

QUANTUM | ENERGY INFORMATION SERIES

Higher Dimensional Energy – 1 May 2018

Deb Taylor of SOUL-LOGIC.NZ and Lani Calkin of OMEGA COMMUNICATIONS.CO.NZ

D. What is it you would like to share with us today

L. We envelop you all in Light this day, moving in a direction which will orient you into a place of beginning. We do not infer that you have not begun your journey. You have indeed travelled in many different dimensions, but what you have begun is to introduce into a level of understanding of your own consciousness expansion and introducing information in patterns, in a sequence, involving many other groups you are not entirely aware of and yet through the functions available that you both have set up, the information can be distributed in that way through the circles, through the contacts. The energy systems in place include communication systems, communicating from individuals or groups to other individuals and groups, but there is also information contained deeply within the energy information systems of each individual. We are speaking about an individual not as a physical unit with a personality and structure. We are speaking about an individual as a source and vehicle of energy itself. So, to bring energy through into dimensions such as your planet Earth there was needed to be an information way to bring that in, and the energy systems of the human being form and its consciousness levels, its energy framework, energy being conveying systems, conveying energy messages. As that was developed and has come into conscious recognition of people currently, this is the information vehicle that is used to bring energy into the Earth space.

Each individual, as they become attuned to receiving patterns and codes of energy, is bringing in specific information to be used and utilised. Individually that is used and utilised to create methods and areas of civilisation, and those areas can be connected in throughout the entire planet, as you know it, and it is a way of uplifting other energy systems, or other people. In this context we are speaking about energy systems as being people – individual people. You may perceive an individual body system as a collection of energy, as signals going through energy pathways in the body and some of those will be to maintaining a healthy system for the body and some of those will be introducing conscious thought patterns creations to manifest.

So there is an ongoing passage of information and this is referred to as a pathway and a method just begun and it has just begun simply because of the awareness of the way that energy is introduced into planetary systems and into the human organism and creation.

This will become clear as you continue to work with the energy impulses and as you become aware of the specific codes of energy introduced to the overall planet, inasmuch as it comes through energy emanating through the solar system, through the central sun. That is important. It is significant. It is part of the integral system throughout Earth, but throughout the particular solar system that Earth is within at this time. The energy system is coming through all levels of creation. It is just that you are aware of a greater population on planet Earth and it is the population that is bringing the energy in to facilitate change, exchange of information and where necessary, to balance and improve what has already been established around the planet and is in existence. Some of that we bring to your memory is from other civilisations which were apparently more evolved and were able to use conscious connections of creation in a different way. The whole energy system has changed from what it has been in different time frames and phases. The current phase you are in is to bring about more conscious creation with a higher field of energy and this is what you are aware of. This is what the endeavours are in the propulsion of people – giving them the impulse to improve various states and conditions of health, of inner health, of consciousness, purifying what is already there, adjusting energy frequencies.

There are many types of energy frequencies surrounding individuals. Some of those are brought in through conscious intention of what they desire to implement and create and of course you are aware there are many layers to that and how it can be used or manipulated.

For the purposes of this energy series coming through, we refer entirely to the pattern that is available for the upliftment and improvement and creation of entirely new cities – places to live in – based on holistic principles, based on the elimination of lower field influences, based entirely on higher field influences. The higher field influences have an action of purifying, itself, within the organism, the vessel of a human being – a human being presented within the energy structure and influences.

We are opening up a dimensional field as we bring this to you and the dimensional field is drawing you further into the elements coming through the Sun and as this is being brought forth to you and as it is distributed to other individuals, they also will feel the immersion within this field of energy and the impact this has on the energetic field – framework field – energetic matrix around each one. It is a way of assisting, because it is the intention of this collective consciousness field bringing this to you to assist the evolutionary process.

