Issue 893

Date: December 14, 2017

Time: 4.30 pm

Hello and welcome to another edition of the Omega Communications. I welcome you into this space that has been created for us to meet together. We meet together when we lay aside the Earthly life for this short time and experience moving together into the receiving area of the Station of Light. Perhaps the station of light means more to you in the sense of creating a space where you can tune in to a deeper level of creation. Perhaps it is a space that allows you to access images and information from deep within your own consciousness – or perhaps you just come together to receive what is presented through the transmission. Your higher consciousness knows what is appropriate for you to receive at this time, therefore as a group consciousness gathering together, we draw upon the level of activity and information which is available to us here. So, open your senses, be aware of what is around you. Remember it is an inner vision experience, an inner sensing and the visions may appear differently to how you see through your physical eyes. The physical eyes in the environment that we live in at the present time is just one aspect, one reality, that has been created, so enjoy this time that we link together in this space.

“Enveloping you in this space Beloved, we are with you, Orem representing all that is available to you within this Station and I am the initial spokesperson who greets you and who also modulates the frequencies which you will be receiving and also I am able to introduce to you other Beings who may have information for you to experience in some way at this time.

We assess you as an overall grouping and we assess you individually and this is why some information may appear to be repeated and other information will be new to you as an individual. We respect your individuality and we also honour you as a conscious Light Being connecting into the information energy grid which presents to you what you are able to comprehend and what is permitted to be brought into the Earth Station at this time.

There is an unfolding type mechanism which allows the information to come through to you and always it is at the intersections of unfolding dimensions which presents to you certain types of information and energy. Always there is the initial preparation of you as you here in the Light Body and also the preparation and activation within the physical body necessary. Presently in this transmission to you today, there is an envelope being opened around you which symbolises the opening in a connected dimensional field. This can allow several dimensions who are closely interacting to be available to you to perceive and to receive the information. If you feel you are drawn to a particular portal and you are travelling, in a sense, through time, this indicates that you have actively engaged into that portal and there will be a differentiation between what you are receiving and what other people are receiving who are present also. Therefore, you must allow your own visual process to be active, running alongside or beneath the words that are spoken to you.

Always there is reconfiguration necessary of your energy systems. Your energy systems are continually being adjusted to the energy that you are able to bring through - the light - the pattern of frequency and resonating energy information which you align with and which then can enter within your energy light body system and thus will flow out into the environment around you through your physical body which anchors the light body in between these sessions.

You are necessary in this entire process. You must also take care of your physical form and every action that you take which is aligned with the principles of ongoing health and cleansing and restoring, will enable you to bring in a greater light energy into you that is known as the individual in the present lifetime.

We also have amongst you Beings who have come forward, acknowledging your presence and we will describe the presence of a Being who has addressed you before - Su Yan Rah is this Being who will present himself to you in the form of a blue-ish outline and a different form to the usual human anatomy.”

“We respect you, the consciousness that has enlivened the physical form and is working to maintain the physical form so that you may exist alongside us in an extended time period and this is because as you have evolved to this state of readiness to receive this information input, you will be able to assimilate more of the energy here, whereas if you had decided to leave aside the physical form you presently have, the process would need to be established again and we are working to establish a continual cycle and an existence of bringing in the energy that is needed presently in the Earth Station, so therefore the emphasis is on being able to sustain your present lifeform. When you understand that you are conditioned to a certain lifespan in this body, you must also understand that correspondingly, you can extend that expectation of the life period. What would you choose, especially knowing that you have access to the energy which will enliven and sustain a healthy form for you. Become used to using the process of drawing in what you receive in these sessions and in your individual linkages so that you are able to assimilate all of the light and energy and information presented in this way and other ways, and therefore you are fully participating in the project that you agreed to do, to undertake. Many of you consciously reconnect with your point of origin which is a state where you were fully aware of the information in the light from Source Energy which you were already using and you chose to bring that into your current situation. Remember this. Remember the light, bringing into you much configuration for you to work with and to reconfigure what you have around you, remembering that as you enliven and establish in you a higher set of energy, you resonate with a different set of coordinates - dimensional coordinates - and those in turn will place you into different situations in the city of light existences. We honour you for engaging in this process and this is what we have come around you today to reinforce within you.

