Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

It is time again to meet up and to step out of ordinary measurement of time to take your place again connecting with your higher self consciousness to be with the Beings in the Station of Light. Therefore, all the preparation that is needed is for you to devote this time that we are together, usually about 20 minutes, devoting it to your higher self and to everything that you can receive to support you on this amazing journey that you are experiencing on Earth today. It is even more amazing because you have connected back to your higher self and your purpose. These energy journeys into the Station of Light help expand you and support you on that journey, fulfilling your purpose here on Earth. Come with me to be fully conscious that you are present in the receiving area of the Station of Light. We have already begun this transmission, because you have actively engaged, or connected yourself, into the flow of energy here.

The word time slip keeps coming into my mind as I am giving you this opening, so it is like slipping out of time, but slipping into a time slip where you extract yourself from Earth lineal time and you enter within out of time in another dimensional aspect of time. So, here we are - waiting - listening - receiving already.

. “ Welcome into this space every one of you, Orem addressing you. Individually you are receiving your individual pattern, you are receiving individual information in the context that information is contained within the energy frequency patterns here. Therefore, it is your choice and up to you to expand your inner vision and sensing to perceive what these energy patterns are revealing to you. You may have the sense that you are stepping into an energy construct of some form - a shape - a dimensional shape - a geometric shape. Sometimes you would perceive this as a colour and losing the sense of what is around you even here in this Station of Light area where you have connected into your light body.

There is the continuation of yourself in a higher form, your higher consciousness state which exists in this space, and you may be merging with that now fully, or you may sense it as a separate aspect of you coming forward, greeting you and helping you. It is all relevant to you in the most appropriate method that you have set in place for yourself to receive. You may have thoughts currently in your mind here that the reality is quite different to what you would expect it to be in this space and you might be questioning whether you are clear enough to identify this space correctly and to receive correctly. When you lose the analytical thoughts about this, you are more open to the intensity of the energy frequency patterns around you.

Already you may be feeling you know what is being presented to you. This arises because you have been here already and you are catching up with the aspect of yourself that exists here. In that sense, what you will be receiving is confirmation and clarification and also energy which will be working uniquely for you through your body of light patterning here. You are constantly evolving. Energy creativeness and creation is constantly evolving, changing. When you are coming into these spaces with the intention of evolvment, upliftment and clarification, this is what you receive. Your intention is always indicative of the pattern that is going to be presented to you and also the events, circumstances and experiences which you have in your daily routines of existence. As you are receiving this energy information in this space, your physicality is actively accepting and utilising already what you are experiencing here. This is because your linkages are very strong and clear. Also, it is upon you to maintain this higher pattern of energy to allow you to continue the progress you are making physically in your space time dimension known as planetary system Earth.

You have the opportunity at this time to exchange more vital information with the higher aspect of yourself here, and in the exchange you are receiving support, emotionally, mentally, physically and the support also goes into cellular activity, cellular energy carries imprints of memory and what you have experienced. Therefore, all of this becomes enhanced and very necessary for you at this time so that you maintain a higher level of this energy system and awareness around you.

You will remember that you are present on the Earth plane and in your environment to bring in the resources for other people in the way that you understand how you are able to use the resources. These resources you have already around you, or you are currently drawing to you. Some of the resources will be involving you becoming engaged in the dimensional flow of energy coming through the solar gateway. This will be presented to you in many different ways, either in these transmissions or in your own states of observation and imagery which you receive in your attunement processes, or in the states when you pass in and out of deep sleep. Learning to use the energy and to expand your energy field when you have revitalised yourself within the flow is becoming the ideal way and predominant way for assistance to flow out through you in multi-directions and this was part of what you agreed to be doing. Your agreement and understanding of your presence on Earth may be somewhat different to this simple explanation. Allow what you are receiving here to expand your present existence and way of presenting energy in that assistance programme initiated already through you.