In drawing individuals into this expanded dimension, it is also an opportunity that is offered. The opportunity will not be accepted by everyone, simply because it involves moving into an understanding that is different to the imposition into the human consciousness level and to many people the difference will bring them to a point of questioning whether this is what they want to proceed with at this time. It is an opportunity offered.

We are drawing you into, and drawing this vessel, into another state of consciousness and this allows the flowing field of energy to encompass not just the physical form as you know it, but also the higher energetic forms that contain layers of consciousness.

Many in your framework today would determine it to be 4D modelling or 5D modelling or talking about 7th level dimensions and such. In this session we are just speaking about unfolding levels of dimension and this is sufficient to alter brainwave patterns and brainwave patterns incorporate the level of understanding and function. They can also introduce the memory of elevated states of existence that individuals have had. This is an overall explanation of what can be achieved and the opening up and reconnection into higher states of existence where there was quite a different body form – very light energy body form – this can also bring back into conscious memory in current time ways to use energy patterns.

Even in bringing this information through to you in this way, there is a level of resistance, a layer that is still filtering information being brought through.

D. It can seem like a lot to take in for those who haven't thought on those levels before. How would this best be communicated to people who are ready to receive this information?

L. Just in the way that you are doing in recording there is a frequency being radiated out and people will sense that who are aware, who are ready. If they are not ready, they do not receive the energy. It is something that is not appropriate to be forced upon anybody. It is a conscious choice and so it is an individual choice as to whether it will be received. And that depends on their energy systems related to consciousness layers, or degrees of consciousness and that has a certain limiting aspect to it, because the energy itself can alter energy systems of the mind, of the body, of the emotions, so it is necessary to be accepted gradually and integrated. In bringing it to conscious awareness today, in your current time phase, it stays in the level of consciousness until such time as the individuals are prepared to integrate it, to accept it.

D. That is my next question – how can we prepare ourselves to be at that level to accept it and integrate it in our energy fields? How can we raise our energy levels high enough to be able to accept it and understand it and own it?

L. Being aware that it exists creates an energetic space and the conscious intention of linking with that highest possible level of understanding draws individuals to it. It is a simple process, simply allowing oneself, with the intention and perhaps the desire, to incorporate the higher field into themselves creates a pathway, a linkage. The pattern is already there. It is simply the linkage, or pathway, needed to consciously connect with the pattern. This is controlled largely by the levels that you know of the greater consciousness of each individuals.

Working with that, with one's own higher consciousness, brings into alignment that pathway and connection. It is done with consciously connecting with one's own higher self state of consciousness.

D. You say it is a simple way to connect with one's consciousness – the pathway to linking. It is different for each individual or is there one way in particular that we can do this?

L. The subconscious, or the higher conscious, levels exist for everyone, it is the same state. It is a dimensional field that is around everyone and everywhere. It is a conscious statement of - I now connect with the higher state of consciousness - which does it.

Already in that higher state of consciousness is the pathway. So it the simple statement of - I now connect to that state of consciousness.

D. I now connect with the higher state of consciousness . So, that is the intention that we set?

L. Yes.

D. And that is enabling us to connect to the higher state of consciousness?

L. Yes. The second part of it is to allow to receive and this is where the human personality would come in to try to define what am I going to receive. Will I see it in words, will I see pictures. That will be different for each individual because of their own state of awareness and sensing and it is a state that will unfold gradually. The gradual integration of the higher pattern is needed.

It is also a process that is overseen by the dimensional Beings who surround you all who are there to help and uplift and because it is a process that is known throughout Creation, there are always evolved Beings to assist the process.

D. And to ask them to assist us in this process, is it by saying that statement or is there another statement we can say? Not that I now connect with the higher state of consciousness – that if we really want their help and feel we need their help and support to allow ourselves to receive, how is it best for us to go about that? We who want to be there and want to awaken to it, want the knowledge and receive this information but are just not sure how? Is there simple help or advice on how to receive that?

