Issue 875

Date: July 27, 2017

Time: 6 pm

Hello to you, as I open the Omega Communications Portal and welcome you again to this new transmission. The sessions are all individual, and yet they do carry on from one to another, but you can listen to any one and receive energy information that is appropriate for you in the present.

Today, I ask you again to settle yourself comfortably and allow your attention to be in your body of light. You may feel that you step out of your physical body and physical surroundings and then it is easy to be drawn together with everyone with the intention of meeting in the receiving area of the Station of Light. It is always present and when you are ready to be present in that space, then you will be, perhaps just to renew energy in some way. Perhaps to draw upon energy to assist you, especially when you are conscious that you have aligned yourself with the purpose through which the Beings on the Station can assist you as you are present in the Earth-plane currently. It all depends on you and your willingness and commitment.

So, as you are here now, and together it is a pleasure to meet up again, then allow your sensing to perceive what is around you and to perceive the appearance of yourself as you are present here. Expand your awareness and you may be aware of the energy structure around you and within this gathering space.

That will be for a specific purpose, to help you anchor into this space and also it allows different areas to be opened to you. I allow myself to go deeper to allow the Beings of Light from the Station to communicate with you.

“Indeed, we perceive you here and this is Orem addressing you, at this time. We come forward and greet you individually.

You will be very aware that you have received helpful support in some way since the previous transmission. You may be aware that you have been progressing through different situations in your current life pattern and progressing through different realisations, as they pertain to those situations. All of this allows you to be present in the moment here in the Station.

Of course, the prime initial greeting serves the purpose of disengaging from your energy field matter or energy information which has been disturbing you in any way. This is necessary of course, it helps you and it supports you and being clear of any of those situations from the Earth -plane allows you to progress further within inner areas of the Station and going deeply into areas of your own consciousness field. That can be different to accessing areas within the Station.

For the purpose of these transmissions, you are always brought into the Station of Light, because here we let you know that we are observing activities upon the Earth station and because you align in this Station, you are helped and supported and we give you information during the transmissions to assist you. There are different levels to all of that of course, and you understand this completely.

We observe many of you now laying aside more tools or layers of teachings and belief systems and attitudes.

In this opening, you have available to you another depth of the Beings coming forward to you. There is the resistance that is built in around some of your thought patterns and when you are willing to release those, then you are able to accept more of the information and energy.

Strategically you are placed in different areas to bring in the vibration from Source Energy. This is accessed directly from where you are receiving this in the Station and at this time, take the opportunity to replenish your sense of purpose and the energy that you need to fulfil that purpose. Some of you are engaged in activities which demand a high level of conscious mind attention. In this gathering, you are able to let go of all that and allow the deeper levels of consciousness to fill you and thus we are transporting you into another level within the Station.

Observe the connections around you in your multi-dimensional vision here, and we bring you directly back into that initial time when we explained and introduced you to the way of seeing multi-dimensionally. Reconnecting with that now, are you observing many of the substructures in the energy field around you here, and do you also observe that many of them are encompassing planet Earth at this time.

When we talk about layers - they have entry points and energy points and sections which penetrate deeply into many areas within the planet and this also correlates into many levels within peoples conscious thought patterns. We are not able to alter anyone's thought patterns, because they have the right and the free-will of choice as to what they think, but what happens in the layers of energy you are observing is that everyone is presented with concepts and energy formations which in turn, if they are ready to accept them, they will interpret into different ways of realisation and activity and thinking.

We offer the space to you and to Beings on Earth always, until you sense the correctness and the connectedness in the dimensional fields of consciousness that will facilitate change and support. We are aware that many of you are aware and are mixing with groups and Beings who are undergoing change and some of those have no idea that they can accept a different viewpoint for themselves, if they listen and are open to what is provided around them.

Overall, the planetary consciousness which is held in an overall observation and some of that is through the Council of Light, there is the presentation in the overall viewpoint and surrounding energy field, opportunities to shift entirely large groups into a different level of consciousness and existence.

We speak simply in terms, because we are aware that some of you who understand the complexities of the dynamics of constructed universe, will interpret it in greater depth in scientific ways, but we are addressing a wide range of Beings here and so the simplest wording helps you. The concept of it is presented in the simplest wording.

Progressing, you will be aware that individually your energy systems here are receiving a renewal. This also relates to something that each of you agreed to, as you entered within the timing construct known to you as this current lifetime. It was as if you were given a document and accepted and said this is what I will be bringing forth into the Earth-plane at specific intervals and specific times. This is being renewed in you in your energy system here. It allows you to become operating in a greater way, because then the energy is increased within you. Feel the shift as you acknowledge that. It passes through all of your energy construction - that energy matrix around you.

This will give you confidence that you are actively participating in this Source Energy construction and presentation, and you don't even need to activate any machinery.

It is all done energetically, as you resonate with a higher layer of energy and you bring that forth into your life pattern. You all have brief moments when you remember your connections to your original purpose and that engages that energy within you and it passes deeply within your core energy channel, which in turn moves out through your energy centres and in turn is reflected throughout your physical form and all of what you put out around you - verbally, visually, in touch.

The foundation for much of the shifting in consciousness is firmly laid and so you will find yourself moving forward, as if you were firmly walking on a pathway which has been cleared before you, and every step you take creates another length and another strength in the energy channels through which you function.

You will have noticed a major shift in yourself since we last gathered you into this space and all of this is just to renew you in that flowing energy and to separate you from some of the disorders that have been around you.

We bring you back now into the receiving area, in consciousness. The layers that we presented you into removed you from this receiving area and now it is necessary to reinstate you into this space.

I withdraw at this point, Beloved

Orem out “

“Greetings, Ulea coming to you now and I want you to be aware that you have essentially become transformed in your intention and in your way, and you will be realising that many of your support systems will be changing as a result of your change. Information will be drawn to you. Other people will be drawn to you and this is all due to your willingness to proceed.

Orem did indicate that this carries on from the previous transmission and this is confirmation to you indeed of your focus upon everything which has been given to you.

The links you have are very strong and thus what you are holding around you is changing some of the patterns and you are again within the centre of that change. The change is unfolding and rippling out from you as a result of what you are bringing through to you and in you from Source Creation.

Momentarily also, use the energy that is flowing through you as a focus for you to use individually on self, or for other Beings. You call this healing. We refer to it as restoring order and balance and you work with the original energy pattern known as the blueprint for the human form.

I am moving rapidly around you and you may be perceiving this in some way - checking you all and presenting myself individually to you all, embracing you in the energy here.

I give this to you all at this time to assist you

Ulea out “

Lani with you again and I thank Orem and Ulea. It has been interesting again, receiving the different energy and the sense of what it all means. We will be integrating this over the next several days, feeling the flow, going with the flow of energy, allowing it to assist you as you assist others, on that clear pathway that was shown to you. Know, really know, that your energy pattern has changed and is being strengthened. You will feel the strength.

Now come back, connecting with your physical body in the present moment as you listen to this. That is all that is required - an instant reconnection into the present, and so I close the Omega Portal, for this transmission is complete. Thank you. Be fully present.

Lani
