“We greet each and every one of you in this space, dear ones. This is Orem addressing you as I am here to greet you and welcome you here and to go through the process which occurs when you visit here of assessing your energy field.

Being able to assess it in this way, we identify the aspects around you which can be changed and this can include major thought patterns which impact all through your life and they can also include the assessment of various experiences upon which you created mind patterns and emotional patterns and physical patterns, all of which overlaid your true essential Essence which is the aspect of you which came into the Earth-plane to be present and to allow a higher level of energy pattern to come in through you to the Earth. Again, simple explanation is sufficient for specific patterns of the words to resonate very deeply with you and this helps you to remember the core energy essence that you are and your placement in this particular physical body you have at this particular focus of dimension and locality.

We do not exclude other existences you have had. The focus now is where you are presently focused and also gathering back into you aspects that you can use from other experiences and all of these help to modulate who you are and the pattern which you carry through you.

Initially moving away from the receiving area in this Station, you are now able to come with us more deeply through another portal. Indeed it could be described as a portal through time and dimension into a different space, all in accordance with your willingness to proceed to activate more of the motivational sequences in you through which you can then connect into the higher Councils of Light surrounding planet Earth at this time and also intersecting at different interdimensional experiences.

We are speaking about unfolding aspects of time so that everything becomes very clear and focused around you now as you are presented here in this space.

You are already gathering in some of the activities that you have already begun on Earth. Some of you are reactivating aspects of certain plans and wisdom from when you were perhaps quite young, in your childhood times, when the information was very clear to you because you were closely connected with the essential aspect that you are of Creation. All of this is meaning and indicating specific activations within you. These will include certain intentions that you have which will be overlaying your entire life pattern. You are able to overlay the intention of your purpose here across all of your experiences, from the time of your physical birth into this current life pattern you are living, overlaying it with the energy matrix which contains the higher order of Creation and the purpose for you being here on Earth.

Therefore, if you have been experiencing a sense of dislocation from your presence and present existence, or perhaps you have been experiencing out of balance conditions mentally, emotionally or physically, this overlaying of the energy pattern, the energy matrix you have connected in with here, right across your timeline will re-establish the order and will bring in that energy and information from the starfield matrix from where you originated with the intention of coming through into the Earth pattern in the current presentation of you. Allow the sense of this to be experienced. When you do that, within the experience you will be perceiving yourself putting certain plans in order and you will be regathering the information needed to help you as you restore uplifting patterns. In the upliftment pattern is balance again, because you are resonating with the phase of existence which you felt would be present when you went through the birthing process. That was within your consciousness and remains as an aspect of your consciousness.

We are helping you to understand that you are reconnecting with that.

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

I welcome you again into this space. Lani speaking to you and I am here to help you to relax your body, open your mind and to travel in that aspect of you we will call your body of light, to assemble in the receiving area of the Station of Light. Feel the change in energy as you shift your attention out of your mind and physical surroundings and into this other aspect of you which exists always.

As your light body, you are more able to receive the input of the higher pattern of light - energy patterns - perhaps you just call it a higher frequency. Using simple terms allows your own interpretation to come in through your own intuitive sensing. So, this is what it is all about in these sessions is to let go of the conscious analytical mind and to connect in with the super consciousness state of you to allow the energy surrounding you, coming through the Station of Light, to uplift you, help you and support you. That's all I have to say at the beginning of this session and I open it up to the Beings who exist in this Station.

That level of consciousness of the pattern of existence is being materialised and more strongly created with the assistance of Beings drawn in from different aspects of Creation, different galactic spaces and so you are drawing all of this into you at this time. You will have the sense that you are communicating with other lifeforms who have come in around you in this space right now and who are actively supporting you. Some of these Beings also will be bringing in the energy systems, the flowing energy which is the forthcoming pattern for you to be receiving as part of the activation of your motivation for your purpose here. It is a different field of energy pattern, moving away from everything you have learned about energy you use in the form of electrical energy harnessed, even solar energy. The solar energy you use is different from the energy you use coming through the solar portal from central source creation and this also from that point is bringing through this more precise energy that is needed now as part of this greater unfoldment existence. Yes - it is called the crystalline civilisation, but this energy is fluidic and has easily been identified as bio-plasma energy for you and it is being infused within you.

In previous sessions the Council of Light have infused your heart energy centre with energy and this has modified your energy systems to allow the inflow of this bio plasma energy into you. You will feel it moving smoothly through you as you integrate it and in particular in this state as your energy form, it is fully absorbed and integrated. You may be sensing your energy form here in a different pattern now as you observe yourself and in that observation the sensations you have. Your senses are very strong in your existence here in this way and you will be sensing many changes as a result of this energy filling you.

The potential of it exists to also being absorbed through many layers of the current created civilisation and its energy matrix that you are within on the Earth planet. That energy matrix becomes changed as there are certain alignments occurring in the interdimensional intersections and it is all a process of expanding creation.

The existence of the overall population on Earth is needing to be aware of the change to release resistances and to be open to a higher pattern. We understand this would be interpreted by many different groups, depending on their focus, on their learning, of their programming. Everything you have been absorbing in your visitations to the Station of Light here has been around deprogramming and eliminating the programming so you unfold back to your true core essence. That is not programmed or controlled because you are in pure access and resonance with your point of origin very closely linked to the essence of creation.

You will be drawing to you the pattern that assists you in this time. You indeed are surrounded by this energy field as you correctly resonate with the highest aspect of your own Beingness.

Bringing that back into conscious awareness of being in the Station of Light, you will observe much activity occurring. We are busy. All the Beings present here are actively taking part in the assessment of Earth, in the forthcoming changes, in providing information and energy to each one of you. You are also enfolded in that field of potential and you incorporated that in the energy device, or devices, which you implanted into the Earth pattern and you are still drawing upon that. It is for you to remember and to open yourself up to that flow of energy. Again, that contains this bio plasma energy infilling you in many levels of your pattern, of your unit.

You are always acknowledged as being part of the activity ongoing in the Station, and we needed to remind you of this.

Come now to assemble again in the receiving transition space of the Station, ready for your transition back into your body. Absorb everything you have experienced here, Beloved

Orem out “

Thank you Orem. This is Lani again.

He has such gentleness and what we recognise as loving support, filled with that encompassing joy, so it is extraordinary the depth of energy that you can absorb in this state, when you realise it and acknowledge to yourself that you have absorbed it.

I see you all in this expanded body of light state and this is what you will be now absorbing back into your physical unit. So, feel that integration again, deeply into your body, from the inside out, from the core energy channel which is you, through all the components and elements that comprise the human body and energy systems.

Take in a breath and open your eyes and orient yourself fully back into your body, into your location, into the current time and day. Even though you may have experienced a very deep connection in this session in that deeper dimension, you can instantly bring yourself back into the present Earth moment. It is all in your consciousness - everything you reconnected with.

Thanks for being here present in this transmission and experience and again I thank Karen Elsworth - <https://www.extradimensionalart.com> - for her presentation in the artwork of Orem. You may see his image change as he communicates with you.

I end this session now, thank you.

Lani
