Issue 910

Date: April 12, 2018

Time 5 pm

I open the Omega Portal.

Again, I am calling you to be with me, to receive just exactly what you need to receive at this time, reminding you that it doesn't matter what you do in life, or where you live. It is where your level of understanding and consciousness resides that is important. How you feel about yourself is important.

With this in mind, I am calling you forth to be with me, entering into that space that we are familiar with - the receiving area within the Station of Light.

It is infinite, it seems endless, the number of times we can come into this space to be present, consciously present. Here you are again - consciously present as you, but as the heightened aspect of you we refer to as your body of light. Welcome into this space! Put your attention here with me, expanding your senses, which allows the Beings of Light stationed here within the Station to come forward and greet you. I withdraw and leave that part of the session now to those ones.

“Welcome into this Station again Beloved. This is Orem addressing you and we have of course many others in this space and I refer to them as “we” as a group working with you and with the group that you bring into this space with you.

There are many ones who want to know more and all of those that you are aware of having that enquiring mind will be with you in this space. It is through the sense of resonance that they are drawn into this space with you. Always through you there is an energy attraction and that energy attraction is what we term resonance, so whatever you resonate with in your higher aspect, you draw others also into that energy field. The energy field is what brings to you information. It is the energy field that you accept and acknowledge and recognise which also brings into you in your Earth space, Light, Energy and Information into you individually and into the planet collectively, including creatures, including the element that receives the energy. Many dimensions involved in that, of course.

Now, introducing you again into this space allows you to remember the highest aspect of self. It also allows you to step out of all of the conditioning and the presentation of the Earth aspect in which you are existing in the current civilisation. That might be what is needed at present. Allowing yourself to move aside from that puts you into a higher state of receptivity and thus you are able to participate in the experience of this session. We immediately draw you into another level of existence and the existence and presentation here puts you together with other groups of Beings.

There is the presence in the Station at this present time in this transmission of Beings from an outer level of existence and these ones are with you consistently, although it does depend on how much you are activating the level of joy and higher field of patterning. We have spoken to you about patterns and codes and the necessity of them and the importance of them. You are surrounded by patterns of codes as we are issuing this presentation to you and some of those are allowing you to be present in assisting modifications which are occurring in different land masses on planet Earth and the modifications are coming through from the Source dimension that presented different elements into Earth station. You could consider this to be an aspect of activation of many of the areas presently opening up around planet Earth station. You are reminded of this at specific intersections in time and dimension. Some of the intersections draw patterns into you and around you and around Earth which are replacing some elements that are outdated or that are no longer active. There are also elements that get displaced. All of this is relevant for you to know at this time because inherent in you all is the realisation that there are many places out of balance. Areas which are out of balance are registered within the overseeing aspects of creation. In other words, in your words, everything which is occurring on your planet are observed. Out of balance energy fields are observed and thus we are making you aware of energy being drawn into those areas to facilitate balance and the introduction of enhancements.

As this relates to you as an individual Being, you also are being assessed. You also have available to you various enhancements, when you are ready to receive such enhancements. The enhancements are to do with correct functioning of the biological organism that you are and enhancements are also to do with awakening of many of the seed cells existing within you which align you to particular points of Creation throughout many universal dimensions. These are necessary so that you participate in the overall adjustment and upliftment processes around the planet.

We remind you again that this will not be an overall wave of everybody being enhanced at the same time, because that would not be necessary for some individual Beings and would not be in their right time phase for that to occur. It is dependant upon how you relate to information sequences, patterns and codes which you are always receiving coming through Source Creation. When they do not touch upon areas in your energy field, then nothing happens.

You would be finding that around your planet currently, people have been expecting a shift to happen, and many have been disappointed because they felt they did not receive or change. This is the explanation why.

Those listening to this message are already identifying yourselves as ones who have been responding to the energy information codes you have been receiving. This has the effect of drawing many of you forward into clear spaces, into clearer energy, stronger energy, perhaps drawn into meeting other people where you share information and you embody the place of shift that you would want to have experienced. The shift can also incorporate shifts in time experience and shifting ones out of an experience of discomfort in the body in any way.

This is one of the functions that you are open to receiving and participating in during these journeys into the Station of Light in the transmissions.

Momentarily, many of you will be experiencing that you are being assessed and you are being moved into a different situation. This is always gentle. This is always appropriate. There is nothing difficult about this process. It is a natural change within your bodies, just as you go through natural changes in your personal growth. If you intend it to be difficult, it will be. If your intention is to absorb the energy and change happily and smoothly, it will be. Your intention creates a linkage within fields of energy around you and in this way you are choosing the correct energy process as if you had many options available to you and depending on your intention, that creates the process for you. We support you in every choice you make. That also is part of the dynamic frequency that you have as an energy being.

In this Station where you are receiving this, you will also be aware that you are functioning in a different time and although we do not measure time as you do within the Earth density, there is a transition journey as you experience what you move into, in this space.

You may find during your days that you feel you have received a great deal of information and yet it is not clearly written of course, and this sense is what you have experienced within this space with us. Some of it does not relate to anything spoken in these sessions. As an individual, you are receiving a great deal of specific information for you. It is how you bring it back into your current life phase that is important. Knowing that you bring into you exactly what you need, and the answers to every question are there, will help you. It is not necessary to know everything which occurs. There is too much happening around your planet for that to be consciously held in conscious mind of you, and yet it is existing in the energy field around you. When you have the desire or need to find specific information, it is easily accessible by you.

There is ongoing communication being channelled through various areas supporting the planet at this time. There is a major area which allows the communication to come through. It comes through in a way it is filtered and filtration means that what is helpful or necessary will come through to specific groups of people or individuals. It comes through areas that we in this Station are holding open. It is a communication portal similar to what you might have already accessed in your general streams of information through current technology. This happens without technology. This is an organic exchange and a fluidic space through which information can come through, as well as particular Beings and depending on the time phase, what comes through will be significant to turn around some of events and to inspire other people who make controlling choices. It is a vast connected network of Beings throughout many dimensions involved in that process.

Now this information you will find useful in many ways, so I bring your attention and awareness back to you as a body of light in the receiving area of the Station. You were out of Earth time for a significant process to happen and you will be aware of changes. You will be aware that you have transcended some of the limitations that may have been impacting you in your current life phase.

You may be aware of many other changes.

Again it is time for me to withdraw to leave you to assimilate change and energy and information.

Orem out “

Many thanks Orem. This is Lani again with you all and as Lani, I bring your attention back to you as a physical form.

Sometimes you encounter Beings during these transmissions and of course the communication and attention will be particular for you for what you are experiencing in your daily life pattern at present, and you may ask for help from those Beings and if it is appropriate, it will come to you in different ways. I felt the need to say that to some of you who are receiving this.

It is time now to come back to surface, to come back and ground yourself within the physical energy body known as the personality that you are and you have been given enhancements, so watch out for those in the ongoing days until we meet again. Make note of them and acknowledge the change and the assistance. Some of the changes happen on that higher level of consciousness and you may have difficulty putting into words what the changes are, but usually you feel the change. Welcome that.

Again I thank you for being part of this and I trust it helps you in every way appropriate for you and everyone around you on the planet today, and thus I end this session by closing the Omega Portal. Thank you.

Lani
