Issue 926

Date: August 2, 2018

Time 2.30 pm

I have opened the Omega Portal to you today, calling you into this space with me, so that we will continue to experience being within a higher dimensional energy field and whatever that will reveal to us. Therefore, you need to devote the time that you are receiving this message to being here, to being present in this energy space, putting aside all thoughts, any disturbances that may have been around you, for this time and enjoy being here with me in the receiving area of this Station of Light.

Already it has begun. Already the message and the attention of the higher Beings present here is around you and now I open myself to allow the energy and information to come through me.

“Indeed it is such that the energy presented in this way does come through a channel, just as you would dial into a specific channel frequency to receive a pattern for you

So, as Orem, being the focus for this Council of Light here has come through the channel you are receiving through, it becomes clearer as you identify the energy in this space specifically attuned to you. You have attuned yourself to this frequency and this is why you are here with us at this time.

We continue to expand your awareness of what is around you currently in your time space reality in the physicality and also in this altered dimensional locality and in the spatial coordinates that you come into in this space. And for you to really experience this, it does depend on your willingness to allow any restrictions to drop away from you and those include the manner in which you would receive the information and energy and your perception of how it is delivered to you, so you become a free expression of energy receptivity. This allows you to come forward deeper with us within this Station here at this time.

You will be aware of shifting energy around you and perhaps many of you have been disturbed by the waves of intense energy frequency patterns and many others of you have been highly energised by them. In this space momentarily you are receiving the frequency pattern which will balance your sensitivities and therefore you will be experiencing travelling further within this energy transmission than you have perhaps experienced during other sessions and the travelling means that you have identified a particular energy pattern, or sphere, in which you are enclosed and the purpose of this is to put you into another dimensional reality.

There are many gatherings and meetings and as we have you realise this and you realise your capacity to be in such spaces, the information coming through to you is going to reveal the understanding of the whole connected network of these energy areas that are focused around your particular planet at this time. The focused intention and support is to draw away the pattern that had been accumulated around you, around many of the energy systems that have been created to energise and give you the appliances and productivity in your civilisation and there are many of you who realise that there is needed to be again another step up into different ways of measuring energy frequency, receiving it, delivering it, so many of the meetings that you are coming into with the groups here will be giving to you the concepts of how to initiate your connection into the next phase. There are many different groups delivering this to you and there will be a variety of ways which you will understand you can utilise.

This relates again to your resonating pattern moving into the field of energy presented by specific groupings. Some of this relates to your first purpose and causation for coming into the Earth plane at this time. Therefore, you are reconnecting with the ways that you were using energy in that first causation space and the concept of that and the ways of doing it is directly impressing upon your conscious awareness the new activity, the new way to use directly in your individual living space.

Firstly, of course, the energy must be experienced and that is the purpose of you being drawn into the specific groupings, for they will help you experience it and integrate it, in accordance with what your light body energy can absorb and then can allow it to be transformed into elements within your physicality at present. Be aware that you are placed here, enveloped in sequences of unfoldments to you. There will be patterns you will be sensing moving around you, moving within your light body pattern, because you see that is visible as a pattern of energy connections, communication devices, although the device is an energy point or connection loosely called nodes, and this allows you to be receiving the exact pattern vibration for you at this time. This is the prime purpose for bringing you into this space in this session today - to receive this.

There has been the inter-dimensional portals aligned so that you can clearly be part of this greater collective working with the energy matrix surrounding the planet to create this next phase of energy.

Many of you will be aware that you are not the actual manufacturer or creator of specific energy field devices but because you are receiving the clear pattern of energy within your own systems, then those who can work with that will be accessing it also through what you are bringing into that overlaying energy consciousness grid.

You are already aware that there needs to be a shift away from how the civilisation has utilised various energy devices and methods and this includes energy devices and methods having a direct impact on your physical cells and nourishment. You are ready, because you have initiated your connection into the higher energy field frequency.

Within your connections to that original causality and origination station, and in that, regardless of whatever community you were engaged in and acting in, it is the highest point of information that you function as - yes, you were an information Being functioning as energy - and many of you were drawn from that space into what you are experiencing in the current phase around you, working together. Those of you who are consciously working in this way are creating the energy level for ones who are developing and evolving in the early stages of their physical development to also participate in this in another wave of expansion. What you are experiencing here is likened in your language to being able to take in a big breath of pure energy light, of quite a different substance, and you are ready for it.

All during this deliverance to you, you have been experiencing this energy, so I am calling you back now for you to bring this back with you consciously into the Station of Light, functioning above the Earth, well above Earth and its satellites.

The time measurement of yours taken to deliver what you have experienced allowed you to be free of actual time and when you are free of the Earth time measurement, you are able to expand and integrate a great deal more than you can in the measurement of the few minutes that have elapsed.

You will have experienced how you were existing in that original station and you will also have experienced being present in this Station of Light and working in this space, simply by being consciously present and connected in with those Beings present here and the constant movement and exchange of information.

Bring this around you as if you are in an inter-dimensional field - a sphere around you. We continue to express these energy systems to you as spheres, simply because your energy field around you can sustain what is given to you in the particular sphere - whether it is purely for communication, or whether it is for experiencing life in other realities, or whether it is simply to enhance your present physicality or timeline, it is presented to you in the most appropriate space for what is needed. So be aware now that you are bringing this back into the receiving area of the Station, containing everything that is appropriate for you as an individual Being in this space.

This is my presentation to you at this time and we will call you forth again to be present here for the variations and the upscaling of the pattern presented to you and in various other forms that may be appropriate in the particular sessions. This is done and I withdraw now

Orem out

“Ulea coming to you now Dear Ones and it is very pleasing to observe how you have responded to what you experienced within these different spheres in this session and I am around you, observing you, making any adjustments that are necessary and there may be adjustments. Perhaps you feel that within you now, and with that complete I am able to accompany you back to your individual physical form and location. This is because you could observe me as multi-dimensional. There are many aspects in the energy systems, just as you experience being in other spaces even though you may be physically located in a particular place.

It is necessary to maintain the awareness of where your physicality is located during any extra dimensional visitation. This is so that you will come directly back into the physicality, which is where your focus and attention is designed to be.

You have again achieved expansion and integration in this session. I leave this with you now, Dear One, and all of this will continue to unfold for you.

Ulea out

Lani back again, and I give my thanks to Ulea and Orem and all the other Beings, and just in this moment I have a flash of seeing me here on Earth and there are many of you all around me, physically grounded, physically here in your body, in your personality, in this which we have a name and body. I enjoy sharing these sessions with you and personally when I listen to them each day, I receive a bit more and possibly that helps me in the presentation of all of this to you.

Now it is time to take a deep breath in and as you breathe out, feel that you are fully back, grounded, fully present in your body as they want you to be and aware of your location and the time and day.

Remember the energy sphere that you are surrounded in and which you can use, all around you. Some of you might call it protection - but what do you need protection from? It simply strengthens your own energy and as they said, you can draw on it for your health, or for inspiration for this new way of using energy and perhaps in other ways - creativity coming through you. It is lovely to experience it.

Now I close the Omega Portal on this transmission and again, please make sure you are fully focused back, in the present moment, wherever you are. Thanks a lot for being with me here