L. It needs the openness in the pathways in consciousness and it is a method of connection. People use the term meditation. People use the word attunement. Every word that is used in language has an understanding with it that has been defined. So, everything that is expansive that will allow the senses to expand beyond the known limitations will allow the connections. It is a way of – we call it attunement or alignment – and that allows the energy to flow through. Not everyone will be comfortable with the knowledge of having a Being from another dimension with them, so it can be just spoken about as a state of consciousness and it is through that, that people often receive images, sensing, sounds, words. It is just simply connecting into the attunement – the energy spheres.

Again here we can talk about energy spheres and energy spheres are known as levels of consciousness or dimensional states of consciousness or simply dimensions. A dimension has a whole layer of existences and because Beings came to Earth to inhabit Earth as human beings, it was agreed, or known, that the conditions currently on Earth would define layers of awareness, or consciousness, and then there was the effort to expand because there was the very deep knowingness of higher dimensions and a very deep remembering of knowing that there was a higher evolutionary state that had been existed as.

This whole process is involved in restoring consciousness to an evolutionary state, that is sometimes referred to as returning home – going back to Source Energy – but on the way upliftment occurs and help occurs for everyone. There are definite spheres and dimensions integrated in all of this. Even planet Earth is in a particular sphere of dimension and that involves many states of understanding and many different realities, all existing at the same time as you are existing in your present reality and this is the one of course that you focus on to improve, to clear away resistances, and disturbances of the energetic systems that is a human being, and so you become a Light Being – a Being of Energy and Light and that is Information – all in one composition and presence.

When we speak about the Earth as being a particular dimension, as that expands and incorporates other dimensions then there are other opportunities offered to the Beings present on Earth to exist in different dimensions. This is a different aspect not primarily part of this issuance at this time.

For now, what has been given is enough to accelerate states of consciousness to present the pathway to people to pursue their own expansion and return to a more enlightened state and as that happens there will be noticeable improvements within the human physical unit and of course that is also thoughts and emotions. The thoughts and emotions impact upon the human form.

So as well as bringing energy and information in this way, there is the energy and information to correct certain pathways within the human energy element and in correcting that, there is the expansion and improvement and increase in vitality, energy, perception – many of those senses that are part of the normal blueprint for the body.

D. So as the blueprint of the body improves and energy improves then in turn it will help planet Earth as well survive?

L. Yes. You will see that happening. Your question already contains the knowledge and the answer because you know it, indeed. It is almost as if there is a seed within each intelligent being, creature – not just a human creature but other creatures as well that is partly connected with the Earth's energy composition and connected with what comes through the solar – sun energy and the messages coming through. It is almost like one element – one seed- contains the entire process. As people become aware of that, it changes what is happening around the planet.

D. You mentioned earlier about new cities being built. Is this actually within our Earth within our reality and time now?

L. There is the concept of the physical construction but at this time there appears to be not sufficiently expanded consciousness of people – of people with sufficiently expanded consciousness – to work with them successfully, but there is the existence of them in a higher evolved level and those ones who are aware of that are already existing in them and helping to bring them into physical sight, physical reality. It is known within many of the Beings who are aware of this and want to live in such an established civilisation to manifest it, so it could be seen as people being drawn in to create that.

D. Would that not create segregation around planet Earth?

L. In a sense this is correct, it does. It is not a judgement sense, but it is resonance, what you resonate with and people resonate with different ideals, concepts and states of living and of course it will be that way simply because of the different states of evolution. You may not ever see it unified as one state of consciousness on planet Earth. The intention that it is.

D. So the intention is that all Beings on planet Earth are in this state of consciousness in oneness, to be altogether, is that correct?

L. Yes to have a very balanced, radiant planet to exist in

D. So it is everyone's free will and what they decide to take on?

L. It is indeed. Some people have the strong belief that they come to Earth to suffer, to experience, to pay back, to reclaim, and that keeps them very busily engaged in an ongoing process of being confined to certain levels and those ones who realise that the pathway exists into the higher states of consciousness – well that again, you see, is the difference in states of consciousness.

