existing on this planet and all of the assessment is able to be analysed so that any potential shifts in the processes would be able to be adapted or reconfigured to be of assistance for all of the organisms present on the planet. Balance is required. Many times reformation is required, adjustment to the base elements of construction of living organisms. You personally and as a whole of the humanoid race, have gone through many such adjustments in the evolutionary process, because there is adaptation occurring across all species. What is required, is the adaptation to a higher level of frequency and above the gaseous layer there is the existence of an energy frequency pattern containing the base codes for creation.

During our many sessions together we have been focussing on having you align to your point of origin and to the essence of creation, so we are defining it to you in a different concept, which may make it easier for you to access the higher pattern for you. If you are perceiving yourself in such a position where you are aware and you are receiving in the areas around your receptors in your body of light consciousness here, then you may be aware of the shifting patterns.

Some patterns are allocated to the exact frequency for the DNA for the humanoid form. Some patterns in the frequency field relate to communication and devices which are created to allow the communication with other Beings from other dimensions. Already in this great group gathered here, you are receiving on different levels, calling in what is appropriate for you to receive, to understand, to adapt to and to continue the aspect of your functions here on Earth in relation to evolution and in relation to maintaining stability of the process of the Earth changes and the changes in consciousness. Consciousness, as it changes, is the most relevant aspect for you to be aware of.

There are many other groups and Beings who are communicating with you on a worldwide scale, presenting the information in many ways. Analyse all of the information and you may see the core underlying message contained with each formation presented to you, and when you can understand that core message, you will also perceive what is appropriate and what is in line with the process of Source Energy for this planet. You do this because you have come to Earth from a higher pattern of evolution and you also do it because you can consciously link with that aspect of you that has evolved and is coming back to assist you and therefore gives you clarification of the pattern, of the study, of the level of information, presented to you. There would be no point in you following a pathway of information that is designed to break down the trust in yourself and the trust in the higher process.

Presenting such information to you within the Station of Light, the information comes to you through the Councils who are overseeing you and overseeing all of the information presented to you. You can understand from that, that there are safeguards in everything that you can continue in your life, everything that you may want to pursue in your life. The safeguards are in your conscious connection to Source Energy, or into areas within this Station of Light, which is already an aspect known to you, familiar to you in your consciousness and you are familiar with it by your presence here.

You have come into the presence of the Council of Light as I am presenting this to you, so you may be aware of movement in this chamber, and of being presented to different ones in this chamber, for the purpose of introducing to you some confirmation of what you have been thinking about, or writing about and wanting to present to others. The information given to you here also is strengthening your energy field pattern.

Each one of you, as you come into the Station of Light, goes through a filtering layer as you move into the receiving area and beyond that into other chambers in the Station. The purpose of that is to cleanse your energy field completely, because of what you are exposed to on a regular basis in your life pattern. You are becoming more accustomed to consciously clearing your body and your energy field. This you should be doing on a daily basis. Even if you are just living your days within your dwelling space, you are still receiving energy and information which needs to be filtered and cleansed through your energy system.

Withdrawing from the Council of Light chamber, we bring you back to the receiving area of the Station. Momentarily you will feel the immersion you experience within the energy of the field of water, for again this is important to help your body systems adjust, also to help you draw in the appropriate elements within the water. Pure water contains many elements that are a necessity to maintain your cellular energy in many different ways - many different cells within your body, so feel this around you - and this is done.

So, that energy withdraws and you will be fully aware of the presence within the receiving area of the Station, surrounded by Light. This is for you.

This presentation was presented to you so that again you would feel in a much more positive and enlightened aspect and you would feel this especially renewing aspects of your light body system initially.

Thus this session is completed for you and I withdraw

Orem out "

Thank you, Orem and the Council of Light and all of the other Beings around us during this session.

You will be having different sensations now as I am speaking to you as Lani again, and I am sure you will feel the difference and it is this difference within your light body that is required for your physical form and the many layers of you in the current lifetime. There has been information and guidance in this session for you. Take it all into you and now become aware of your physical body and where you are receiving this message.

Take a moment to fully realise the depth of what you are immersed in, in this and other sessions.

I appreciate you taking this time to connect in with these messages, but now I close the Omega Portal until we gather again.

Thank you
Lani
