Time 3 pm

Today's transmission coming through the Omega Communications Portal.

Today, as usual, I reach out to connect with you, just when you are ready to be drawn together into the receiving area of the Station of Light. There is the aspect of you separate to your body, separate even to your emotions and your thoughts which allows you to be in this light energy Station and of course, the initial space is labelled the receiving area. In this space it is a transition space. It allows you to let go of your activities of the day and to assemble here, open heartedly and with an open mind so that you will perceive the next line of energy and information coming to you. It is everything that is appropriate for you to recognise which will come to you individually in these gatherings and that happens around and within what the extra-dimensional Beings will bring to you in this space.

Here it is, I allow the connection to be stronger so that the Beings will come through to us clearly.

“This is all that is required. It is sufficient preparation for you to be adjusting to the energy pattern in this space and to perceive us as we come around you.

Commander Orem addressing you and in particular, I am aligning each one of you into a pattern, you might perceive this as specific groups and the groups are, as it were, a pattern representing the intentions and the particular energy frequencies that you each are, even in your energetic light forms here, and those energetic light forms create the pattern around you and throughout you of your physicality, in your daily activities, your daily residences and the daily pathways you travel. These are significant also in this gathering because the patterning indicates the level of receptivity you have to the incoming waves and fields of energy, of light surrounding this planet, but emanating from a much deeper aspect of Creation.

We would talk about the planet you exist on at present as a physical entity and as an energy pattern, for when you can perceive everything in an energy pattern and your awareness is such that you perceive yourself as an energy pattern, then you will also perceive groupings of energy patterns throughout layers of consciousness fields and these are dimensional fields and spheres and Earth sphere has its own dimensional aspect visible from elsewhere existing perceivers within different aspects of energy spheres.

We bring this to you in this way outside of your common phrases and labels of particular planets or galaxies or star systems and all of those are energy systems.

You are moving into a different time portal. We referred to time in the previous transmission to you.

In this regard, the aspect of the time portal changes the patterning within you, within your light energy system and we are using the word time in such a way that we engage your senses and your memory and your thoughts and the memories which are contained within your energetic pattern.

The time we refer to are the connections occurring in the overall energy matrix field surrounding you and in this particular energy system we are surrounding you in today, then you are being correctly attuned in the right time dimension and time portals for you to release more of the bindings that have connected you fully into the Earth matrix and releasing those allows you to become more aware of the other fields and frequencies around you. This is necessary for the adjustment of the energy patterns throughout you.

You are having an impact on the energy systems of the planet you are existing within and around and because we are removing you from the actual bindings and connections into that energy matrix, you are able to become that energetic Light Being which you are. Of course, this reminds you of that state of energetic existence before you entered into the Earth life form. There is emphasis on this, because the importance of it relates to how you engage the light coming into you through this portal and the light is necessary for you to also inform your physicality of the changes happening.

In a moment, when you are finely attuned to the energy field, you are able to change the cellular activity within your body so that it connects fully into the energetic DNA that is functioning already in pockets of existence within your consciousness and this is expanding and is assisting you with new creations. There is the resonating effect occurring here within your light energy existence and presence, which has already resonated with the higher energy field, and there is also resonance occurring throughout your physical body.

Everything of this has an imprint, has a pattern. The pattern is the imprint already within your light energy body and is available for the connection into your physical form.

You may feel that having your physical form means you have, as a necessity, to experience many disorders, but the energetic change over-rides the effect of the collective consciousness and balances out many of your energy systems. In the balanced state you are strong. It is similar to when you experience yourself in this state as an energy system, totally supported, change happens. The manifestation of the higher pattern influence is enabled and you then bring all of that creativeness into consciousness and you manifest that in the different ways around you.

Momentarily you will be experiencing being present in different places on your planet. Experience yourself as this energy light vehicle, expanding from the central core of you, emitting energy and intention of balance, restoring to the infinite pattern of Creation with pure intention.

You have allowed that energy to connect in with the overall energetic matrix of conditioning consciousness and you have drawn energy in from the higher manifesting energy system. The presence of this Station of Light exists in that outer field of consciousness.

So, this pattern that you have been receiving is for you to deeply experience it and acknowledge it and acknowledge the different support systems that are available to you.

Again you may have recognised the companions who come to greet you in this Station of Light. Some of those represent different aspects of your initial Light Being and these may exist in many different dimensions, because there is no limit when you are experiencing that other existence - the greater existence that you have. Embracing it all achieves some of the objectives you may have had for yourself and for others.

You will be feeling in this short space that you are gathering in specific elements for you.

We would ask you to bring this back into full embodiment within your light body system here. It may be a conscious intention that is needed for you to follow this and the sensation will become apparent to you of the shift.

In this space, in this receiving area space of the Station, you are perfectly balanced and attuned and for this we have presented you many times into the Station. Therefore, every time you re-enter this energetic space you become again refreshed and attuned, cleared in every way appropriate for you.

You are one of many who came to Earth to exist and to engage the incoming flow of light radiance - so experience this.

I conclude this aspect of the transmission to you

Orem out “

Thank you Orem.

Lani again and I am here amongst you, aware of all of this change in my light energy body here. I am feeling the amazing energy within my form and as you will be doing this also, I now take you back to your physical body.

It is time to integrate all of this magnificent energy into every cell in your body. Perhaps you see it as a flow going through your body, just as we have flows of energy, flows of blood, flows of lymph system and even through the nerves, all of those will be taking in this pattern of energy.

Therefore, with you being connected I can now close the Omega Communications Portal ending this particular transmission and I ask you now to take in a deep breath, open your eyes and be fully oriented in the present moment in your surroundings.

You may feel you have taken in something like a most delicious meal! Something absolutely suiting you, for your requirements, so I leave you now until we are next called together, for the next unfoldment to come.

Thank you
Lani