D. Am I correct in saying that when people realise they are not here to suffer and they are here to learn, then they can simply evolve past that and clear whatever they need to clear to move onto their higher state of consciousness?

L. Correct. And the energy coming through exists around everybody but they are not yet ready to perceive it. They have their blinds down so they don't see it.

D. What is causing those blinds to be down, for them not to open up and see it?

L. Some of it is conditioning, some of it is their own belief, some of it is what they listen to from other people.

D. Would that have been choices they made before them came to Earth in this lifetime?

L. Yes many of those were choices, many of those were made such as vows and commitments.

D. These vows can be cleared within this lifetime, right?

L. Yes they can be cleared. There are opportunities given and ways given and you are aware of some of those ways to clear those ways. There are many ways to do it

D. Yes. There just has to be the choice of the individual.

L. Yes and when those are cleared, for many people they suddenly see that they can step out of the reality that they have been in, and then their energy field changes. They can feel the resonance, the pull, from the higher states of consciousness. We see it as a very beautiful expansion and opportunities offered to the Beings on Earth.

D. That leads me to the question that Lani had about the connection between the golden ratio and healing and clearing. Are you able to expand on that – is there a connection between the golden ratio and healing?

L. It is an integral, fundamental basis of energy construction. It is an influence pattern and it is a code of energy that contains minute energy filaments and each filament contains aspects that are necessary for whatever it can be constructed in. It is a perfect pattern of creation arising from – well you are familiar with galaxies and the patterns of galaxies and the rotational field within creations, even as Earth itself rotates. There is a pattern involved in everything and it is indeed a holistic pattern and in that way it can be referred to as healing. It can be changed and damaged, but if the surrounding energy field is open to the organised codes and frequencies of creation, then it is holistic again, it can be restored and changed back to the original ratio.

D. Is that golden ratio something that we need to be looking further into to help with healing?

L. It is enough to be aware that it exists as the perfect matrix or blueprint.

D. Is there a very simple way that you are able to explain that for those that don't know about it now, in the simple human level.

L. There is the perfect blueprint and people know what a plan is or a diagram. It is a whole concept.

D. So it is the perfect blueprint of Earth and creation?

L. For Earth, for everything that has been created, but on a much wider scale than just Earth. It exists throughout all of creation and it exists also as an energy field behind anything and everything that can be defined as a construction, or something to be created. There is a basis of energy information throughout source creation and that is what is and has been identified as this pattern that is called the golden ratio that links one dimension to another. Now, it has been defined and recognised in science as measured and identified within cells and places. It can also be and is also part of dimensions, as in terms of greater dimensions of consciousness, so that is difficult to bring forward as a simple wording. That is behind the whole terminology of the perfect blueprint.

D. The golden ratio – so is this what you use for healing when we do healing work in Quantum Healing [Quantum Healing Hypnosis Technique]

L. Yes. We refine it, we call upon energy frequency as such. If that energy field could be examined, it would be seen as filaments or codes and in turn that could be measured and the measurements would come back to the golden ratio. So, it is an infusion of energy, or light.

D. So when you say you are healing through light when we ask how you are doing the healing through the QHHT sessions that we do, that is really what it is?

L. Yes we are bringing through this perfect pattern

D. To return things back to their perfect state?

L. Yes, that is the underlying energy field and of course if it is necessary to change or move, then that is a different aspect to it, when we remove things that might have created blockages, for example.

D. Ok, wonderful. Another question we have is – is scalar energy in the energy machines the right energy for everyone?

L. Yes because that is part of what is known as the golden ratio. It is the same pattern and it is perceived by those who have extended their consciousness field to sense it. You at times may sense the change in energy. It is perceived in the human element as an expansion defined as all encompassing joy.

