Issue 860

Date: April 13, 2017

Time: 2 pm

I open the Omega Portal and link with you - your beautiful higher self light body - and it is in this body that more information and clarity is received and that in turn comes into your reality - whatever you would term that to be - as you allow it to be during the sessions and following the sessions.

It is necessary to let your body be at rest and to open your awareness and then to identify this great light body essence that is you. This is what I link with at this time to draw you all to assemble in the receiving area of the Station, continuing the inner journey, continuing the amount of energy experience that is available to you.

I have no idea what will come through in each session or any session. I do trust the process and I do trust Orem, being Commander of the Station of Light and all of the Beings who work with him. That process is ongoing. We have simply become more aware of the presence of the Station and many of us now consciously link with several of the Beings who work through the Station and who work in other ways individually with you.

They are not known generally in the line of teachings that we call ascended masters, or any of the beings that we can identify with from the Earth plane. These Beings are from a greater collective consciousness. They have no desire to be identified specifically because they represent the teachings as are appropriate to us in the human form, and that comes from the greater levels of consciousness. So, we are in good hands!

“Beloved Orem addressing you here and continuing with the energy transmission to you, there becomes the open channel and open pathway for you to progress.

There is information around you already which you have sensed in your inner realisations and we have been presenting to many of you images of groups of Beings working with you, and perhaps you might be seeing images of this Light Station, or some of the areas where many of the Beings assemble elsewhere, stationed in spheres of light, also stationed - manifested - in areas of the crystalline city structures and there are others who do manifest in the more physical creations that you can see and visibly identify and perhaps visit.

For all of the purposes of the transmissions we assemble you in your body of light consciousness state in this area. Therefore, we are able to present to you an expanded version of any information presented to you, because in this sense you are expanded. You are not just a physical Earth Being. You are a multi-dimensional presence here with us, so everything we have you experience here, you are experiencing in a multi-dimensional way. The words present the energy, as we have explained to you previously.

Now, drawing you here into this space at this time, we also are identifying areas around your present living circumstances and we are identifying the areas which can be changed. The energy, in the intensity of it, has been bringing to you concepts that have manifested through the consciousness levels relating to patterns of control or fear - all of those aspects, which as they are focused upon, create the reality around different areas and people.

We are also aware of, and we are presenting energy to the groups of Beings who have developed technology which can create isolated pockets of change in the atmosphere. We are aware of what is occurring around the planet. There are many different Councils identifying ways to bring back a pre-existing state of order. We should give you further information on that. In terms of pre-existing, there are different states of manifestation and what has been brought around much of you in the world is only one possible existence and when you focus upon the existence that you would choose to live in, such as that of the light city structure, then you are participating in the change and transformation and upliftment.

Identify your thought processes and emotions that arise from that, and then you shift your attention to the greater manifested level of consciousness available and present within everything that has been presented to you, visibly, or to experience in your life. You could review this current life pattern from a higher aspect, where you observe your choices, your experiences, the relationships. In reviewing it you are above the level of reaction in the emotional and thought patterns level and this gives you the opportunity to create on a greater scale within the higher light civilisation. We are lifting you into this during this presentation to you in the energy and you will be experiencing this.

Now we move you again out of where we are addressing you which was initially in the receiving area of the Station but you went quickly beyond that as you followed the energy presented to you. Again, we are taking you into a different aspect of creation. Identify it perhaps in your thinking as a higher level, higher vibration, you are going up in an elevator. In this state, you do not need to step into such a device, for in consciousness we envelop you in the state and manifested area of where we would draw you into.

For some of you this will be presented to you in the form of ancient, sacred, areas that have existed within your consciousness handed to you in stories and experiences drawn out of the memory of many beings, and always within that pattern there exists an aspect which is out of time and dimension - physical dimension - and this is where you are able to absorb a greater amount of information energy patterns around you. It is similar to taking you to the edge of your consciousness field, because in this state also, you are in a state of consciousness that you have not experienced to this appropriate entry at this point of your existence.

Draw upon the light frequency pattern here.

The experience you may be having is that you are in the centre of an aspect of the universe, around you which you sense is moving, and it indeed it is moving to the extent that as you are aligned in the still centre to Source Energy Creation, then you are creating a link to a dimensional gateway which is already existing around you. We are helping you to align to that. Thus, you bring in the potential for you to work with, to manifest in the new civilisation.

All of this is presenting to you a new pattern of thought, of which the concept is available to you to retain in conscious memory. The manifestation will come to you within that consciousness. All of our Station and the Beings assisting the process are within this same state of consciousness. This is the sense we speak about of you being One with Creative Source Energy.

You are becoming aware again as your presence as your light body here and we assist you to be back in the receiving area in the Station of Light. The process is adjusting you from that inner connection and we bring you back again to be aware that you are held within an energy structure. The energy structure is not confining you - it is supporting you. Within that energy structure you will be aware of points of connection to different Beings and in particular the one who has addressed you here previously - Su Yan Rah - is here with you."

"In addressing you at this stage, it is possible to create a greater separation from elements that you are exposed to in your life. Because you are open to these deeper states of consciousness, you are also more sensitive to the energy field around other spaces that you travel into and around other people. We are separating you from that in this time. We also give to you the understanding that if you maintain the sense of integrity of your energy field, which includes a balanced view of all that occurs around you, this also helps to create the strengthened energy structure around you.

The information that we present to you is held in an energy sphere and there is a sequence to what is presented to you and how it is done. The sequence relates to the amount of energy you receive and how you do receive it and retain it and use it, and also this is assessed every time we bring you together into this space and as I come to you in my form, I also am assessing that and I can also assess that which can be presented to you as you trust and open and accept the energy field and what is held within the energy field around you.

This is done in a sequence so that you are involved personally in the process. We perceive some of you are moving into different roles where you are aware of being present in meetings, you are aware of putting your energy to assist projects. In this consciousness state in which you are receiving this now, you will also be aware of assistance in all of those processes, wherever you are present.

We acknowledge all that you have achieved to this state and we acknowledge what you have yet to feel that you will achieve. We observe it all. We withdraw and leave you with Commander Orem. We thank you "

"Now Beings of Light, I will now withdraw so you will retain the memory of this experience and continue to work with it. In doing that, you draw on more of what was presented to you during this transmission

Orem out "

My thanks to you Orem and Su Yan Rah. Lani speaking to you again and now I bring your attention fully back into your beautiful light body as it is here.

Learn to really identify that. Learn to realise that it is not the same as your physical body, even though it can convey what the physical body is experiencing so that aspects can be cleared or changed.

So, now you lovely light bodies, you must come back to your physical form. Feel the merge, the integration of that greater aspect into your current physicality.

Thank you, and I I close the Omega Portal on this transmission.

Thank you

Lani
