Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

This is Lani speaking to you and welcoming you into this space again, as we continue to merge together in the receiving area of the Station of Light and this continues the flow of energy, the absorption of energy into you, the cleansing of everything that is no longer needed in you. It is a process and I am sure you all have been using many different methods to cleanse and adjust and take in the higher patterns of light.

So, in this receiving area of the Station we are ready to begin this session and to allow the energy to unfold through the words which I will be speaking, but for the energy. It is for you to feel your response to the energy with the words that is so important.

Are you ready? Have you created enough space to be at one with everything which comes through in the session? You are already within a different state of consciousness here.

“ Now we begin, Beloved, This is Orem addressing you and as I enfold you in everything that is available to you here, you will be resonating only with particular aspects of it which you are ready to perceive and to receive. There would be no point in receiving information or patterns that have no relevance in your current lifetime. We are aware, even in saying that, that what we are able to do is to remind you that in this space you may easily reconnect through the highest aspects of your consciousness to what you were designed to bring into the current civilisation you are functioning in and this includes different ways of using the energy which is around you.

There are many of you aware that you are keeping the channels open, in relation to the inter dimensional portals, allowing the higher adjusting frequency patterns to come in and others with you - beside you - will be receiving what you are allowing to come through the portals. In particular we refer to the solar portal which is functioning as the major portal for the entire Earth-being at this time. Because you are part of the Earth-being pattern, it is necessary for you to recognise this, simply in the way perhaps that you are aware of rays of intense patterns coming in around you.

One of the aspects and functions of these intense patterns is to revitalise, to cleanse and clear. The energy systems which you are involved in, as a complete unit of the Earth-being, have become damaged and changed due to the influences and to the undertakings of many groups upon the planet. You are not separate from much of what is occurring and the need for assistance was widely recognised throughout other dimensional patterns and many of you called upon help to be clear. The more that you focus on your own individual unit being clear, will enable you to be stronger and therefore your strength will radiate out to assist many other people and parts of the planet in its livingness itself.

When you apply the energy patterns into yourself, you may at first perceive difficulty or resistance.

The resistance will arise from the consciousness which has been cultivated in a way that there is mistrust in using the energy and there is the loss of trust in it being able to assist in any way.

So, as we progress further with this, take into the essence of you which is here in this Station the higher aspect of yourself already receiving communication and information through the open portal. We are supervising this process for you and we are able to adjust you to the different layers of the energy patterns coming through from other systems of light. There are different entities, different layers, different energy constructs which are significant in different ways for different members present here, so it is not the same message being received by you all.

Many times you have the intention and the desire to fix. To fix what you see around you in the world being enacted in whatever way and you lose your sense of identity when you do that as an energy essence, as an energy Being, so we remind you always to ensure that your connection to your pure essence aspect is very strong and when you are working deeply with that energy system, you will observe that there is nothing that you could see that needs fixing. It just needs exposure to the light essence of Creation and then the appropriateness will occur of whatever is needed. You act by presenting the light essence of Creation - offering it - and in the previous transmission it was brought to your attention the energy matrix flowing around you and the planet, so in a sense, this is what you do - you offer that energy matrix around the planet. Then it is individual choice of other Beings to accept that, to acknowledge it, to align themselves with it.

You would feel as we describe this to you, the energy within you and indeed you will see that it separates you from many of the conditions experienced, or within your mind, and on which you pass a judgement.

Observing from the deeper aspect of Creation allows this overlaying flow of light essence to go out from you.

We would also advise you that many of you are being repositioned. The repositioning can be outworked in some of your body systems, some of your support physical systems, but the true repositioning is repositioning you within the dimensional streams and aspects of light civilisations. This may make more sense to you now of what you have been experiencing emotionally or physically. A sense of unstable condition, out of balance, out of order and the more that you acknowledge that it needs you to be repositioned in any sense, then you will be receiving and you will be feeling the repositioning of you in the absolute Earth-time dimension.

We have been amongst many of you observing your relationships in regard to what is occurring around the Earth planet, as opposed to what you are sensing coming through the avenues of light - the passageways and the Beings who come to you in their various forms.

For a moment in this session, feel that you are one with the greater community here and there are many aspects, many Beings with you. You will see the ones appropriate for you to acknowledge and to realise that they are the ones who are with you. You would feel the energy embracing you.

As we continue with the flow of energy through this transmission, it is moving deeply in through your body light into your current position. From your current position, as you absorb the repositioning energy from the extended dimensional field, some of you will be aware that you are helping other aspects of yourself. Always this is part of the sessions which you experience here.

You may also be realising that you can regulate what you take into you and that includes everything in the way of your personal situation, your livingness, you are able to regulate the flow of energy, the amount of energy which you are prepared to absorb at this time, the amount of energy which will be activating you in different ways and also increasing your activity as it relates to the original purpose for your presence here on Earth and bringing in the pattern of light.

You are presented at this time with an individual sphere of light which contains all of this information presented to you and more than that. It will contain more when you are ready to resonate with more and you allow the information to come through to you in your own fashion, in your own words, in your dreams, your writing, your artworks. The many methods that you have already been working with will be utilised to unfold the information to you. Some of it will be revealing that you are not really living the true pattern of your life. That true pattern is the way you are living in the evolved crystalline light cities, so you are just a fragment of the higher aspect of yourself existing. That does not mean that what you are doing is of less importance. Everything that you are has importance and relevance. Let it be known to yourself and acknowledged that the evolved aspect of yourself is always there to help improve conditions for you in the Earth plane in the life you are currently focused in.

So, in this sense, you will realise that there is nothing that can be destroyed. There are many things that can be transformed and uplifted and you will resonate with the most appropriate pattern for you, for what you assigned yourself to do and to become in the current physical body.

The relocation has been important for you in this session - the repositioning throughout you, and this was the information needed at this time, therefore, I gather you back to be aware that you are within the receiving area of this Station of Light, in your powerful body of light here, and this great body of light is equipped to help the repositioning of the body that you take it back into. It is a great receiver. You will feel the change as you integrate the energy of this transmission Beloved and this visitation in the Station.

I withdraw now

Orem out “

Lani back again and that was very interesting, thank you Orem, because I was experiencing it, even though I had stepped back to allow what he needed to bring forward to come through me, and so I feel I really need everything he was expressing, and I am very grateful for that.

Now, I turn my attention to you, every individual Being present here. Do you feel more aligned and alive and clear? Perhaps some of you needed relaxation. You will have received just what you needed at this time and that will continue to unfold to you, especially through that sphere of light you were presented with. A beautiful sphere of light that perhaps you sensed you were holding, or perhaps you sensed you entered within it. Beautiful energy for you.

Now I want you to make sure that you bring all of this back into the physical body and I want you to take in a breath and open your eyes and draw all of that energy fully, completely, back into your current body. Surround yourself in that energy - the energy you drew through the solar portal and the sphere of light, the energy of the higher aspect of yourself existing in the crystalline light city and it will have an impact on you in the way that you need it. Perhaps it will help you understand something, perhaps it will be different to that.

Anyway, I leave this with you and I close this transmission through the Omega Communications Portal at this time, Thank you for being in this energy transmission with me.
