Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Hello and welcome to this new energy transmission, continuing the changes occurring to us all and I embrace you in the Light. If you are already aware of great light within you and around you, this will help it expand and help everybody around you. So, in this Light that I Am, I welcome you as the Light Being which you are, and I welcome you into the space that is ready for us, identified as the receiving area within the Station of Light.

Do you have a concept, or a vision of what this area, this vessel, this Station of Light is? How you see it or sense it may be different to how other people would see or sense it. It is your reality, it is your assembly point and a place that you can identify within your true self where you can access further information and insights. Even through the specific words that might be spoken, there will be specific messages or energy for you. Therefore, let's begin.

"We are with you in this space and identified again as Orem, as the leader of this energy session for you today and I am in charge, as you would say, of this planetary Station of Light for you.

It has many phases. It has many functions. It has many assembly points and gathering points in it. It has many spheres of light and energy all relating to individuals and their needs at this time.

We would also identify to you areas which need disentangling from different timelines. Many of you people gathered here in the Station at this time are aware of different timelines functioning at this same period which you are going through and disentangling them means that your focus will be pure and your intention will be pure in the current focused timeline in which you are present here with us. This is important for you to know. It can be important for you to identify other timelines you may be functioning in, without you being tangled up in those timelines. The remembrance can be useful and helpful when you take within you the aspects that would be appropriate for you to know about or to resonate with, or perhaps functions and abilities which would help you in the present moment, otherwise there is no purpose in identifying many of these other timelines and frames of reference.

This is how we begin this session in this current timeline for you.

Therefore, you will be experiencing fresh energy flowing through your awareness in your body of light assembled here with us. It can appear that you pass through a ray of light which cleanses your energy field, particularly identifying thought forms and other energy imprints which may be affecting you in any way. In your terms, this could be detoxifying your energy systems.

Having moved you aside from all of that now, you are present here also aware that there is an identification process of entanglements occurring generally around the population on Earth as it is now, and also there is the process of identifying the Beings who have come forward who are needing to be awakened so they identify with their higher aspect of Self coming forward to function collectively to increase the frequency pattern within the civilisation at present on Earth. It can be identified as many different layers around Earth in different environments. Regardless of what land mass people are assembled on and existing in, there are still multi-dimensional layers which can have a major effect on how people respond to activities and what is being pulsed out through different stations that have been structured around the planet, some of which are scientific programs created on Earth which have the effect of disturbing the energetic system of individuals.

The emphasis we have is to strengthen the individual's systems such as you experience each time you enter within the energy of these transmissions, and other transmissions given throughout the planet, you must discern if they are uplifting you and clearing old patterns from you. There are many who bring information through which again may have the effect of distorting your original purpose and your connection to your true energy light self.

Now, the purpose of identifying different layers around you is so that they can be shifted. With your present focus here with us, you are receiving a pattern of light whereby you resonate with that light and you are receiving it directly through the Solar Portal, going out to a central point of manifested creation. With you aligned to that, you will feel the shift in energy, even within your pure light essence here receiving this with us in this moment and this is being used collectively to be radiated out from you all. We are talking in a multi-dimensional way here.

Many of you have come from places where you have left your body in many countries and land masses around this planet. Some of you may be travelling through the air or travelling on water, or travelling on land but your body of light is present here with us. Therefore, what you are receiving here is radiating out to where you are.

There is a single purpose here and this single energy frequency pattern exists throughout Creation. You may sense aspects of this travelling into your physicality, also travelling into the portals which are within and around planet Earth and even around and present within some particular satellites around the planet. There is a great connection occurring. You may be experiencing this as you take part in this connection. Part of this connection has a flow of energy - a circulation process. As the energy is emanated out, there is also the collection of data from these different places, from different people, from the different portals. It is all gathered in to be understood and the energy needed then is flowed back in. There is a continual cycle of this until there is a level reached where more of the light civilisation structure can more readily manifest. The portals we refer to are anchoring points also for this new civilisation.

You may feel some impatience as you expect to see this or to have it validated in your news systems and this will come. At present the work that you are engaged in, in this higher energy field, is more important. You will be understanding that you are still adjusting. Your vision, your perception, is still adjusting to this different field of existence. It does not need to be expedited or increased in such a way that you might receive an overload of energy, which in turn could disrupt some of the natural processes occurring throughout your brainwave pattern and your energy circuitry generally. The way to increase the pattern is for you to clearly merge with your light energy body, the higher aspect of you, which transforms the energy pattern in such a way that your physicality can absorb it, so your daily connection into that state is helping you as an individual.

Many seeds have been planted in the consciousness pattern around the planet and people and these seeds are being encouraged by the energy flows coming through Solar Portal and they are being encouraged by the energy which is infusing the water element around you. In that infusion, it enters within your food pattern and it enters within your cellular pattern.

Following that, you will realise that there are different foods that you have recently introduced in your food intake. Those foods are receiving the influence through water, through that element so necessary as part of existence on this planet.

Momentarily you will be experiencing the element of water around you. There are times when we have you experience a field of energy, perhaps felt purely as energy, colour or light. In this instance it is the element of water you are experiencing and it is the energy within that water which your energy field within your light body is responding to. This will be helping you in many ways as you choose to identify with that and you resonate with that higher aspect and element.

Maintaining the sense of this element of water around your light energy form, be present again within the receiving area of the Station. You will also be receiving messages within this element of water and you will be aware that you have the capacity to balance the element of water to assist in the process around your planet. There is always fluctuation to do with water. Be aware of this essence that has been introduced into the element of water and it is through the presence of the Beings in the Oceania existence referred to at other times, existing beneath oceans on the planet and those Beings are working with the element of water in all its forms. There can be renewal in you with this.

This has been the main message for you in this session.

I leave this with you now, Beloved

Orem out “

This is Lani addressing you again and I give my thanks to you, Orem.

This has been significant to me to hear this information about water today. Perhaps you understand it in relation to something you are experiencing in your life currently - messages - the energy within that element, so take this into you now. I am aware also of the presence of B'Lu here with us, reaching out a hand to us, in the midst of us all here, to expand the experience of this. Also to expand the energy field around you, indicating that your sphere of energy is being enhanced through this transmission today.

The effect of that also is that you will draw to you elements you are needing. Whether that is information, or some nutritional aspect, or a concept or idea - you will receive something new from this. He withdraws - stands back - because it is time for me now to get you to return to your physicality.

There is still the presence of water. You may feel you are pouring yourself back into your body and the layers of your energy field. Sparkling water is what I feel I am immersed in, as with you, I bring my attention fully back into my physical body. Take in a deep breath and bring your focus back into your physical body, into your present location and your life and into the present moment.

Remember that you are valued. Every transmission you experience you are bringing in the Light, Energy and Information from the highest point through your consciousness, so you are valued and you are entrusted with this energy information, with this Light.

I am now closing the Omega Communications Portal as this transmission ends and I am grateful to be able to share this with you.

Thank you

Lani
