Time 5 pm

Hello again, as I open this Omega Communications Portal and this allows the energy transmission to already begin. It is as if the Beings on the Station of Light are waiting for me to open myself to connect with you - so, let's do it.

Focus your attention on my voice and be with me as I move into the receiving area of the Station of Light. I understand that many of you prefer to go to different places and of course, you will grow, you will get your own information them, but these sessions just simply bring you into this single receiving space to be with other Beings such as yourself, or from other dimensions, and for the continuation of the flow of energy and information. This all assists all of us, in many different ways, in our lifestyle, in our inner worlds and in that great sense of knowing that there is a wonderful purpose for being present on the Earth planet at this time. Because I have been talking to you for a few moments, your attention will be here in the receiving area, and I open to link in with the Beings on the Station of Light here and they will introduce themselves to you.

"We welcome you into this space Beloved Beings. This is Orem addressing you again in this time and insofar as you have been experiencing changes, then you also have the mind-querying situation of what is really happening.

We will attempt to move you into different spaces in this session for you to understand and realise the movements which are happening and the effect of the movements. There are many different dimensions to speak about in relation to that movement, so we will be delivering the information to you in a way that will cover many different layers within the dimension.

In some respects you could be observed as code, as simple energy fractions and energy shapes and pulses and colours, although on the Earth plane you would identify yourself as flesh and blood and skin and thoughts and emotions. All of those in this situation where you are with us, are all observed in an energy perception and thus it is we are able to assess the energy and observe what changes have taken place since you last came into this area.

We do acknowledge that not all of you are regular participants in these sessions. That is not so much relevant at this time. What is relevant is that you are present here receiving this energy transmission for you. Some of this energy you are receiving is also identifying pockets of information that you brought in with your energy field, which are not suitable to help you progress into a higher frequency, so part of your presence in the receiving area is to identify the pockets of energy and to clear them from you as you allow that process to happen, because of course, you are not being given the definition of what they are. They will relate to many different scenarios that you go through on the Earth plane and as such, some of those are not particularly helpful to the process of engaging the stream of energy referred to as upliftment and expansion of consciousness.

They may be thought patterns, they may be elements you have taken into your physical body which show up in the energy field as disruptive influences, and they may be other vehicles of disturbance.

It is an easy way to put this to you, that as you move forward with us, you go through a ray of light which clears your energy field. You can use this particular process in your daily life when you establish a space where you are residing that you can put these same energy signatures into, for the same purpose.

Continuing, we also are now able to identify those of you who are consciously communicating with other levels of interaction with Beings who come through this Station - the Station being an intermediary space for connection to you. This is necessary because some of the Beings who come forward to communicate with you could not exist alongside you on the Earth planet system as it is currently in its experience and so this Station of Light is the perfect vehicle to allow you to enter into this space and share communication and a close association with the Beings who come to assist you. Experience this.

Are you aware of Beings around you, communicating with you at this time, helping you to understand why it is that there can be a sudden appearance around you of a disturbance and likewise there can be a sudden disappearance of a disturbance and there can also be the situation that you have shifted into another space time dimension or another parallel reality around you and this may be for a moment, or it may be an extension of that as you measure time. The experiencing of a momentarily shift into a different space presents you into that space where you are able to absorb what is offered to you in that space.

The presentation of you into such a space can be organised through a higher functioning aspect of yourself, giving you that opportunity and assistance.

You are allowing yourself to be free and to choose some relative aspect of experiences or situations, some of which would appear to you that you are continuing in another life pattern, all to do with integrating energy, or collecting information, or perhaps sharing a higher aspect of information to other Beings. You will be relating to a particular aspect of what we are speaking to you about in this presentation.

You will realise also that regardless of the specific words that are given to you, you are adapting to the energy around you in this sphere, so for whatever reason that you may identify as an individual that you have a need for something more, then this is the phase that you can draw this into you.

We are also moving you at this time well beyond the influence of what is affecting the Earth planet currently. This is different flows of intense energy that is being emitted and shared into the vector area around the planet and there is also the awareness to give to you that the planet itself is shifting. Some of you are experiencing this in yourself - you feel the edge of your energy field is shifting, therefore shifting you in some manner into a different perceptive state. Of course all of this happens when you allow it to be so and when you remember that there is a deeper aspect of you currently functioning and working in a different way to what you may expect to be working in a different existence such as the Earth Light City. But even in this present transmission experience today you may be beyond all of that into a different situation. This situation may help you to engage the assistance of other groups of Beings. There are panels, or groups of Beings generally referred to as Councils, who engage your energy field into other groups to share the information and to actively change some pockets of energy. This is only for those of you who have a particular informational network which will be able to connect into what is needed, into the overall grid system of patterning of Creation.

This may be stretching your understanding a little, because you will be thinking of yourself functioning in the human body, but yet you are definitely connected into and functioning in a vastly different existence. It is just a different aspect of you yet to be realised by you. You, in another aspect, sent you, or allowed you, to come forth in the Earth plane at this time.

Along with this information, do not try to be figuring out other lifetimes. What is applicable to you now is what you are receiving now, currently. That is important, because you will be gathering all of the energy and information you need as you progress in this time when you are consciously moving forward out of the controlled, constructed, energy system on Earth, even though that can be very great and wonderous, it is still controlled and created. As you do progress and absorb more of the higher energy frequency pattern and realisations of the greater universe, then you bring that back into the created matrix around the Earth plane, and it changes it, it shifts it, because your perception shifts and changes.

All that we are presenting to you is to help you be very comfortable in your higher energy body that is part of the physical unit existence, and also you will be then expressing the higher frequency patterns. You are experiencing influences generally around you and this particular transmission has helped you to be outside of those influences into the harmonics that create the resonating energy field around you, promoting stable situations in and around you. Those particular stable situations respond to the higher energy pattern coming through all of the dimensional spaces around the Earth space. So, you will feel this initially activating spaces in your upper chest and filling all of you, all aspects of you, with the perfect energy that is you - being retuned back into that state of resonating energy field with Source Creation. Anything else that is needed in way of information will come to you quite naturally and easily.

In reconnecting you to that great Source, the purpose of this transmission is fulfilled and we make sure you are now consciously present in the receiving area. This is a recurring pattern that we bring to you to support you. Some of you are aware of this pattern on entry into the Earth plane [your birth] and then as the created conditions enveloped you, you were separated from the full awareness of it and many of you have been using many years to reconnect with this. It does create an overall supporting network around the planet, clearly visible in other sensory ways.

So this is complete and I withdraw now

Orem out

Lani speaking again and so at this time I gather you around me again in this space, as I also refocus into the receiving area with you. You will be filled with all of that reconnective energy and you will be responding to the information that you have been experiencing and so it is now time to bring all of this back into your body, completely integrating it now into your body, because I feel that you are able to fully integrate it all consciously, whereas in previous transmissions it had been seen that it would be a slow integration through the various layers of your light body, in a gentle way, so obviously you have achieved a certain amount of clearness that allows you to remember and take all of this into you.

It is now that I close the Omega Portal, as this transmission is complete, and again, please make sure you are fully conscious, fully present in the present moment. Thank you.

It may seem that I bring you back very quickly, but you are capable of saying right now, with this deep breath I take now, I am fully aware, alert and connected. And so it is. Thank you.

Lani
