Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

I felt a large group of Beings around me which prompted me to sit down and open myself to open the Omega Portal for this inner journey to receive energy and information today. Therefore, as you receive this, tune in to yourself, allow yourself the time to relax, to be open to receive, and to be open to travel in that other aspect of Self, identified as your body of light. This is what I call forth. This is what I identify myself as in these sessions - a Light Being - and this is how I think of you as you receive this. You are a Light Being! So, Lovely Light Being, come with me and let's assemble together in the receiving area of the Station of Light today.

Possibly, you identify this space in the Station of Light in your own way and that would be dependent upon your viewing of what you see in the media, perhaps what you have read in books and of course the most important way to view it is from the inner perspective, looking through, perceiving through your body of light. I feel we have travelled a distance to be in this space, out of Earth time and space, so this is how we prepare ourselves today to receive.

“ In this way you are more open to align yourself to the true essence of yourself.

Orem addressing you here and you have assembled here and I am helping you to adjust to the inner dimension which is you, which is natural to you, which is your space in which your true essence exists. This inner space includes this Station of Light. Your inner dimensional space and consciousness will also envelop many other areas particularly relative to the Earth Being station as it is - the planetary Being - and there are many gateways or portals which you are able to identify through your knowledge, through what you have viewed and visited. These are all within your consciousness field.

Also within your consciousness field are many other receiving areas such as those within your satellite moon and also coming through the solar gateway through your current sun system. All of this is relevant to you. What is even more relevant to you is how you perceive all of these portals, these dimensional fields, these levels of perception and experience and also, how do you perceive your level of experience as you exist within the physical form you currently have? Are you viewing it as it is perceived to be by others? Are you viewing it in relation to your experiences and reactions and responses? Everything that we offer to you - every energy experience in this Station - is to help you be totally clear and free of the experiences to which you react as you have accumulated those on Earth Station itself and in other experiences of life.

All of those experiences in how we are bringing this to you could be viewed as distortions from your original true self. We are helping you to identify the clearness, the organised pattern, the elements of light and understanding within your aspects of your true light form and this of course goes back to your original intention to bring in the energy of that true light form into your existence that you are living, that you are focused within right now within your light body as it associates with your current life form.

This is enabling you to open, to relax, to release from you tensions, stresses, which are all part of your response to certain activities and experiences. For you to be functioning in a very strong meaningful way fulfilling your greater purpose in this body, you need to be able to release those responses which relate to learned activities and patterns, some of which have been immersed and entangled in your consciousness field from others, from the life paths you have lived which you still retain in memory, in energy memory.

Your life on Earth is important and every detail of it is important. How you remember it is important. How you validate the experience as you relate it to your pure intention - that is important. As you listen to this and receive this, already you are elevating your sense of your energy self and the functions you have and also you are increasing your awareness of patterns of energy to be used. These patterns of energy are already encoded in you through your allowance and remembrance of the patterns that you chose to bring in to this awakening state of existence of you and these higher patterns are also contained within the spheres of energy that have been unfolding to you and we have referred to these over a few of the transmissions to you.

Present within you is the awareness of activity occurring in the ice areas of your planet, you would call this the southern continent in the planet. There is the revealing to you and yet to come to your awareness through media, of a continent and civilisation which had become immersed in the ocean immersed under layers of ice and with the alternating frequencies which are occurring within the energy field within planet Earth, these are being revealed. They are also being revealed as containing these energy devices and spheres which are available for those of you who are communicating with them to recognise and to connect in with the energy which is part of the initiation codes to reveal more of the crystalline light cities for you. Your energy system here known as your light body is resonating with those energy frequency patterns being revealed.

This is partly known to you consciously as you have been gathering information and as you have been expanding your realisations and consciousness. Absorb this in this moment, because you are acting as a facilitator, or a channel, for the energy from those devices to move through you and to be flowing into the energy organic mechanisms relative to that next phase of existence. These have been called the crystalline light cities. As you become active within them more, they will just be your city of existence, your civilisation. It is more energetically associated with a higher grade of light frequency, but that is what it is, it does not need to be named. We are naming it in this phase and recent phases so that you recognise the difference and you recognise you are moving into this existence, co-existing with you now. Many of the disturbances which you are experiencing emotionally, mentally, physically are simply the differences you are feeling between existing in the newer state and what you are experiencing in the basic systems that you have evolved through. Again, we are helping you to clear the resistances from you, therefore allowing you to be more fully expressing this energy frequency of light.

Whatever stage you are receiving this transmission at, you are surrounded by and you are expressing the light frequency pattern that you are receiving in this moment. You could be perceiving this through your body of light expanding out in the energy field that it is. When we are close together in groups like this and your assembly here in the Station of Light, your energy field adapts to the overall resonating pattern and you would recognise the effect this has as a sense of joy, of fulfilment, upliftment, because everything that you are in your purest light here is amplified and shared and every one is doing this. In this space, this is all that exists and as you maintain the sense of that, you will be able to strengthen your physicality in its energy systems when once again you restore and bring all of this back into it. Enjoy this embrace and extension of the energy system here.

Here in this state, you may be aware that you have shifted your perception to be within a greater land mass and a greater gathering, as if you were in an open space on the surface of your planet - a most beautiful, energetic, natural space and yet you are above the surface of the planet and you would sense the gathering of people around you. What you are experiencing is upliftment of all. Some of the Beings who have gathered with you are assisting this process and others are, like you, being taken up, being expanded and uplifted.

In a moment you may be sensing you are not the normal humanoid form. You are different to that, you have returned to a state of energy system, energy awareness, energy presence, a form of light, of movement. The purpose of this is not that you should get lost in the energy - it is that you will be absorbing the appropriate amount of light for the purpose of assisting you in the many ways that you will be and perhaps are needing it in this current phase of your life.

Your current life phase is known in this gathering, the experiences are known, the adjustments which are needed are recognised, the energy flows into you at this time. This will be familiar. This process has happened many times in gatherings such as this. Your higher, true self has been preparing you for this again. It is another layer. It is substituting the previous pattern with this new pattern, enhanced pattern of you. You go through this many times in your current life experience, of enhancing instrumentation, enhancing or upgrading. It is similar to that because you are an energy system. This also enables you to be aware that energy is being drawn from other areas around Earth planet, bringing it all together to be examined, to be modulated in accordance with the needs of the planet, the needs of the people, allowing each one choice, to be able to choose the next level of your existence, the level of your state, your attitude, the experiencing of who you are. There are many Beings here more advanced than your level of attainment at present supporting, helping you, higher states of yourself helping you and different Beings helping you. Recognise that, allow that. It is all part of the unfoldment of Source Energy Creation.

You may have many questions. You may have many questions in your daily living space. When you do question, support, information and answers are provided. You are able to do that and receive what is required.

You will be feeling now that you are withdrawing from that grand gathering and space and be aware of your body of light in this receiving space in the Station of Light, and here it is this aspect of this session is complete. Feel fulfilled. Withdrawing now

Orem out "

Thank you Orem. Again, this is Lani back with you in the receiving area, still identifying you as your light self, so even in this space you will be conscious that you are already drawing in a breath to help orient yourself back into your physical flesh body identified by your name, say your name and your light essence identification, you identified as a light being.

From myself as Lani light being, I ask you to take in a breath, open your eyes, be aware of where you are receiving this transmission. It was very deep and intense and you may have lost sense of time, as I did, this is why it is important to bring yourself back into present time moment. It is significant and appropriate to identify yourself into current time and bringing in all of the greater light experience into current time into you now.

I trust you have expanded and have enjoyed receiving this light today and I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal this day. Thank you.
