Issue 898

Date: January 18, 2018

Time 1.30 pm

I open the Omega Communications Portal, directly linking in to the Station of Light, and from this area within the receiving area - the transition space - the greeting space of the Station - I draw you in to be with me, again to unfold you from the surroundings that you might be living in on Earth at present and expanding your awareness into greater states of consciousness and existence.

Even within your current timeline you have developed the awareness of connecting with extra-dimensional Beings. Today, you will be ready to continue the communication and experience with these Beings. Bring your attention into that higher energy self of you.

“Welcome here to you, Dear One. Orem addressing you. Around you, within you, beneath you is the appearance of a structure which this receiving area gives to you in this space.

The structure is one which you will recognise which supports you. As you evolve, this energy structure will appear in different forms to you.

Observe what is around you here, observe how you are very comfortable in this state and condition and that allows all of your senses to expand and it allows the opening within your receptors - physically emotionally and mentally, as well as in this state where you are gathered here with us. There is no need to uplift you physically. You may be listening to this while you are attending to other tasks physically. Therefore, you are aware of infinite dimensions around you which merge, and yet you are able to coexist in many such dimensions.

For you to be present in this current space with us indicates your willingness to participate in this programme of support and upliftment of many of the Beings upon Earth Station at this time. Included in that are forms that are beyond the normal human form that you are aware of - that which we have referred to as the sub human form because the true human form is already existing as being consciously integrated in the overall existence and purpose of Creation and you are able to participate in many different group gatherings as a witness to change and the change can occur simply by you witnessing communication passed between different groups gathered in the energy matrix. As this is shown to you, you are already experiencing different aspects of your own self participating in such different groupings and the groupings have an overall purpose of aligning and balancing what is occurring around the planet Earth Station at this time.

As planet Earth Station comes into balance, it allows the greater integration of the Earth Light City into the immediate existence and the particular universe that is needing it. There are many different universes existing overlapping and already you have experienced many of those as if you walk through into a different pattern, into a different type of relationship, into a different area altogether. Momentarily they may exist around you, or they may continue in your awareness for as long as it is appropriate for you to be there.

It is not always appropriate for you to linger in different existences because your purpose was being on Earth in one particular aspect of Creation until such time as you have recognised that it is transient and it is upon you to move more consciously within the Earth Light City situation.

In this moment we are bringing you into observing, overlooking, the happenings around your living situation and even that is changing as you observe and would want to bring in order and balance and establish the Light City energy frequency within you and around you. This is what you are experiencing with the deliverance of this energy transmission. Separate yourself from what you have been thinking and observing amongst other people, into the state where you are existing with Beings as we are, who come forth from other dimensions.

Presenting ourselves to you at this time, indirectly this will be having a balancing effect throughout your energy systems. You may have been responding to the release from you of the extraneous situations and patterns referred to in the previous session. The response may have given rise to sensations of being out of balance, or slightly out of alignment in some fashion. Again, we bring this to your attention so that in the energy you experience now, you are able to bring into all aspects of you that which balances and uplifts the areas of discord, into being in accordance with the energy blueprint for your ongoing existence. The ongoing existence we refer to is that you are naturally integrating the pattern of light from dimensions which are opened to you now, in such state.

This is beyond and yet is supporting the states of consciousness that are evolving around you. You are involved in bringing that energy through from deeper parts of Creation. In this way, you are able to step aside from many of the disturbances that other people around you may be involved in. You chose to step aside from those situations and draw in your alignment and energy from Source Creation.

Then, everything for your life purpose here and existence is in accordance with the energy of Source Creation, establishing the higher order for you - everything that you can sense is included in that phrase - "the higher order of Creation". Feel the energy matrix around you expanding into that, to access it, to align you as an individual completely into the connecting nodes of that pattern.

The ongoing effect will reveal itself to you, when you seek deeply within you what you have been wanting to create and achieve, so it allows you the means, the pathway, the space to expand upon what you are already offering to the ones around you and in that sense, to the greater level of consciousness.

You are observing and realising that you do not need to travel a great distance for you to experience this. Connecting through the Station of Light in this way, and those of us who are supporting you, allows you to draw in the information that other people would sense or feel that they need to travel to other systems, other planetary systems perhaps, other galaxies perhaps, and yet here you are in this sphere of the pattern of light, receiving information within the core existence appropriate and necessary for you, for your design.

Consciously, from this point of connection, you are able to draw upon the energy which in turn will convert into matter, into manifestation of matter, in the reality that you exist in, going beyond even what we would normally refer to as your physicality. You are already shifting into a different layer of that. Around you here, the group of Beings drawn to you-

"We offer to you a further expansion and we are also operating within your individual sphere of knowingness where you may be observing the group of us and seeing the patterns that we are working with around you, as you exchange older patterns, making room for this which is around you now. We always work within the energy field, because all is energy in differing densities, different spectrums, as you measure light energy frequency.

All of the deliverances to you are to regulate your systems and to allow you the space to absorb fully what you are given. Many of you have heard this previously to this. Many of you knew before you were birthed into this present life journey of this gathering space. In this way, it all is very familiar to you. The reconnections are necessary for you to consciously make and the connections, while you are experiencing them here in this vehicle of light that you are, will also be flowing those connections into the energy structure that you have as you function on the Earth Station.

You may be perceiving this as we pause between the words to allow that to come into your knowingness. We are also bringing many of you forward into the balanced state of this, and it is balancing and aligning you. Every transmission is introducing you into a further alignment and thus you need to attune and adjust to the change.

Presenting this to you, we have come into this Station from a distant area and so as you perceive us in our shape, you are identifying that. We have been variously labelled as Arcturians to you. Labelling is useful for you perhaps to identify different Beings, and yet you must learn to identify the energy pattern which is flowed around you in these states. The energy pattern is distinct and is pure and when you resonate with the particular energy pattern, then you easily identify those of us, or different groups helping you remember where you have originated from and the agreements made to reconnect back into the pattern. Some of this connection occurs in the Station and must of course be realised by you here, before it can be fully integrated into the present Earth physical body you have. It is different. The energy form you had when you existed with us was different and it was designed to exist in different density, but it is the consciousness which is what you are seeking to reconnect with.

That is all we can give to you at this time, and we withdraw. "

"Orem again addressing you, although the energy of that connection is going to be with you and will unfold more to you as you progress and integrate it. Feel yourself now becoming fully aware of this receiving aspect of the Station of Light and let that connect into your physical life pattern.

We are with you many times, Dear One, and now we withdraw

Orem out "

Lani speaking again to you. That was such a gentle energy enfolding us all, I am sure you will feel it like that, I am sure you will have experienced connections in different parts of you, so that now you are again filled with new light, new energy.

Bring this back with you now, connecting into the body that you have and let it feel that energy which we usually identify as healing, because it improves us. Be filled with the joy of that, as I am.

Fully reconnect back into your surroundings and the present time.

It is appropriate for me now to end this transmission and close the Omega Portal at this time. I do indeed give thanks to all of those Beings we were communicating with. I am sure you had lots to say to them, as well as receiving their message and energy.

Thank you. Bring it all back into the present.

Lani
