Issue 924
Date: July 19, 2018
Time 4.30 pm

Welcome into this space, the Omega Communications Portal, with me as we begin another journey to experience being within the Station of Light and especially within that aspect of yourself which we identify as your body of light, that houses the greater aware consciousness, without the confines of the physical body unit. This is what I address when I am speaking to you and this is that aspect of you that accompanies me into the receiving area of the Station

We always, as we enter into this space, have a sense of things being organised around us and for us, and in that respect what comes through is organised for all of us who present ourselves into this energy system. Therefore, the adjustment time when we first move into this receiving area space allows for all of the information to be assembled, to be presented to you, to envelop you within. This is part of the adjustment also that you go through to expand your awareness and all of your senses to perceive what is appearing here and what is appropriate for you. Right now is the time for all of this to envelop you, so consciously open your mind and your heart and relax your body, even relaxing your mind, letting go of the mental hold that most of us have as we live in the body in the environment today. This is how we begin today.

“Coming into this space with you in this presentation, Dear One, as a great group and as an individual we address you.

This is Orem addressing you as we begin to expose all of the layers of yourself and who you are and as we expose what level of dimensional existence we operate in and we function in, in this Station of Light. Exposing it to you means that you experience deeply the energy presentation to you and so it is in accordance with your energy frequency because everything that you resonate with, you can experience and because you have been continuing the process to be clear and to raise your energy frequency pattern, then this is why you can perceive more of what is happening here within this Station and around this Station.

This sphere operating in dimensional coordinates that exist outside of the confines of the Earth energy system and consciousness is able to bring to you and envelop around you the expansion of the consciousness field which has come in around Earth Station, expanding from the field of energy passing throughout all of creation. Unfoldment is the appropriate definition for you and the unfoldment exposes the presence of this Station and so it can be coming into the conscious awareness and perception of a great many more number of people and groups. You will be needing to be discerning what has been described as this Station by other Beings and other presenters of information, discerning how it resonates with you as you consider what you experience each time you are with us in these transmissions.

Already you have been experiencing the shift in energy pattern frequencies around you. Perhaps you have identified these as a change in season, perhaps as a shift in light frequency you feel coming through sun rays, perhaps you feel it is as a result of some different nutritional aspect you have taken into you. Have you considered it is because of the expansion of consciousness, that you have now raised your energy pattern and you have done this by absorbing and integrating what you have been receiving coming in from the dimensional existences and Beings external to the processes normally available to you as existing in the human form.

The deliverance of the higher energy pattern is carefully observed and monitored. Your reactions are monitored. Every little bit of enlivenment you experience indicates that you have indeed been integrating the energy frequency. We say this to you so that you will acknowledge this in yourself. Also, acknowledge that you have not been delivered onto Earth and left alone to restore a pattern of existence. You have always had the connection through the higher aspects of your own consciousness to the fields of assistance, regardless of where you would be geographically around the surface of the planet, or within it, or just above it. It depends entirely on your focused intention and alignment through the dimensional openings and alignments as to what you will be receiving and at this time it is appropriate for you to step into the pattern that is presented to you here.

See it as if you are walking through an opening into a vibration, a frequency, that can be visible to you perhaps as colour. This is an aspect of that field of energy previously described as the crystalline energy pattern. Presenting you into it as a gradual and increasing increments allows you to have the realisations of what is happening and how it can be improving your awareness, the channels of energy and information that pass through your energy systems and your channels of communication that you have with other Beings, whether they are in the human body form or beyond into other dimensional forms.

It is where you are most needed that you will be drawn into and the ones that you can work with also will be drawn in around you in some way.

Identification patterns will come to you in the sense of your feelings, your acknowledgement, you may hear a pattern of words spoken to you that will satisfy your understanding of what you are receiving and who you are mixing with.

You already have the way to identify specific phrases because you resonate with specific phrases and people and you are using extraordinary senses. Some of this you will have experienced in your first few years of existence in this physical body you have. This is when you are more receptive because you have the communication channels still clearly operating and functioning to help support you in the transition from the higher energy existence coming into the Earth plane as it is currently in this civilisation. This civilisation currently of course has developed very well as you continue through your journey and you continue to bring in the higher pattern.

You already have realised that you need to keep your energy systems clear and as part of that and the ongoing filtration patterns you go into in this Station clears away what you may have inadvertently absorbed and some of you have consciously absorbed and taken into you various elements that change your pattern of energy that exists throughout you which have distorted your understanding, your view and your senses. Take this opportunity again to divest yourself, eliminating completely from your energy system here as your light body energy system, everything that has disturbed you. During the remainder of this session this energy will be continuing to move through you. You will identify much of what you have taken into you that is being referred to and even though you may have stopped taking in the substances into you that you have become aware of, there can still be an imprint that distorts the energy pattern. All of this is visible in this area that we are communicating with you within, and that is part of the process always in your visitations here.

Moving into another area, there are patterns carefully being laid out, prepared for presentation into some of the vortex areas existing around the planet. Others are still being activated and enlivened so that they are clearly visible as receiving aspects within the Earth framework for the dimensional pathways to come into and connect with as part of the ongoing shifting process and upliftment process of you all. This indeed is creating a separation and you will have seen there is a shifting around the planet where people are identifying with other aspects you might say other contracts, other land masses, and it is all because of resonance and how people are drawn into different collection areas located around the planet, quite naturally gathering or visiting momentarily. The visit may be as you travel and have excursions into other countries or other parts of where you live. It is the inner sense which will draw you into the specific coordinates where you can, during the immersion in the energy at that particular intersection, be receiving upgrades to your circuits, reminders, replenishing specific elements within you. It is individual simply because your needs as an individual Being differ from everyone else, although some are very similar. You have a unique coding that identifies you. It identifies where the inner essence of you originated from, and we are not speaking about specific land masses on the planet here and the information that you are needing will come into you.

All of this is part of what is being assessed and sorted out within various aspects and spheres within this station of light. You are participating in this yourself. You are preparing what is necessary for you to receive and at the highest level, you already have received everything, because you are that conscious aspect of Creation.

This is the intention and the purpose of this particular message infusion to you today, to help you remember that. You will feel the change in your energy essence with this immersion in this transmission.

And just as we began communicating with you in the receiving area, you now have come back into that receiving area, partly because you already sense you have reconnected and you have received what you were seeking. And thus it is done and therefore I leave you at this point

“I greet you here Dear one, this is Ulea and I present myself here to you in this space briefly assisting you, moving around you, loving you and all that you are, because in this highest state of consciousness we are One.

Now you have already commenced feeling that you are bringing all of this back into your physical energy systems and the environs where you are on Earth. You travelled into very deep inner states as you absorbed and reconnected this energy and this is why I am here with you, to bring you back in the Earth plane. You may sense me guiding you individually back to your body system. Love this unit you have. Love all aspects of who you are, and that is why I am with you in this space.

I withdraw to allow you to fully integrate now back into the Earth space.

Ulea out “

Lani speaking again and I give my thanks to Ulea and Orem. This seems to have been a short session and yet when I observe the time-lapse, it has been the usual time. We must have gone very deeply inside during this session.

Now you are in control again of your body and yourself, so take a deep breath in, filling yourself with everything you experienced in this session and as you let it out, you are firmly reconnected again into the current time, into your present location - and it is a reminder to be filled with love and joy.

It is appropriate now to end this session through the Omega Portal and I am sure we will continue again. I do thank you for being here with me

Lani
