Issue 909

Date: April 5, 2018

Time 5 pm

I open the Omega Portal - here we are again, about to begin another session. Are you ready for the exchange of energy and information? Come forward with me now and feel that you are being drawn gently, positively, to gather into the receiving area of the Station of Light.

This is a magnificent time to be together. I feel the difference in the energy that we have been receiving this year, especially over the last few sessions and this is all because you are participating in the change, in the shift. You are allowing yourself to move forward with the energy and the impetus of the energy is to move us forward into an expanded state. Perhaps we will get some more about that during this session.

I have been given the green light to proceed, because I have asked to link in with the Beings in the Station for what they can give us in assistance, in explanation - whatever is needed for us. So, let's begin, and I expand my awareness and withdraw to allow them to come forward.

“In presenting this space to you and presenting you into this area of connection and communication, we are working with the allowance of many of the aspects that are you. Some of those aspects you have not fully realised what they are and the capabilities of them, but as we enfold you in the energy and you unfold in the energy, you become more conscious of the fact of the multi-dimensional aspect of who you are and in drawing you in your light body into this space, we have already shown you the capabilities of that aspect of you.

In some sessions we have already revealed to you different aspects of Self and how different aspects of your consciousness are engaged in performing activities within the Station of Light. Then there are other aspects of you continuing the expansion and strengthening of the Earth Light City and many other areas to do with your purpose for your existence on planet Earth.

In this session we are also drawing upon other aspects of you which have existed on planet Earth Station during its evolutionary cycles and some of those cycles are drawing into you the information from an evolved state where you were present on the Earth station, but in a different form, because you had examined all possibilities of the realities that could be enacted on the planetary station and you chose to experience some of those realities and then subsequently, or ongoing, you chose to experience the present reality that you are in. You also chose to align yourself with higher potential and indicators of that potential to remind yourself of what is to be established here on Earth and let us say, it is not to change anything that has happened. It is simply to engage a different level of understanding or energy consciousness in you and around you and amongst the civilisation that you are co-creating life with at the moment.

All of this is part of what you are experiencing, even in these transmissions.

We are reminded that we didn't announce ourselves to you.

I am Commander Orem and through my intention to present this to you, I assumed that you would recognise the energy and information which I bring to you, so in giving you a title and name, it is simply to satisfy the natural curiosity that you have and need to know to be able to define and shape what you are receiving into some order or procedure.

Moving on from this, I am introducing you again into a field of energy which is a collective combination of many aspects from different dimensions. As an insight into this, allow your vision to expand the introduction to you of many types of Beings here.

It is in a sense a station where Beings come in with information and the information can be contained in different devices or carrying vessels and this is all brought into a central processing or collection space, and this is what I have brought you into here to perceive and understand that you also are participating in this. You are bringing information in with you into this space to be shared. The information is experience you have gained in your lifetime here relating to the interaction of other people and creatures with you. You may also be presenting very much technical information if you are involved in the scientific and technology aspects of Earth and are working with certain devices. All of this you are bringing in as a natural aspect of your consciousness field here and this is shared in this communication space with many others. It is in here that you are able to draw upon concepts which you can implement which all of you can implement, in whatever way you function currently in your current life phase. Everything, everyone, is necessary as part of the collective. How you respond to people communicating to you is important. The impression that you leave upon others from your interactions, however small they may appear to be - all of that is important - all of that is included in your energy field here as your body of light consciousness - that great awareness.

So, in being present here now - have you expanded your awareness and remembrance to include everything you have been participating in over the last several days?

Remember, there is no judgement. This is sharing of information in patterns and it can be concluded from this that you are indeed offering yourself as vessels, for in drawing concepts through from other Beings here with whom you are communicating, that is filling your energy field and this is what you will be sharing around you. This aspect of your presence, in whatever reality, is being enhanced. The energy communications and the field that you emit is being enhanced, perhaps you may liken it to the term of being upgraded, so that you are working in a higher capacity. This includes many of the patterns in your daily thoughts and how you process thoughts and how you process what you see visually, how you process what comes into your personal space, in whatever way, and there will be many things, many changes happening for you and around you. Your life is expanding and shifting. You are changing.

We are also allowing you to move beyond this space again with some of the Beings you have been communicating with here. By this we mean that you will be perceiving you are moving into a different area of creation, so that you will understand there are many places you can be familiar with apart from what you have experienced on and within Earth and within this Station.

As you acknowledge where you are visiting, you are drawing another pattern of energy into you. Patterns of energy are important. Patterns of energy existed before spoken language or written language evolved anywhere and it is through consciousness fields that the patterns are converted into a form of language to be shared with others.

In this dimensional shift you are experiencing here through different spaces – across and connecting different spaces – there is also the opportunity to remember your position and existence in that place of origin for you. In particular this is important for you at this time, as you recollect the concepts and ways of working that you were familiar with and immersed in, in that existence. That way is becoming very clear to you in your present functioning and is necessary for that to continue, because you are bringing in higher information as energy and creation into your space.

So, in experiencing this also, this draws you back to be closer to planet Earth and its energy existence and everything that surrounds it at this time. There are many streams of information encircling the planet, as you know it to be, and the information comes in, in ways also penetrating deeply down through all of the atmosphere, vegetation, all of the Beings. Everything is being enhanced, so as you continue to review previous sessions and the energy forms of the vegetation you experienced in the previous session here in the Station, this is becoming stronger in you and so you will be using this frequently in your thoughts, being conscious of what you take in. Being conscious of what you take in can immediately alter the vibration of that substance, enhancing it for benefit, perhaps clearing out matter or vibrations which will not suit you. This of course must be used in the way that you choose wisely your nutrition, knowing what is suitable for you.

Focusing upon the Earth planet momentarily, we draw your attention to an opening which is occurring in the frozen, southern areas of your planet. There is an opening which will be revealing the existence of a pattern of life present there. It is needed to be revealed as part of the ongoing exposition to you all living on the planet of what is existing and what has taken place in those areas. It is also related to the shifting and opening in consciousness. Be aware of what will be revealed to you in different ways following the presentation of this to you. It may be confirming it already to many of you who are watchful of what is occurring and being revealed. It is an ongoing process, of course. It does mean that what some people have believed all their lives will need to be changed, just as those of you receiving these transmissions have shifted from beliefs you held previously, and of course you are expanding exponentially as you take in information in this way and through other sources.

So, we do advise you that we observe the changes occurring and indeed there are aspects of the Station, Beings commissioned to support the changes, to assist where assistance is needed.

From your point of view and presence within the Station, allow your energy field to embrace all that is occurring around the planet, embracing it from the knowledge of your point of origin and from the aspect of the civilisation of the Earth Light City.

These are powerful changes occurring and you are needed to participate in those changes, therefore I bring you back to the receiving area of the Station so that you will remember what you have experienced and as you consciously bring it all in around you, I leave you at this point, Beloved

Orem out “

Lani speaking again. Thank you Orem for this interesting and infusion of energy and information.

I bring you all back now to be grounded on the Earth, connected back into your life, bringing in joy, upliftment, expansion, gratitude and love - and many other aspects - remembering that your higher evolved aspect is part of you and comes back to help you at this time.

Now, as usual, as I close the Omega Portal because the transmission is concluded, do make sure that you are firmly back, aware of your surroundings, grounded in every way in the present time. Thank you, everybody

Lani
