Date: January 4, 2018

Time 4 pm

Today I open the Omega Communications Portal and greet you. I greet you because I know you because of the energy essence that you are, and it is the same state of consciousness that we share in that enables us to link together and enables us to move together into the receiving area of the Station of Light, and so we are connected all around this planet. Perhaps there are more Beings linking in with us than I recognise, perhaps some of the Beings are living within other areas of this planetary system - under the water, under the surface of the planet, above the surface of the planet, in the outer atmosphere - I have no idea of knowing how many people connect in. Even if it is only You who is receiving this message, and I together, that is enough, because I recognise You as being special, as understanding your pathway and the purpose that you have to being present on planet Earth Station.

Now, let's move together into the receiving area of the Station and firmly identify yourself here in this space. Let the images come to you and let the sense of your physical self dissolve away until you sense your essence – your light form – here.

“ We greet you as this Light Energy state of You - the Essence of You. This is Orem addressing you and as I am the central focus for this Command Station, then it is my place to greet you or to allow other people to greet you in my place if I am otherwise occupied in activities.

Today there is a freshness coming around you in the energy and it is observed that many of you are going through a time of renewal and adjusting to the energy frequency which you are receiving and drawing into you from other aspects of Creation.

The momentum is pulling you forward. Your momentum is driving you forward, because it is your eagerness to expand your consciousness which provides all the opportunities and the energy openings for you to evolve and to allow yourself to take in more of the energy which draws you forward. The drawing forward can take you deeper into aspects of this Station of Light and it can take you forward further into opportunities to witness changes in other Stations of Light and to witness changes within the Cities of Light.

The establishment of the cities of light is being strengthened and before you will be coming information in relation to the activities within the crystalline cities of light, and the city of light - the major grouping that we term Earth City of Light - has become known to a greater galactic group of Beings who are commissioned to be involved in the evolution of the Earth Light City.

Understand from this, you are participating in this expansion. Choose the aspect of existence around you that you want to involve yourself within and the aspects of information which you have available to you and remember, everything you focus upon is impressed in your energy field.

Taking you beyond this into the next level as you adjust to the frequency patterns here, you will be aware that surrounding you is a dynamic aspect of creation - dynamic in the sense that it is movement, it is drawing energy into it and it is changing.

It is energy, or power, as you would understand that to be which is enlivening the matrix around you individually and therefore expanding from the Earth planet into the Earth City Light construction.

There is within this construct an energy matrix of the Earth City of Light which connects into direct focus of beams of energy into specific intersecting points. These are known as nodes and nodes collect information and energy is focused in the nodes of this energetic grid which is part of your aspect of creation and already connected into the Earth Light City. Experience this around you, because this is the purpose of this particular transmission to you, so that you understand the deeper connections you have.

You may be sensing in different aspects of your light body here, circuitry being altered and changed and as you observe the circuitry that is your light body, you will see specific connecting nodes responding to the energy nodes of the Light City. It is a way of helping you adapt to that and bringing you more into the realisation of this existence.

Already you will have noticed that there is a gentle flowiness of your life happening and many of you are noticing that concerns that you have had are no longer persistent in your conscious mind. They have flowed away from you and as you are drawn forward into this state of consciousness that is the Light City, then you attract to you more of the upliftment and the energy you resonate with deep within you. This instills a sense of balance and order in all of your systems. From this state you also draw in patterns from deeply connected flows and dimensions in different levels beyond even Earth Light City.

There can be the allowance of some elements in the dynamic structure which might vibrate which could give a sense of disturbance. This arises as there is the inter-weaving of different aspects around the energy matrix of the existence of the Light City. It is being observed. We are observing this. The Beings - the Star Beings - observe this. All of us working within the Station of Light observe you and we observe the details required to help the ease of transition into your activities within the Light City construction. It has been an ongoing, and is an ongoing and unfoldment part of you and in the unfoldment you find that some of your senses become very clear and strong and your attention is drawn in particular to inner communications that you would be experiencing.

Now this is the time in the session where we devote energy to you personally to allow the energy matrix through you, circulating through you all of the information to identify those areas that would still be showing as unbalanced or some discord and as you allow this process to happen, in observing you we also are flowing the energy in for the smooth balancing and connections for you. There have been items detected around you which have been resonating in a different way and you would find that it is not resonating in the holistic pattern and so the discord had been experienced. Following this transmission to you as you integrate it, will come ongoing levels of light and uplifting experiences for you.

Many of you are now prepared to identify many of us who are working with you, and are able to accept the multi level of energy forms that we are and what we present to you in terms of this energy that is featured around you in the present transmission. You may be experiencing the intensity of the energy here, filled with vitality and you would call it enthusiasm, and this would include your own eagerness to perceive the changes and differences around you and your eagerness to participate more in the unfoldment and in the greeting process that is occurring between many of you holding the energy on Earth and those of us bringing it into you. All of us present here share the joy essence with you of this communion and sharing and also it will be lifting away from you resistances and shields that you may have put up, out of lack of understanding of the universal connections and the hosts of Beings working with you, until you experience yourself as identifying your placement with us. We have included you in many different groupings in recent sessions and you may have perceived who you have been working with in the groups.

Sometimes all you do is to peel back one corner of the picture, of the covering of the picture, so you get to know us bit by bit, and if that is what you feel comfortable with, that is how it will be for you, whereas others of you have completely peeled back the veil and stand with us in the Light, because you recognise that you also have been in the appearance as we are with you. Appearances are just the way that we present our consciousness to you. Naturally, many of you would feel that you gravitate to specific planets or places or Beings. Remember the core essence, the core consciousness state, of every aspect of Creation.

There are Beings who have newly visited Earth Station at this time to observe the expansion of the established Earth Light City. It is this Light City of Earth which will receive many of the Beings who are new to this part in the dimensional construct of the universe. They also will be adapting to the energy frequency in a similar way that you are. Holistically, there are many coming together in this space and this will facilitate all of you being enlivened in this particular pattern and it had necessitated you releasing conditioning before you were capable of expansion and existence into this level and we can acknowledge you in this process now, as to what you have achieved.

You are taking in this energy that you resonate with and so as your light body and the energy matrix of that draws back to the receiving area, then your focus is back in this transition space between many different realms and dimensions. Again, we have been happy to assist you in this absorption of the energy frequency you were immersed in during this session. Recognise that this way that we present you with information is so that you sense it and you know it and you integrate it. Experiencing it is the way of receiving everything that is contained in your visitation. This is what we leave you with at this time, Beloved

Orem out

“This is Ulea addressing you now and I have been brought forward by Commander Orem to assist you now in this space and assist you to reconnect with your physical element, which is still functioning very well within the normal Earth construct on the planet. You are needed on the planet. You are helping people in many ways. You help them in the daily activities, wherever that may be. Every physical action you take has behind it a higher action and connection into the Earth Light City. Perhaps you could see that as you bring that connection in from the Light City into the physical plane reality and you are allowing all that to fill that space. You may think that this is your job. It is not a hard job or task, because when you are in the energy, you are filled with joy and light and it is the energy flowing through you which presents itself into all that is around you.

Now, bring yourself back into your physical body form and environment

Ulea out

Thank you Ulea and Orem. This is Lani speaking again, and have you fully connected into the physical life again, and are you feeling the extra senses and the greater aspect you have brought back with you from the Earth Light City? I like the way that has been presented to us today. I feel the excitement and the expansion of it, and so it is time for me to close the Earth Portal on this transmission, even though you can revisit it and re-experience it, it is still required of me to officially end the transmission in this way.

Thank you
Lani
