Issue 919

Date: June 14, 2018

Time 4.30 pm

As I open the Omega Communications Portal today, I want you to remember that these journeys serve to bring you into attunement with your purpose, and through attuning to your purpose you are permitted to come into this receiving area of the Station of Light and you also are able to adapt to the higher frequency.

This is how I open this session today, as I welcome you and I ask you to open yourself, to let go of all your thoughts of your busy day, everything that might have been filling your mind to do with everyday tasks or things that might have been concerning you.

When your mind is open and free, your emotions are balanced and you are more able to access the level of the higher state of your consciousness. Let's do this today in this session.

I withdraw to allow the information and energy to come through to you today.

“Welcome, indeed, Beloved, each and every one of you who have come forward in this way.

Orem addressing you, and as we move amongst you today and encompass you in the energy field available to you, we again assess what you have brought in with you and we assess that which you are willing to reveal to us as your deepest, innermost, feelings and the feelings, of course, have come from what you have been experiencing and how you have reacted to the experiences.

Because you are a multi layered and multi faceted interdimensional Being, in this space we are able to observe those multi layers of you and in observation, there are certain adjustments that can be made. You are allowing that to take place and in a deeper aspect of yourself, you are doing it yourself. You are coming forward to assist you in this time.

There is always change and you are aware of changes happening and you might be expecting to observe changes happening, in a wide range of matters concerning your physicality and concerning what happens around Earth planet station.

We would bring to your attention and remind you of course, because you already know this, that you are creating many of the changes. When you connect with the highest aspect of yourself, you are able to restore a certain frequency pattern which re-modulates what is happening within you into harmony and your harmonic energy resonates with different layers through the dimensions that are available to you. When you are in alignment with and resonating with that higher pattern, it influences what you do physically and what you think physically. It can influence you to avoid stepping into a puddle. That is the deepest physicality functioning that we can liken it to, and it will also give you the energy to avoid that puddle.

This is what you are doing for you. What we are doing for you is to help you realise that and to gently uplift you into a condition where you sense and receive the higher order and plan, and we have referred to this in the previous transmission.

Simply - it is the way for you to divest yourself for this time we are together, of what you are at present on the Earth plane - and we recognise the energy system that you are and everything that you attract to you in an energy field resonance, and in this space, because you are upheld in a higher frequency, you are drawing to you the energy around you that supports you and enables you to embrace the dimensional frequency which is the direction that the planet is being impelled in, and it allows you to embrace that energy field.

You have already accumulated vast experiences through all of your energy journeys and those experiences have helped you to maintain some stability around you and have helped you to reach out to support other ones around you and also, the experiences have helped you to recognise what relates simply to a physical environment of the planet and helps you to orient yourself into that other phase we refer to within the Earth Light City. This has been surrounding you. Have you realised that? Have you consciously stepped forward into the energy system of that?

We have referred to, in different sessions, moving you to the edge of your consciousness field, which means you embrace the next step that may not be clearly defined to you, because you are unwrapping something new. You are unfolding to that and stepping into more conscious connection with the Earth Light City is similar to that. You may expect it to have significant impact on all aspects of that which is known as you in the Earth plane.

You may be experiencing the sense of that energy through you, as this is brought to your attention through the words. You will be finding that you can explore how that may affect you and your intention of connecting into that higher field of energy.

When you are connected into that, it will not matter what may disturb the physical placement of the planet, because you will be functioning and receiving on that higher energy pattern. You may see that already in your lifestyle, with people who may feel they are surrounded in experiences that disturb them, or disturb others and yet you, yourself, are not disturbed by those experiences. This is the result of you consciously connecting to the frequency patterns that are available to you through the dimensional gateways and pathways.

In addressing you in these sessions, you also are embracing everything that has come to your awareness and attention, that specifically comes to your attention through news media. What comes to your attention through your inner visions and senses may be quite different, and is indeed different from the outer experience. You have chosen to experience what is offered in this way in the greater dimensional connection.

Always there is organisation happening and activities to help give suggestions to people, to awaken them, and to help the connection that everyone needs to have to Source Creation in the varying levels that are available to each one. So, this is a very stabilising energy system for you to be experiencing.

You may be aware at this moment that you are engaging in various activities within the Station of Light. There are activities concerned with the plant life that is around you and there are other activities involved in working with the energy rays coming through your light patterns and the atmosphere, and there are other activities continuing with the alteration of the pattern within water. There are other groups of activities concerned with the upkeep of the patterns of energy for the physical bodies and there are other aspects of groups commissioned and working in ways connected with land patterns and bringing together a unified sense of consciousness, of support.

You may have been identifying with a particular aspect of one of those situations in the Station and perhaps communicating with different aspects of yourself drawn into this same space.

Each of you who are present here represent certain types that have existed on Earth - the type of individuality - of how you perceive what is happening, how you react to different happenings, and all of that, in the assessment, is able to be taken into study and analysed and where appropriate, information can be fed back into you. This does not mean that there is a controlled type of engineering of you - it is assistance to be given to you and it necessitates, individually, your response to that. The higher aspects of yourself understand what is needed and already accepts the adjustments and information, so when you are able to connect with that and give permission for all of the energy to assist you, then it happens, and you can always trust yourself.

We are withdrawing you now from all of those areas in the Station to bring you back consciously aware within the receiving area. Already you will find that this is expanding so that you realise you need to be drawn back into your physical aspect.

We do acknowledge that there is a level of satisfaction in your progress and we experience that. I acknowledge that in you. I appreciate this. I see the increased energy field around you, and with that I experience the sense of joy, for we see that there has been achieved that which was the intention of this session.

Continue with your alignment with the higher aspects of you.

Orem out “

Again, this is Lani and I do thank you, Orem, for that.

We come into this space perhaps with certain expectations and always there is something different given - perhaps an expansion, slightly more information - in-forming us with energy!

So, take this into you consciously now and bring yourself back to connect completely into your physicality.

Love this life that you are living, that you are creating. Love yourself in every way and that allows that immense joy to fill you.

Again I thank you for being here with me.

This transmission concludes and I close the Omega Portal. Do make sure you are fully present, grounded again on Earth.