Thank you Commander Orem - we withdraw.”

“Orem again with you. That is to encourage you in everything that you are doing and to remind you of course, so you have become all that you extended your consciousness field to engage in. You may then acknowledge that you have engaged all of the commitment and energy consciously now into this current lifetime. We would ask you to remember this and to realise this.

There are many areas anchored within the Station of Light, but also connected into areas within Earth Station, some of those areas are actively gathering information and analysing that information from the locality and the condition of the people and all actions they are undertaking. Some of the areas also are introducing concepts and information and energy to help sustain life in areas where it had been dissipating or interfered with and so there is an overall programme of assistance for you on Earth in different places and stations. Some areas you are not permitted to actively be engaging your energy field within. You will feel drawn to areas which match your resonating energy frequency and these will all be working in the same way you are working. This strengthens and stabilises the higher dimensional field existences, which is most important for you to be aware of, because it is creating what is to be ready for a higher level of population to exist in. Therefore, it is important that you realise this and you maintain the integrity of your own consciousness field and therefore the energy field around your physical body.

Many of you who are amongst different levels of people’s understanding, tend to absorb what is around you and this is not beneficial for your overall expansion and of course this is mentioned in the early part of the sessions when you are analysed and cleared of what is not assisting you at this time. You do not need to give your energy into areas or people who are not willing to accept it and to understand it. You are needed to support the ones who are evolving and beginning to wake up into the message that you are required to align with Source Energy and to bring that energy in you in every way possible. That is the overall message for each of you and for those who are beginning to awaken.

Now, we have seen this working within you and we also would ask you to be aware that you have multi layered connections some of which are into areas within the Station establishing habitats in the area for people and some of you have linkages into other areas of universal creation beyond Earth, and others of you are having linkages into civilisations already upon or within the Earth, so there is the action of you resonating with particular pockets of civilisation wherein you are drawing in higher energy frequencies and distributing it out from you. This is often depicted to you in various presentations through your media and this may confirm to you some aspects of what you have been seeing which you knew were true and you would also know some areas were an extension of truth and distortion of truth so that people begin to move into different areas of creation not holistically aligned with the way of bringing light in to assist expansion. Even as these words are uttered to you, you are being correctly aligned into your pattern of energy, reconnecting with that pattern of energy that exists in this space, you might say it is a higher evolved aspect of you and which also is present to help you function in the environment on the planet.

All of this is to facilitate your livingness and to help you remember your connection into the overall energy grids existing in Creation. This has been the message and adjustment for you needed at this time. Bring your awareness back into the receiving area of the Station and the familiarity of the Beings here who work alongside you. Many of these would be helping you as you return to your physical form, making the way easier, assisting you in your current tasks. All of this is possible because of your reconnection to the existence of the higher energy frequency, expanding and evolving throughout the universe and you are taking part in that process when you are consciously aware of that connection. Thank you for receiving this energy and information

Orem out “

Lani again, coming back to be present with you and to speak with you and I give my thanks to Su Yan Rah, Orem and the Beings involved in this session. Always there is adjustment processes happening in these sessions for you, so if you were wishing to draw energy in to help you, this will already have happened, because you are assessed when you enter within this space as to your needs. Now, begin the process of bringing the memory of all of this that your light body has been receiving back into your physicality, the world around you, your life, uplifting you in your life as you engage in this process in a deeper way. You will have received much more in your own way than the words, so appreciate this, remember this, and allowing it into your body and into your life. As this message now is complete, be aware of your body, the energy moving through your body and around you and where you are receiving this message. Thank you for being with me here and I close this portal for today
