Hello again and welcome to the Omega Portal transmissions, You know what this journey is all about. You know why you are drawn to these energy messages and I know why you are drawn to the energy messages, as well. I know why I am drawn to bring the energy messages through and the communication - the energy - from higher dimensional Beings.

So, let's begin again by meeting together in our higher consciousness light body form in the receiving area of the Station of Light. Those of you who are familiar with this journey will already be aware of the surroundings, of the welcome and the energy in this receiving area - a transition space, indeed. My initial words are to help prepare you to allow yourself to receive the energy in this form. Sometimes all it does is to remind you of who you are and to remind you of what has been happening around you in the previous few days, confirming to you the inner messages and impulses you have received. Today I open myself and allow the new level of energy and information to come through me to you and to everyone in the space around us, and that means around our Earth planet. I now withdraw, sinking deeper into a state of allowance for this process.

“Orem coming forward and addressing you, as always, Beloved. You are indeed welcome here and it is through you that the greater change in the environment, in the civilisation, around you will occur.

This is how important each and every one of you is, within the evolvment process that you agreed to commit yourself to, and indeed as part of the introduction to you, for this time again it will be helping you to remember the space and the energy, the vitality that is available to you as you open to and absorb the energy coming to you and in this Station we are supporting you and we are allowing ourselves as vessels to bring this energy to you. It is an energy and information which you will draw immediately into you and that is everything that is appropriate for you which will be given to you, in you, through you, around you. It is very simple indeed.

Your allowance is a very important aspect of everything that you do. Your intention is a very important aspect of everything that you do.

We now begin the shepherding process of bringing you into a deeper state of alignment where there can be compensation surrounding you and given to you according to any disturbances that you have been experiencing recently as energy areas become out of phase and need correction, rebalancing, realignment. This has been continuing for a few sessions during these visitations that you make into the Station.

So, today it is determined again that the process is to bring more of you into the correct phase required and the phase, if we can describe that to you, is a movement throughout the universal creation, throughout many of the dimensional frequency fields which at certain times can come together and merge and create an opening which allows a deeper communication to occur. If you enter into any of these dimensional intersections without being initially prepared, then you become out of phase with what is required within that pocket of energy - that sphere of energy. Today we are working with this with each of you to bring you into phase correctly and the phase correction is also determined by the area of consciousness which you are. The area of consciousness changes in accordance with your allowance, your intention, your perspective, your creativity and your presence. In the prime energy system of creation, these areas of phase and whether they are identified as being out of phase or alignment in phase, then it is a reflection of what is occurring within you and around you. As we work with this process for you and we bring in higher componentry and Beings to facilitate this for you, then you can be assured that this phase correction and identification process is occurring around you in various places upon the planet.

As we said, this is another layer of the energy field surrounding you all that is necessary. It is not contained as it were to be defined, because all energy is in motion, but it can be clearly identified and sensed. If you have been sensing a difference in different parts of your awareness, or different parts of your body, this could be related to the out of phase correction that was needed for you. Following this transmission and the integration of it, as you allow that to occur, you will notice an improvement, a clearness indeed.

We would want you to identify the clear space around you, if you had correctly initiated what was given to you in the previous transmission, to bring in the clear energy into your personal space, wherever that would be, wherever you go in your daily experience.

Significantly, all that is given to you currently indicates to you, you have moved into using the energy in a more conscious fashion than you may have been doing in your current lifetime and of course this is because you have been allowing the clearness to occur. The clearance gives you the new connection and the ways to use the energy more appropriately. Some of these appropriate ways have only recently come to your conscious thoughts.

That is just part of the process and we are observing this. We acknowledge this happening within you each. Momentarily, experience the shift this may be giving you within your energy centres present here in your light body presence. Correspondingly, this will also occur in different aspects of your physicality, now that everything is in phase with the energy shifts and the dimensional unfoldment around you.

All around the greater consciousness surrounding the Earth planet, the dimensional changes and adjustments are apparent to many who are using greater sight, greater insight, which is very strongly in many of you and others who do not directly link in with these messages. Perhaps they have not been connected into them. Each Being who is awakening receives the information necessary for them and this is all part of the greater commitment and agreement before this current lifetime and around you in many different phases of existence, the many aspects of you present. You could be experiencing these various aspects connecting directly with you at this time. Some are enhancing you. Some are drawing upon the energy that you have become, because it is what they need in their particular phase of existence. It does not detract from you. What happens in this evolutionary process of unfolding consciousness is that you receive everything which enhances you. It is part of a higher unfoldment within the connections and the dimensional confluence of many streams of information and it is all coming into you in the present. This is how important you are in the Present.

Become very intent on what you wish to create to help the process. That helps you and the many others associated with you, collectively. Expansion is clearly occurring as your consciousness field and thus you become aware of a continuation of a state of existence which is beyond comprehension of many who are focusing intently on the mental and visible occurrences on the planet. Many of those do not expand into a higher understanding of the purpose of many of the happenings.

When you come into the Station here you have already risen above that layer of mental activity, of many of the patterns that become engaged in the human thought pattern. Most of those are related to emotions of anger or fear and of course those do not exist in this pattern in this timeline. They are not necessary. You would find that people would tell you that they are necessary to understand and to learn and to grow. That is from their perspective. That is what they wish to achieve. You will see the difference in your own thought patterns, from that example given.

As we bring this information to you, are you aware of other dimensional Beings helping you? You may see many of them creating openings, or clearing pathways, adjusting energy pathways within your own energy form here. Many different aspects and reasons for their presence for each of you is apparent. Allow yourself to experience that, to sense it, and you will understand the pattern that you are perceiving. Even in your busy days as you go about creating your days, be aware of the greater dimensional presence with you, engaged in what you are doing, engaged in helping you. Many connections are visible from this level of awareness and all of those connections can be adjusted and cleared, just in the same way that you receive the benefit of your presence here in this pattern.

Already you have taken within you a great deal of change and as you absorb this in your light body presence here, I am bringing you back to the receiving aspect of the Station. This helps you to understand the many layers that are part of you coming into the Station and all of this is being activated and encompassed in the intention of today's visitation.

I withdraw now, Beloved

Orem out "

This is Lani again. Thank you Orem. I am still aware of the dimensional Beings around us here. I am sensing some translucent blue energy, a fine light blue - maybe that is just how I perceive it. You might perceive a different variation of the energy portrayed in my senses as a colour. It is all about improvement, assistance.

It was very interesting to receive the information about out of phase conditions and it was another level of the balancing that has been occurring in each of us and around the planet, and to me I sense it is preparing us for another wave of energy about to suffuse us. I don't know whether it will be soon within the next week, or the next month, or just when it will be. It may be different for every one of us. Be aware of it. I am sure the adjustments that we have been receiving will help us integrate the energy that is right for each one of us.

I love this process. It is simple and yet I know what the Beings have been trying to describe to us is much more complex than the simple way they present it to us, so many of you will be much more aware of a different level of understanding of that. If you are at all technical or perhaps in quantum physics or whatever that realm is, you will understand it.

Now you must come back into your physical body and I know that you will feel cleared and different from what you have been receiving in this transmission. Enjoy it, and I do enjoy this work that I do to bring this through to you.

Therefore, I close the Omega Portal for this transmission which is complete at this time.

Thank you
Lani