D. Beautiful, thank you.

L. And it can be incorporated into certain devices, you would say, but the devices have come about as a method of attracting the energy and of identifying the energy and of being able to put that out in such a way that it can be brought to the attention of the energy field around people, plants, objects – everything. It is a way of reflecting what is out in existence, everywhere, it is a way of identifying it and resonating with it. There has been a way to receive the energy and then use it in what is being used to receive it, and then to radiate it out. People, individuals, can do this themselves, once they realise that the energy that they are bringing through them is that which already exists, but in some measure has been deficient in the human body or in some other way, and so opening up the awareness of that allows it to be received, to be transferred to where it is needed.

D. Wonderful thank you. Your answers are like you are reading my mind with all the questions I have and in talking you are answering them, so thank you for that. I have been thinking about how do we bring that, transfer it like if we are walk into a room or another place where we would really like to help transfer that energy into the room, or clear energy back to a state where we are able to work with it.

L. Yes that is how it is done

D. That is how it is done, by bringing that intention and being aware of it, bringing it in.

L. Yes.

D. Now there is the pulsed electro magnetic field energy. Does this energy make some conditions worse, such as cancer, or anything? Can that energy make conditions worsen, illnesses?

L. It would depend on the frequency that is being projected or used identified. There is an electro magnetic pulse existing everywhere, within the earth, within the atmosphere, harnessed within devices, but it is also such that it can be created as a specific frequency.

D. And it can help heal?

L. Yes it is presently being used to facilitate healing. It does not create harm but it is just that the higher energy fields that we have been discussed are more appropriate for healing the body.

D. Ok. Can that energy field be used in machinery? Can that be passed on through machinery?

L. Yes.

D. Ok. Are you able to expand on that as to how it can be done?

L. We are speaking about different things here. We are speaking about what we were talking about the golden ratio healing energy. That surrounds everything. People have identified the pulsed electro magnetic field because it was able to be measured by instruments and then it was discerned that this could be very useful for the body, and the body does respond to it and has already been incorporated in devices. Then it was realised that there was another level involved also in the creation of that electro magnetic field and that was the higher energy of intention and the realisation that there is something more being sensed and used that was better for the human body as it evolves.

D. And what was that?

L. that is what is being defined as the scalar field energy. Both ways are being used successfully but the better way is the higher frequency which penetrates more deeply into the body systems and accepted within the seed element of the natural human energy systems. It is easily accepted into the cells and the tissue and into the energetic part of the DNA and that is not just in the human body form but is in all creatures and plants, yes indeed.

D. Is there a frequency number or level that the scalar energy is?

L. That also is inherent as part of the golden ratio.

D. Is there any kind of equation that you can give with that or a number or frequency?

L. This is present. It is an ongoing pattern, a repeated pattern and it is not being brought forth at this time as to the actual numbers.

D. Ok, it's a repeated pattern. Wonderful.

Is there anything else, other information that we can bring forth today, the energy frequencies, or any final words about them?

L. There is nothing more

D. There is nothing more coming. Is there anything that you had wished we had asked today about this information, anything that we could have asked that we are not aware of at this time, information that can be passed on?

L. There is information. There is the presence to be made known of a great number of Beings presently overseeing what is being introduced to the Earth, what is being talked about, what is being brought forth even in this way in this session. It is all being assisted and presented by a group of Beings, so we are just simply overseeing the process. So, in this way what is being given is what is needed in the current situations unfolding around Earth and it is prepared and brought forth in a sequence so that as each segment absorbed and understood, a pattern will be seen and the sequencing and the information being brought forward is another way of just assisting the expansion of people into the realisation of their real energy presence – of their forms not as body, but as energy. An energy Being. So part of the purpose of this is to awaken this to people and those of course are just beginning to want to expand and evolve and be better, then this is a simple way for them to get information. This is what the intention is and we are grateful for this opportunity to present it in this way to people.

D. Thank you. We are very grateful to hear the information.
