Issue 927

Date: August 9, 2018

Time 3 pm

Again it is time for me to open the Omega Communications Portal and link with you and draw you in with me, into the receiving area of the Station of Light so that the next wave of energy and information will surround you and will bring to you everything that you need at this present time. You are energy and everything is energy and it is energy that we focus upon in these sessions in particular, although the energy will come forward as Beings and information. It is all a great unfolding pattern which appears to be unfolding you and each one of us, as we continue the process of linking in during these sessions. Already the energy has shifted.

“I come into this space and greet you, Beloved. Orem addressing you and indeed in this time there is a further linkup and continuation of the energy field which expands around you and in that way, your energy field connects with the expanding field around you and so your energy field expands.

The energy field of the Earth Being expands and thus it is important for you to recognise that expansion and to allow yourself to change. To change indicates that you must move or make some adjustment, some shift, and of course the shift in consciousness is all about you making the intention and the intentional move to expand and to allow yourself to release what is inhibiting you from expanding further into conscious knowingness, conscious perception.

You already will be experiencing this as these words are delivered to you and the words have that purpose. The words imply that you have learned this language and understand the symbology of the language and we use the symbolic language and the energy field to also expand what you are receiving, and you will be perceiving different layers and structures within the pattern of the words and the information contained in the flow of that pattern of energy.

Perhaps this takes away your belief system that words are necessary and you might believe that words limit and you might also believe that words absolutely define the knowledge. This is partly why this energy system is available to you, to come into this altered dimensional space, altered consciousness space for you, to experience the energy field around you and it is your choice. You can choose to use this energy to fill your body of light in its presence here and thus to make continual adjustments within your physicality, including your emotional energy field and the thought patterns affecting that. Multi layers are incorporated in everything that you experience in this space.

Moving you deeper now, as you relax and you have integrated the initial energy field you are surrounded in here, you now are able to come deeper into that aspect connecting you as your higher light being self, into the crystalline Earth light city. In this space you have sufficient recognition of what is evident to you here for you to actively feel you are drawn into certain processes in this space. You will be aware that there is the unfolding process. There is also the process that engages the energy field of those Beings who are seeking more understanding of this, to be drawn into this space and therefore some of them will be having intuitive glimpses of what this is. Perhaps they see pictures and images, perhaps they see shapes or energy fields, all representing what this dimension is. As you explore that yourself, then you become aware of your presence and your interaction in different areas in this overall dimensional existence.

You may be experiencing also that you are gathering in much of the energy you perceive around you in this space, and that is for you to take back into your physicality at the close of this session. Presently here in this moment you will be experiencing sensations in your light body as you reconnect with many of the Beings here and already many of those Beings have become familiar to you and have also connected in from wherever they exist in other dimensions beyond Earth space and in this way again, many of these Beings will familiarise themselves with your energy field. If it becomes apparent that you can assist in the process that they are engaged in to do with the upliftment and expansion of Earth, then they will come through and communicate with you in some way. It is not able to be defined, because there are many variables and many adjustments needed. This is just to advise you that this may happen for you, or it may be applicable to other Beings present there.

Now, coming back from that into one of the communication rooms within the Station of Light you also are engaged in drawing in certain elements that are necessary to come into manifestation in your current civilisation. This is you helping the civilisation to evolve and you will be drawing in some elements which you may be able to share with specific people. All of you are engaged in this process in some way, because you all chose to come into existence in the current life phase of planet Earth for this purpose.

The more that you realise and accept that, then the more energy you can attract to you and through you to help the process. Some of the processes are alignment processes, alignment of particular individuals with their original purpose, alignment of the planet in its ongoing expansion direction and this is of course aligned with dimensional portals which you may be experiencing yourself as these words are delivered. If you do perceive that and you are drawn through those portals, then you are reconnecting with aspects of self that remain in existence elsewhere - a higher pattern of energy - and they are working with you.

Again, draw all of this into you for the present. In the present there is a gathering momentum of the number of people connected into the overlaying network grid surrounding the planet, understanding that they are participating in this energy network, which is vital for your individual experience and for the group consciousness experience you are connected in with and it is distributing this pattern, offering opportunities to every Being on the planet.

There can be precise alignment and opportunities taken of those alignments for people to already have elevated themselves and are already participating in a highly evolved creation for Earth, without particularly realising it, because in the engagement in the energy field it becomes natural and normal. For some people, it may become apparent if they have changed their lifestyle to bring it into alignment with this patterning that allows higher energy and information to come through to you in a supportive manner, supporting everybody and leaving behind the disturbances which manifest in different ways, in different layers within the consciousness of the planet. Therefore, whatever you focus upon with your intentions, you will be drawing to you. If your intention is to focus and connect with higher evolved aspects of yourself, this will help you and in everything you are doing in your daily activities.

We recognise the sense that many of you have to create perfection, what you consider to be perfection. This of course must originate within your own being and your state of awareness and consciousness and when that is realised, that is the perfection. Many of you are creating and manifesting those creations. Are they coming from your state of perfection? We give these energy impulses to you as assistance. It does not mean you are driven to follow exactly what is given. You know when you are connected and fully aligned with the higher self consciousness and it all flows from there.

This is not intended to be a lecture to you. This is all about helping you to receive the state of energy that exists in this Station. Experiencing that may give you the sense of upliftment and may impel you to align yourself to a greater degree than you have been doing. It is also to have you experience the connections in the greater area of conscious existence which means that you have a greater connection with other galactic Beings and those who come forward to connect with you and mingle with you in many places within the Station of Light. You are assimilating those energy fields which are familiar to you.

We continue to assess your energy field structure and how it relates to what is occurring physically in your cells and the energy pattern is also making minor adjustments throughout you, increasing your energy level. There continues to be the aspects of your reality around you physically which you become engaged in which changes this higher energy field. Again, from this space we are able to surround you in the energy field to maintain the strengthening pattern within you. You are experiencing this.

Bring this back with you into the initial receiving area where we began this communication and I withdraw from you now, Beloved

Orem out “

“I am Ulea, again with you for a few moments, checking you again. Are you maintaining this energy field around you? Are you aware of the change in your light body as you are present here? And are you filled with that which you would identify as joy which arises from that complete connection to the higher self aspect of you, continuing to link with you to assist you? This is necessary also, because you are still experiencing strong magnetic field influences around you physically on the planet and the purpose of this sphere of energy given to you is to help you maintain a higher connection, above any residual disturbances that may occur.

It is appropriate now to assist you to reconnect with your physical body and this I am able to facilitate for you.

Ulea out “

Lani speaking again and I acknowledge all of this lovely assistance given to us by Ulea and Commander Orem and you may have been in contact with many other Beings in this session, personally presenting themselves to you. It is the end of this session now through the Omega Portal, so I would ask you to consciously and immediately make sure you are fully connected again in your physical body and surroundings. You may have that wonderful feeling that although you are physically connected, the awareness of your energy self extends over a very wide area, above and around and beneath you and remember also that you are connected with that wonderful energy matrix field surrounding the entire planet. And this surrounds you.

I have the strong sense that any physical or emotional disturbance is seen as the energy grid that just needs adjustment and some of this is what Ulea does when she makes her presence known to you and assesses what is going on with you. That is wonderful. Now take a deep breath in, open your eyes, be fully present, in the present moment - that is the greatest space to be in - fully conscious. And So It Is. Thank you.
