Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

I link with you and gather you in with me, into the encompassing energy field. So, as you begin participating in this session, expand your awareness around your body, settle yourself in a quiet space, in a receptive mood, and feel that expansion around your energy field.

Now we can begin, so come with me as we raise our energy systems and our awareness to connect into the receiving area in the Station of Light. We have come again to experience some insight, perhaps a change in energy patterning or frequency and whatever else is helpful to us and to the evolutionary process on planet Earth as it is today in our particular life stream.

Already we have become assembled in the receiving area, so we begin in this way, as usual.

“Coming forward in this space to connect with you all, I am Commander Orem and it is my station to welcome you, to gather you together in such a space as this.

You are particularly able to enter into this space quickly and easily and as you become more familiar with this, it is like stepping through a veil into this dimension. Indeed, it is a different dimension and it has been created in this space as a gathering area, as a communication space, and is part of the connected network of Portals within this part of Creation and it is used and can be used more, as a portal to move beyond the atmosphere of Earth.

In this brief introduction the energy has been moving around you, deeply connecting into your energy systems. You may be already experiencing the sense of releasing attachments that have been created around you, so now you are able to extend your perception into various other areas of creation here.

There are many of you gathering together information and gathering together other aspects, materials perhaps, as well as information, and remembering where you have been, remembering what it is that you needed to be working with in your current circumstances and remembering the position that each of you came from in a different aspect of Self and why it was necessary for you to come into the Earth space and why it is necessary for you to remember the qualities and the energy patterns from your Point of Origin.

Through the changes which you are witnessing around you on the planet, there is merging a different style of civilisation again, one which is better matched with the style of civilisation where each one is actively supporting a network group of Beings and you will be aware also that you bring together many concepts and many groups and the bringing together increases the dimensional effect of the highest point of consciousness achieved in that group. You are able to attract different levels of information and patterns of light.

When you identify with the higher aspect of Self, you are connecting with a higher frequency in the spectrum of light and that contains the concepts and information. You could view this as rising up and connecting into a particular bandwidth and bringing that back through you into the connected network of consciousness in which you exist. This is the greatest level that you can work with in current circumstances and it is a level which contains specific thought patterns and creative concepts which can readily be established in and around your life pattern.

The level from which you are drawing all of this exists in that civilisation we have referred to as the crystalline light civilisation. This has been presented as the next evolutionary stage. We do want you to realise that it has always been present within an aspect of this planetary system. With the oscillation of civilisations, manifestation and demanifestation and movement and experiences through many opportunities, the higher frequency pattern can be overlooked, as the focus and intention of the mass population shifts into another level of productivity.

Now that you have become aware that the solar portal is providing a different frequency pattern, which can be amplified, then coming into manifestation is the higher frequency civilisation. It just had not been recognised by many people, for the reason stated and now that the frequency patterns have been cleared enough that you can access the information systems available to you, you are more efficiently managing the inflow of energy coming into you. This may have been creating disturbances for some Beings on Earth and surrounding environs - those who come forward to parallel your existence and to also achieve a higher frequency pattern alongside you. So, together there is a mass gathering to complete the exchange of energy and information and the absorption of the next phase referred to generally as the shift in consciousness, and all of this again is an individual process for each one.

It cannot be said that you must all be functioning at a certain frequency pattern of light.

When you do choose to specifically place yourself into the specific patterning where you access the information, this moves you into attunement with that pattern. You do need to be able to release resistances and to absorb the energy to effect a major change within your physical body systems. Again, we are assisting you in this process during this transmission to you. The experience of this will give you the sense that you are more in control, because you realise you choose the patterning appropriate for you. Whatever pattern you choose for the next calibration of you will draw to you the level of assistance from that dimensional frequency pattern and thereby you are receiving more assistance until you become one with all of the sequences involved in the recalibration of you to that level.

This can indicate that you leave behind your concerns about people on Earth and what they are doing to manifest or to change - we are talking about people in authority on Earth - and as you raise your frequency pattern, what will become apparent to you is the intention and the vibration coming into Earth from the upper levels of Creation. So, as you receive all of this through the Solar Portal, you will also be aware of the connection into other portals present around the planet and you will be aware of some of these and so with the awareness that these are being synchronised into the current Earth Portal time-frame - the time dimension - then, you will see the importance of this pattern of linking in with it all, of allowing yourself to be immersed in the energy portals that are apparent to you, especially in the current phase around you.

There has been the sense of urgency about this, that you are wanting to really connect in with this, to change yourself and to change what you see happening on Earth. Well, do you understand that the most important change is for you to accept the energy flows from Source Creation? We are indicating this to you. We are helping you to see your positioning within the major portal, the Solar Portal, which opens up your connection deeper into Source Creation. As you reconnect with all of this and you recollect the information that you have already available to you from higher aspects of Self, then you begin to feel the change. You become the change. You may find your lifestyle shifts in its focus to accommodate the higher energy frequency pattern and what you would wish to have around you and to manifest and to restore certain linkages which operate throughout your physicality and have operated throughout your current life's journey and throughout many of the other existences working in accordance with the flow of energy which you are immersed in and which you are sharing with other aspects of Self.

Gathering in around you in a wider environment in the Station, you will be aware of Beings alongside you and there is the presentation to you through some of our advanced devices of the channels of information connecting you on Earth to various other gateways and planetary systems beyond your known star system and it is just to assure you and to confirm to you that you have been correctly interpreting information given to you in your personal attunement times and you are able to access more of this. Absorbing what you are being shown in these energy devices, you find you are storing this within your own energy system and the connections become very strongly felt and experienced. When you are properly aligned and working with this energy pattern, there will be the appearance to you of many other Beings who have been assigned to you in this chosen intersection for you. When you accept this is so, you will be ready to observe who comes to you and you will appreciate and enjoy the relationship. Many of these Beings exist around you already and will make themselves apparent when it is the appropriate linkage needed. We are preparing the way for this to happen for you. The preparation is your understanding and knowing that this will be, will be helping you.

With all of this information absorbed within the energy centres of your light body here, consciously bring this back into the receiving area of the Station now. It is necessary for you all to reassemble in this transition space.

You may be surprised when you perceive the numbers around you. This has been the presentation to you today, and I withdraw now

Orem out

"I greet you at this moment also, Ulea with you, and I will take this opportunity to describe a little more. You may have the vision of this centre of light that you are, with many lines going out from you in all directions and these connecting lines are communication, they are energy systems for you to travel along, and they are energy systems for you to draw in energy for you, remembering also that you are the centre within the Earth civilisation as it is at present, within the Earth Station.

You will realise from this that you have already been brought back to your physical form and you are sensing this from within the centre of your physical form, where you would be holding an image of this planetary station within you, in an energy sense, filled with light. So, fill your Station and your Bodily Station, as you identify yourself as a body of light, fill it with this light that you have resonated with and drawn into you in this transmission.

Ulea out

This is Lani now and I do thank Orem and Ulea for this and the many other dimensional Beings involved in this session. Have you come back, connecting into your body? Have you had realisations of what this transmission was about and what you have received? I am sure you will have allowed yourself to make those real connections through the Portals. Now, become aware fully of your body, take a breath in, open your eyes and stabilise yourself deeply back within your body form in the current time. It appears to me that we came back into the body through a time portal - perhaps that is the Earth portal that you have come back through and resettled back into this body form. Momentarily fill every cell of your body and every energy aspect of it with the light you have received in this session. Thank you

Lani
