“Welcome. This is Orem addressing you and beside you we are with you. We gather you into the energy field provided here for you and you will be perceiving energy move-ment around you. Already many of you may be perceiving specific Beings around you. Many of you may be drawn into a particular dimensional framework where you recognise there are energy patterns you identify as other galaxies. Other ones of you present here will be observing planet Earth, viewed in this way from this Station.

It is all resonating with your particular focused attention and what you bring in with you and what you would be expecting to receive.

As you continue to adjust to the energy pattern here, you will be aware of yourself being aligned and attuned in a different way, and we are giving you information in this session in a way that differs from other transmissions to you.

We are giving you a particular pocket of energy information which you may be able to identify as a seed, as a vessel, as an element - such as you could recognise as a drop of water. Your energy self is bringing this into you, deeply within your pattern. Again, you will find this will be moving through the different aspects of your own individual appearance - your unit - your energy systems - and as it moves into you, it is releasing a pattern of light necessary to help raise your frequency pattern. They are little elements that contain a higher value of the light which surrounds you all as you exist on the planet. The light which surrounds you is, as it were, your own individual sphere of existence and reality and energy pattern. This element that you have received in your energetic energy form here is the constitution which is needed for you and it is a constitution which brings into you more of the greater existence and overall pattern of existence.

You may already understand what this is. It is a collective of many of the potential elements that have already, and always been around you, which have not been recognised. They can only be recognised when your individual energy pattern is high enough for you to identify this aspect of Creation.

Already it is upon you the necessary steps to be taken to elevate and strengthen your energy field into this deeper aspect of Creation. We have referred to this in other recent transmissions - that you absorb a higher energy pattern which lifts you beyond what is presently being proposed to be initiated around the planet. From the elevated energy systems you are absorbing and raising yourself up into, then you will find you can utilise the proposed institution of an energy pattern in a way that will benefit existence on the planet.

You are already going through a process of absorbing the element we have presented to you in this session and as it continues to work through the layers of your energy field and deeply into the denser aspects, the effect will be purifying the element of water within you.

The element of water also flows through you in a way that it can collect the emotional content that you have and the emotions as you know, can fluctuate, flow easily, can be broken up into different segments that you identify in different ways as different emotions.

With the assistance of this element you have been given, you will be finding increasing balance and this also gives rise to a sense of increasing tolerance to what you experience. Therefore, you will not be reacting so strongly to many of the occurrences that happen in your daily existences.

Also, this energy element you are absorbing is strengthening your connection to a different time existence where you were conscious workers able to use the flows of energy patterns of the pure creative intention.

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Welcome to this issue of the Transmissions coming through the Omega Communications Portal.

You have already set aside a few minutes to link in with this transmission, haven't you? Even if you read them, or listen to them, or read just a few words you will experience the exchange of energy and information which occurs and this is well-known to you, because you are a multi-dimensional Being and you exist in a multi-dimensional way. There are many facets to you. I am addressing the one who is focused in your current physical body at this time, and yet it is a higher level of that physical aspect which I call together to gather with me in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

Already you are receiving the energy patterns that you resonate with and which aspects of your consciousness recognise and will be drawing this into you now. Take a few moments to adjust to the energy process.

This you will find useful as you continue your journey in this particular physicality unit you exist in.

There is continual movement within the Station, gathering information. Some of the information is brought into the Station through the experiences of individuals, as you are. Some of it is transmitted from many of the vehicles existing on the Earth-plane at present - vehicles being Beings who have merged within your cultures and civilisations but retain their abilities from a higher evolved aspect of light and life and they are able to transmit images containing codes so it is received in the Station by the many groups who evaluate, consider, observe and they also are then able to reflect back to these Beings holding the energy grid network on the Earth, what is required.

There is a subtle interchange of energies occurring continuously. Even when you lay your body down to move into your sleep pattern, you are receiving adjusting energies and in those times often you travel far beyond the Earth-plane existence, returning back to the aspect of Creation where you are working with these energy flows, introducing them into you, helping you to remember and bring them into the civilisation currently you are working within. It is generally not permitted, or appropriate, for you to remember those visitations and the work you are doing. It does come through to you in the way that you will feel refreshed as you return back to the experience of the day and you may sometimes experience the sense that appearances are different - something has changed - and then you quickly adapt to what that is and it seems normal.

From the perspective of the higher energy patterns, it is recognised that you have shifted into the next field of energy - the expanded field of energy and consciousness, and this is what your sessions are about when you link in with these transmissions. It is not to receive information about what could possibly happen, which has not happened yet, but it is to give you the sense that you have gathered in all of the necessary preparation and energy and modalities to continue to increase the base standard of energy in the overall civilisation.

Remember this. Remember that you are not here to necessarily experience some of the lower, denser, hardship patterns. You are here to bring light and love and upliftment and to experience happiness in this life pattern you have. Within every aspect of your life. Remember this.

Remembering it brings it into all aspects of your life pattern, into your thoughts, into your emotions, into the cellular activity, distributing the energy essence you have received and what you received in this particular session is a continuation and unfoldment of many of the preceding transmissions.

You may be experiencing the sense that you are gathering in many different aspects, many aspects of energy flows in some way. Seeds of information. Packets of information, and you are a receptor for it all.

Expanding your experience here, there is the knowledge, as you know, of great visitation and activities, Beings coming into the Station, moving in the Earth-plane itself, strengthening the area that you recognise as time, the area you recognise as the flowing of Creation - the concepts being brought into manifestation. It does require your assistance in the way that it is helpful if you keep your focus into maintaining the sense of joy and deeper connection with your higher purpose for your presence in your physical body, in your physical life.

I bring your awareness now to being present in the receiving area of the Station again. You have been encompassed - enveloped - in all of this which has been described to you. Many of you have been brought back into attunement - into true alignment ~ and thus the purpose of this transmission is fulfilled.

Until we connect again, I withdraw

Orem out “

Thank you Orem. This has been a lovely experience again, feeling the shift, but also feeling the engagement and connection of what you were revealing to us and what exists around us.

So, everybody, it is now time to reconnect consciously with your physical self - all of its components. Remember - it is energy. It is not a dense physical body. It is an energy body and it needs the energy which you have been receiving today to fuel it, to repair it, and to energise you in the right way.

So, again I remind you of the amazing element that you were given at the start of this session. Perhaps you are already feeling it flowing through your body, through the fluids of your body into every cell and space within the energy body. Purifying, adjusting, increasing, strengthening your energy field. It seems when we do this, nothing else is as important. It can carry you through every circumstance.

I am grateful to have been able to bring this to you today and I now end this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Do make sure you are fully grounded and fully present - with an expanded awareness again - renewed.

Thank you

Lani
