Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Hello. I am Lani and I am bringing to you a new transmission of light, energy and information coming through the Station of Light, existing in a metaphysical dimension around our planet. I think it is just not in one location, simply because of its existence as a dimensional energy space.

As usual, this is an inner journey for you to experience what will come through to you, and I ask you to settle your body, open your mind, allow your true essence - your light body consciousness - to be with us all in the receiving area of the Station of Light. It is here that your energy field adjusts to the dimensional field here in this Station of Light. This makes it easy for you to receive the impressions, along with the words which are given, and it makes it easy for the Beings to connect with you, because they do not have to match their vibration into a dense physical body that we have on Earth. And this is how we always begin these sessions.

“Welcome. Welcome again into this area. Orem addressing you at this time and in my greeting to you, you are embraced in a further expansion field of frequency patterns for you.

Already you may be sensing that there are patterns of colours, or light, or sound around you. All of these have an influence upon you as you are present here at this time. The influence is always to engage the greater aspects of your consciousness, to align them, to align you and everything which you are into your true connection. We are just the vehicle to help you do this and also of course we are here to facilitate adjustments for you and to introduce to you some deeper concepts that you may feel you already know about, but the increased frequency pattern presented around you here enables you to understand and to realise more of what you may already have perceived.

This is the preparation for you at this time.

Moving deeper into this dimensional space here in which we exist, and we perform many activities, we are also bringing you into some of these areas of communication, of transportation, where you may be experiencing the data receiving and dissemination which occurs continuously. It is part of the cycle of evolution. There are always Beings ready to receive the data that you bring forward and this will be processed and it will be perceived with everything that you bring forward with your presence here.

Continuing from that, there are times in between your life patterns when you will be going out into a different dimensional aspect of life and taking with you some energy patterns for creation, for upliftment in some way and to help the integration of everything in that dimensional sphere to be consciously part of the forthcoming and unfolding expansion process.

There is always more forthcoming in this reality where you are with us now.

In a far distant dimensional reality it has already been achieved - the process that you are involved in now. So, we also would introduce to you that pattern which has already fulfilled what you are working to do now. Allow this to come into your awareness, in whatever way. Perhaps you consciously breathe it in, in this state. Perhaps you perceive it that you are drawing in threads or chords which are transferring information directly into your energy body here. Perhaps you are seeing visualisations of what is surrounding you here and being presented to you.

Allowing yourself to acknowledge that you have access to this space, allows you to manifest that in your current reality. This is an indicator to you that your capacity has increased and you are drawing upon that potential which is you.

Now, having received all that, we again turn your attention and focus to the energy matrix referred to as the Star Matrix or Solar Portal Matrix. You need to be more connected into this energy system directly. You need to connect it consciously with your own energy field matrix, completely infilled and surrounding your actuality in the physicality and also it naturally connects easily into your energy presence here.

This is necessary because of the imbalances which can occur in the reality of Earth where you are existing. Some of those imbalances relate to past experiences which are still evident in the way of an emotional network imbalance and the mental energy field can get out of balance. When you consciously connect this energy matrix system with your individual matrix system, there is the dissolving away of the imbalances, clearing and restoring the clear functioning throughout you.

Now you are ready to be more in cooperation with some of the units operating here in this space. You are naturally drawn into a particular space and network of Beings who consciously work with you and they also acknowledge many of the aspects of you that perhaps you do not acknowledge yourself.

In particular, the acknowledgement is in regard to receiving you in your true essence state - the totality of your consciousness state. This also allows you to be drawn forward into that more, because when it is recognised by another Being who sees truly your energy self, the full potential of you, then you relate to that, you respond to that, it increases that within you.

A reminder here - it does not give you power over other people, but it does empower you to engage this energy matrix so that the energy flows naturally around you, through you and into the energy matrix which is the Earth at this time.

We are referring at this time to the Earth Portal - a particular named portal for the inflow of this pattern of energy which is working very strongly with the entire energy pattern around the planet. This also increases and modulates the gravitational aspect of the Earth-being planet in regard to the movement in your particular system around the sun that you recognise. There are ongoing adjustments in this entire field of activity. We remind you of that. It is never static. Everything evolves, moves, changes and responds to the energy and in particular Earth is receiving energy through the grand Earth Portal.

Earth is enveloped in this energy, also receiving more clearly and resonating with the pattern of light from Central Source Creation. You can also acknowledge yourself as being an agent actively engaging the pure light frequency assisting the entire process. These aspects of clearing and assisting and enlivening you facilitate the same process for the Earth Station. Following that, you may also each have individual projects, processes and part of your individual purpose - so the energy you are receiving accentuates everything you are doing in relation to your purpose for being present in the current existence - focused in that - conscious in that present existence.

Many of you would want to be compartmentalising your daily activities perhaps into some specific daily functions you do, and then you think that the higher aspect of me is quite separate to that.

How could a higher aspect of me be involved in my current daily activities. It is, because the higher aspect of you is you and is always there. You need to allow yourself to make change when change is appropriate. You will know when change is appropriate because of the motivating energy you experience.

All the while you have been receiving these words, some of you have been actively engaged in the various group activities working with different dimensional manifestations and many of you have been focused entirely in different aspects of the Earth Station.

Perceive there is a continual flowing through the Earth Portal into everything which is happening and there is a continual emphasis to balance and uplift. Regardless of how you might define activities which are occurring, there is the greater overall intention.

Now I am making the point of gathering you all back around me in the receiving area of the Station. Here you can be clearly focused in assimilating what you have been experiencing in this session. This could be giving rise to you the sense that you are now beginning another phase in your functioning and in your capacity to understand and receive the elements necessary for you to continue your purpose for being in your current lifetime.

That purpose may also have many integrations into it from other experiences where you have attempted to be undertaking the same purpose. All of this is part of you and is redefining you in ways that you can assist yourself and to acknowledge yourself as your true essence, as the Beings you were present with acknowledge you as that.

Again, you have allowed more energy and information to come into you and through you.

I withdraw now, as you continue to process this immersion in this session and visitation here in the Station

Orem out “

Thank you Orem.

Lani again. I want to say to you - let it be known to yourself what you are doing by being consciously present in your daily activities in your life and you will feel the outpouring of joy and love which is part of that flow of light, energy, information.

With all of this within you now, I ask you to consciously merge back with your physical body unit.

You might experience that you have released something you have been thinking about from your life currently, or earlier in life, so that is all wonderful, and you will be bringing all of this information and energy into you now.

Take in a breath, open your eyes and make sure you are fully present in your body, in your surroundings, in the current day and time. Time does seem to be changing, so it is very important to make the statement that you are fully present in the current time and that time is not actually how we measure hours and minutes, but it is a time-field in relationship to the Central Sun and universal time.

That is all from me now and I thank you for being with me and I close the transmission through the Omega Portal at this time

Thank you

Lani