You may have been noticing a time shift where you are changing elements of your consciousness field as you are busily engaging different elements of your emotional or thought patterns or physicality. The time shift you are noticing is working in accordance with the flows of energy coming through the solar portal. It is all part of the evolvment and change and you will be taking into consideration this time shift when you relate it to the time spent when your energy is uplifted and you feel you are actively present in a higher existence.

As we are presenting this to you, that sense of the time shift will be around you. Stabilise yourself within the higher energy field. It has an energy structure. It has the equivalent of a pulse in a field which manifests in your sensory ways of receiving as something quite different to the materiality that you have created in your living circumstances. During this time here with us, enjoy the freedom state which you enter into in this time shift and moving out of the progression of lineal time. You are existing in a state where everything you need is around you and is in accordance with the energy pattern which is you.

Again we come to the point where you will be experiencing yourself simply as energy and as part of this, be aware that you are interacting with different groups of Beings here in the Station and with activities that you are participating in as you align yourself with some of the groups here. There are many chambers and places that you may be drawn into in this state, in accordance with your perception and your needs. You are actively engaged in some of the processes which are existing within this Station of Light. There are groups who are overseeing travellers from other dimensions who come into the Station. There are other groups who check the energy systems of individuals such as that which occurs when you enter into this space when your energy system is checked. There are groups collecting information and data from other travellers who come into here and some of you are collecting information and data from Beings from other parts of Earth planet who meet up with you here.

You are reinforcing and strengthening each one's presence here and in this way, your sense of community is very strong in this altered state where you meet. It is distinguishable from physical meetings you have with people you may have aligned with, groups where you come together to celebrate or communicate or in other ways. The level of connection in this time shift state differs from those groups on Earth. Here, you are communicating purely by sharing energy. You will be having the sense of communication, of course, but it is energy communication, sharing particular energy nodes, and concepts and aspects of creation, sharing in a greater amount of communication and sharing than particular words and phrases could come through to you.

As you move more into existing within the evolving crystalline light cities, this sense of communion and sharing is what you will be immersed within. What you are receiving in this moment in the transmission is preparing you for that. You would understand it is a reality. It is a reality you are familiar with. You separated yourself from it by entering within the density of the aspect of planet Earth as it is currently, but of course that is only one aspect of planet Earth. As you know, already the higher evolved cities of light exist, still as part of planet Earth, and the civilisations existing within the Earth hidden from normal sight. That is still part of planet Earth. The difference is when you share in the communion of this energy, there is no conflict, there is understanding. You may be experiencing this now.

I ask you to absorb all of that now and bring your sensing back within your body of light where you are within the receiving area here with us. You have received everything that you chose to receive in this session. There is a great deal more to be unfolded from these few experiences here in this transmission. With all of this now gathered into the sense of you here, I withdraw

Orem out “

Thank you Orem. This is Lani again speaking to everybody and I am feeling the connection, I am feeling that I am surrounded by many, many, people. You who have made yourself known to me in many ways, and many who I am not fully aware of, but it is this sense of communion and reconnection in this way that fills me with light and a sense of joy and expansion.

I am sure you will be experiencing this too.

It is time now to bring this experience back into conscious reality within the body form that you have now in Earth, so you will feel your are merging, settling back into this body and you are surrounding your body because your energy field has expanded as part of the consciousness expansion.

Part of your consciousness will remain connected into that crystalline light city referred to - in whatever way you would use your own words to define that. It is almost like drawing it down, like a beautiful net of consciousness over you and over everyone who is ready to receive it around the planet, and therefore those higher evolved Beings, usually hidden from sight, will recognise what you are doing and they may take the opportunity to reveal themselves to you, with their own messages to you.

It is time for me to close the Omega Portal now that this transmission is concluded so I ask you to take in a breath, open your eyes, and as you let it out, you will feel you are fully present in the present moment on Earth again. You will of course, know that time has shifted, so this is why it is important when you step out of time into a different dimension, it is important to come back into your body into the current time as we measure it on Earth, in the moment. It is important to do that, I feel, so that you bring in higher energy into current time. Again, it has been my pleasure to bring this through to you today and there will be another sessions next week. Thank you everyone.
