Issue 916

Date: May 24, 2018

Time 4 pm

We begin this session, in the usual fashion by identifying your light body - your higher state of consciousness that exists as a body of light, and as you identify that, I call you to be with me and we assemble in that space we have identified as the receiving area in the Station of Light.

Do you feel that come over you - the sense of the energy - as you move in that space and you identify yourself in that space? I sense it surrounding us all. Even though details may not be clear, I know we are in that area that facilitates the messages to come through and the energy to come through and therefore it is up to you how you receive it. You might experience it just by hearing the words, or you might receive it by experiencing different colours or communication in some manner. It is what you resonate with and how you perceive things which reveals the energy message to you at this time.

So, as we begin and you start sensing the shifting energy around you, allow yourself to be open and be aware of an aspect of Self that you are in this space. That is all that is required and I withdraw to allow the information to come through from the Beings present here in the Station.

“It was agreed that we would come to you in this way, Beloved. Orem addressing you in this space, because I hold the energy for you here and present it to you in different forms and in different transitions between different dimensional aspects and spaces.

Indeed it was agreed that as the Beings became more conscious of the assistance of other dimensional lifeforms, then we would draw those who were ready into this space. It has been in preparation for many of your yearly measurements, although we have existed around you and around different aspects of you in a continuation, so that you would be guided, in a sense, to be helped to resonate with the higher existing aspects of creation. This could be seen as a stepping stone for you, a state that you can come into where you could access information yourself, or you could access the energy for the purposes of helping you or others.

Indeed there are many different areas in this space, for it becomes a transforming space, it can become a transportation space. In many ways, as you come into many of the meeting rooms and you meet other Beings, you become involved in the greater civilisation of consciousness assisting other levels of manifestation.

The focus is always upon you as you come into this space, so that we can assist you to reorganise aspects of your own self and contemplation of self and attitudes of self and attitudes that you hold toward what is happening around you in your spaces of livingness and indeed around planet Earth as it is at present.

So, here we begin the transmission of your energy experience in this session.

We have helped you to lay aside many of the belief systems that have existed in layers of consciousness around Earth. In laying them aside there has been revealed to you many pathways you can take toward overcoming the limitations that you have, and some of those limitations would be emotional responses, and when you see clearly the expansion of the dimensional field that has surrounded you, then you are cooperating with the Beings who have come forward, with agreement by you, to help you take part in an existence whereby you are able to extend your energy field into many different aspects of Creation.

You are able to extend your presence into many of the other aspects of self who are ongoing in their experiences in creation and many of those have consciously chosen a way that they feel they know is a way to reconnect with universal consciousness. There is this overall aspect of helping each other in this process of experience and in this way, you avoid the necessity to experience deeply any more experiences you would label as painful or difficult, because that has already been held in the consciousness state from which you emerged as this individual that we are addressing here.

As we deliver this to you, we are also observing the energy field around you and many of you are being connected into a conscious state where you can experience many of the lifetimes you have had, not just on planet Earth, but others where you have gained experience to help you reorganise what is happening in the current phase on planet Earth. To facilitate this assistance programme and process, we are drawing you into another field of energy which you can consciously draw into you here. Momentarily, let go of all aspects that you know relating to planet Earth, so that you exist as a pure field of energy and information, within a pure field of energy and information. A connection to this state brings about a conscious recollection into you, of what is needed now in your presence and in the present form that you have. This may give you a greater insight into people's thoughts and actions and the reason they take certain actions and it will also help you to see through the superficial aspects of the person into this deeper state of connection where you are experiencing this.

You will be aware that this is giving a sense of freedom to your individuality present here within this oneness, and also to other ones you are mixing with.

As many more people experience this, then new creations will be coming forth into your world. New creations cannot be brought forward until there is a certain level of understanding and realisation within the consciousness of a greater number of people. This indicates to you that new creations do not happen until there is the preparation completed in certain circuitry within mind, within vision and knowing and we are speaking about higher level creationism here to move you beyond what has been helped to sustain you in your present state of existence.

When you draw upon this energy consciously, it will help smooth out what is around you, to enable new creations to come forward. You are creating those by allowing yourself to resonate with higher states of beingness. This does not necessarily place you within the Earth Light City, but it does prepare you for placement within that and it prepares you to realise the existence of that in your current space time reality. There are many elements being drawn into the consciousness field around you and then of course into creation around the planet from other levels who come forward to assist you.

Many of the Observer beings who are watching and assessing are able to a limited way, offer assistance by introducing thought patterns and if the thought patterns are not received because the vibration of the human form is not high enough, then nothing happens.

Many people are being visited by Observer beings and other ones who come forward when you request help and when you request help, that arises from a deep knowing that you can be helped, that change can occur and be given.

You are indeed complex in your motivations, thought patterns, actions. Some of those are scattered around you, until you make conscious connection to the higher state that you have known and aspects of you still exist in that higher state.

This is what we want to present to you in this aspect of the message.

You may be aware that what has manifested around many people can be disturbing and this happens if there is a disturbance in the individual's energy field. The more that you can draw upon this higher existence resonating energy, then the more it is that you can see clearly what needs to be removed or repaired in other people. It is similar to how you might feel you are washing different aspects of structures that you have around you, or repairing connections to allow a greater flow of something to occur. We perform these functions many times in our ways of assisting you.

As we are communicating with you in this way, we are also letting you know that there are many realities existing around you. You do not need to stay in one reality which might be disturbing you. It is a conscious choice and when you choose to move out of that reality, then you will find your perception changes and what you perceive around you will change. In that way you are changing your reality. It is not that we are talking about shifting you into an alternate reality. It is just everything is around you and you may have chosen to experience some distortion of the actual reality that you need to be in. We are addressing you as Light Beings, of course, in this situation who are already aware of the connections you have and the purpose you have for being here on Earth. We are considering many aspects of you here and we are immersing you in this field again of higher resonance for you.

Each transmission serves to support you in the process that you have engaged. Perhaps the primary thought you have is simply to be clear, to be healthier, to be more aware, to be able to help. All of this is observed by the Observers, by us who have drawn you here into the Station. This also resets some of the elements in you that need continual adjustment as you move in and out of various realities and influences, as you move through your daily activities. Each time you immerse yourself in the transmissions, you are relieving yourself of any disturbances that may have been attracted into your energy field.

Now it is time for us to restore you back to the receiving area of the Station. You have achieved again connection into clarity and you may have glimpsed many other areas around here of meetings, of information being accessed and of travel. That all does continue around your visitations here, even though we do hold you in this state present, in the presentation. All of this is within you again, Beloved and I leave at this particular time

Orem out “

“Ulea coming forward to you again. I have not been with you consciously and communicating with you in this way for a few sessions, but I am here and I am here with the Observers. You may sense us? We are here to fill you with the Light and Energy and to oversee the connections that have occurred in your energy field in this session, surrounding you. It is to us as if we are observing circuitry in your energy matrix and this will be serving you. It allows the integration of the higher pattern again into you and you will realise this during the days. We are here now to help you move back into your physical body, bring all of this into you in every way that you need it, and it is with love and joy that we see this happening.

Ulea out “

Lani again and I give my thanks to Ulea, the Overseers and Orem and the higher aspects of you. Are you feeling it drawing into you as a beautiful pattern that you can use? This I see happening as you bring this back, connecting in your body. Feel you are standing barefoot on the planet somewhere, connecting into the Earth gravity and energy, and you are bringing energy into it. Feel the benefit of this as I close the portal. Be completely back in your body. I am glad to bring this to you in this way, thank you
