Issue 918
Date: June 7, 2018
Time 3 pm

It is time for me again to greet you and welcome you through the Omega Communications Portal for another session, so make yourself comfortable as you enter into this space and I draw us all together into the receiving area of the Station of Light again.

So already we have begun. We have begun because I connected with the Station of Light and Commander Orem and requested entrance to the Station for this little time that we join together again in our inner journey.

Are you present here already in your body of light? Make it real. Feel it, because your body of light is already filled with the energy and information you have received on your various journeys into this space and it has all of that available for you to integrate it. Your body of light here today again will be absorbing a different aspect, a different energy.

“Orem coming to you again, Beloved, with the energy, with a welcome to you all .

I also observe the changes, I also observe irregularities that may sometimes appear in your energy systems and I also am able to determine the best pathway for you to be upon in this journey today, in this session, and therefore you will find that some of the information will relate to you personally, individually and some will be applicable to a larger group. This will indicate to you that we address you on multi levels.

To begin this session with you at this time, in your time, we are moving in a sequence of steps with you. Previously we have covered experiences within the Earth, within the oceans, within the City of Light and many of you also have been taken to be with the energy in different locations around the planet in our sessions. All of this is part of your experience. In doing it this way, there may not be the necessity for you to travel across the surface of the planet to visit some of those locations. Connecting with energy is sufficient.

In connecting in this way from a higher dimensional aspect, you are able to change the pattern of the energy that is associated with some of those particular areas that you have been drawn to and you may also observe what is around some of those places. Some of the higher energy patterns are not accessible in the normal physical travelling. Many have been covered with undergrowth, tree patterns, water, or shielded from the public's eye because of some other dependency and also because the areas could be disturbed by vast numbers of people travelling to some areas.

We are concerned with the energy connections in many places around the planet and in this moment you may feel that you are being linked into a vast connected network from an area within your body of light and your physicality.

So, this central connection will be showing you a different type of map, or network grid, visible, so that you understand that some of these energy systems also will change as you change your energy field and see them and sense them in a different way.

In bringing this to your attention as part of this session, it is also indicated that the energy that you have and that you are connecting with in this time is putting an overlay of energy into all of these central energy places that need it, to harmonise. There needs to be a certain frequency which can be perceived in a layer encircling the planet and this level of energy frequency was needed to be balanced and established and cleared so that it is emitting that frequency range and the purpose of that is for visitations to the planet to perceive that it has been established and following that, there will be the need for another phase of expansion to occur.

The Observer Beings who are perceiving what we are bringing to you and asking of you to do in this session, have been needing this balancing and connection. You could liken it to a layer of smooth, silky, or oily layer all around the planet and that contains many of the seed signals that individual Beings need. There are many Beings who live in isolation and do not have the facility to tune into messages such as this, or to news items, because they choose to shield themselves from information patterns that are compiled on a whole series of events and usually have a disturbance contained within those items of information. The ones who shield themselves from all of that will be receiving this layer that you are connecting with and balancing and holding in place for the energy linkup from other dimensional Beings that the Observers have, and they bring in other Beings and it is also for them to understand that there has been sufficient number of the human lifeforms who have willingly participated in this process, that indicates to them that there are strong numbers of Beings on Earth ready to step into the higher energy frequency.

For many people - for many of you listening - it may seem this has been continuing for too long - for such a long time that it becomes troublesome because you have not achieved the results that you were expecting to achieve. As part of that, we need to assure you that there are many layers involved in every process of change and evolutionary expansion. Step by step. It is a sequence pattern that is unfolding and today's particular purpose was to do with this connection of all of those energy centres around the planet.

Many people will be responding to this energy, which they may perceive vibrating through them and they will respond to it in a natural way, because their whole energy system is prepared and ready to resonate with that energy frequency layer. This will activate certain responses in them, as if they will suddenly realise they have been waiting for a trigger point to occur and then they will remember much more of the energy that they hold, that they can bring in also to the planet, as part of a greater plan.

Many people need to know that they have a purpose for being present on the planet and it is part of a plan and they participated in that creation of that plan before entry into this life pattern, and for some people it is before entry into several different life patterns. It is useful to focus just within this current life pattern that you have become immersed in and you recognise the opportunities given to you in different places which have given you the impulse to reach out in different ways, or to bring to you specific energy information such as this which is coming forth to you in this present time.

Feel that you are very secure in your connections here and feel that the energy connections of this transmission have given you more energy.

Your light body will feel it has taken into it more light, more frequency patterns. In turn, this gives rise to a sense of busyness and action and a clear focus, clear attention to what comes into your life.

Now, it is considered that this is sufficient at this time, that we have spoken about it in many different ways and you will remember this. You may feel that you are tapping into that layer of energy frequency around the planet. It is a very cohesive pattern of energy and you would feel in your body that it will be working in such a way that it enables you to be free of minor discords, minor patterns.

Experience this now that you are within this energy field frequency and let go of yourself and your body. Observe. Sense. Feel. Know that what you are immersed in is creating a levelling out of some of the energy systems in you and it also may seem that there is a different layer of energy around you which is part of the layer of energy around the planet, connected into the same frequency bandwidth.

You will be able to use this if it is your intention to communicate with the Observer Beings and with those who have been assigned to assist you in many of the tasks and creations you have around you. It is a steady advancement which is occurring.

That is now done, so I bring your awareness back to your presence in the receiving area of the Station. Part of you may be enveloping the planet and yourself in this layer of energy. It is pulling in energy from other vectors within the universe who are observing planet Earth. The energy is matched seamlessly.

Now, in delivering you back in your body of light here, I withdraw my presence from around you as you integrate what you have experienced.

Orem out

Acknowledged Commander Orem, and thank you.

This is Lani again and I find myself drawn to you and observing you as if I am the one who is checking up at the present time to see that you understood this and to see if you have that beautiful layer of energy around you. You may be able to sense that as a colour, or in some other way, and it must have been important for us to receive this today and to participate in the linkup around the planet of this energy frequency layer.

That is all, so now it is time to reconnect fully back into your physical body and this life pattern that you have created, so feel that you are firmly grounded again on the Earth's surface and become aware of your body and how it feels following this transmission, and be aware of the location, the day and the time - the present moment - every time you revisit this transmission.

Thank you everybody, and I end this transmission through the Omega Portal
