Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Welcome to you as we begin this inner journey today, and every day, identifying with the higher aspect of your greater consciousness, letting go of the concept of your physical body and surroundings so that you can be with me as we establish our presence in the receiving area of the Station of Light. It is a wonderful space in another dimension existing and we are already in the presence of the other dimensional Beings existing in this space.

This is how we begin today.

"Orem greeting you here Beloveds.

We are moving around you, assessing you, bringing you more strongly in the awareness of being present here.

Being present gives you the identification of yourself as part of this collective consciousness aspect of Creation as Beings of Creation, collaborating in the ongoing expansion and upliftment of the greater consciousness field relating especially to the Beings on planet Earth.

This is why you are present in this session today - to become more actively present in how you present yourself into the reality dimension that you focus within, in your daily activities.

You are already aware that you can move into other fields of existences as you move into the states of consciousness that you recognise as dream state, whether that is induced or in your natural process as you restore your inner self to move into the aspect where you do renew your connection with your greatest aspect of existence. All of that is beyond your normal conscious mind - that deeper connection.

In the existence here as we help you to align yourself to the highest evolved aspect - the Point of Origin of you - it is easier to realise yourself as that, and also to identify many of the other aspects that you have descended into, to create a body form for a life in experience. In all of those experiences you were connecting with a greater energy matrix of the Beings present around you and in that sense you were able to collect data from those Beings and to bring it back with you at the continuation in the reporting state that you move into in your sleep state. The reporting brings it into a central intelligence system and therefore a greater assessment occurs. Resulting from the assessment will be ways to bring forward greater light patterns for the upliftment.

Already you are recognising that you have moved into a different phase of activity currently, in the measurement of your time and this has brought to you some unresolved aspects of emotional reactions and thoughts reactions and it also will bring up in you the higher realisations of activity and how you would wish to be existing.

So, you have a great amount of activity occurring already around you consciously and in the unconscious levels that you recognise that you are functioning as. All of this is relevant for you to know at this time.

You are also collecting assistance and information from a great number of Beings that you have connected with in other dimensional existences.

We use these frameworks because you have an understanding of these words and what the words will bring up into your knowingness. As you evolve into other patterns of life, the descriptive words will change and in many cases words are not necessary. It is the influence, it is the images, it is the awareness that is the most powerful presentation of the knowledge.

Now, the Beings that you are connecting with are also working again very strongly with the portals of light surrounding the planet. You may have been aware of the shift, momentarily, occurring around the Earth's positioning and in this area, the sensitivities you have may have been giving you the sense of being off-balance, because you are registering the change in the inner parts of the particular sensory brain areas. Then you perceive that you have come right again - it was just a momentary lapse and of course therefore you have adjusted to the very slight shift in the energy and perhaps you might call it the gravitational level that you recognise. This does not mean that the gravity is moving to the extent that you are not anchored into the Earth plane. It is on a different level we refer to this gravity to do with your body of light. .

As we are speaking with you in this way, you are harnessing aspects of the energy codes present in this space. You have drawn yourself into the pattern of the energy codes to assist you and with those energy codes there will be many Beings offering assistance to you and support and in a way of reunion - a gathering together.

There is the sense you may have with these words that you are being lifted into a graphical representation suspended above all material aspects into a network. This is the appearance shown to you of what you are experiencing and you are in this way positioned in the energy nodes that we have referred to several times over recent transmissions within the overall matrix of energy. This is part of your essential knowingness, because it will assist the shifting patterns that you have become aware of and it puts you into opportunities, the potential that exists in each of those connecting nodes into the greater matrix of consciousness. Access everything that you need to bring you into the greater enlivened state. It is from that state that other needs will present themselves to you and the energy will come to fulfil those needs.

It is something that you will need to get beyond desires that relate to the current civilisation in that perhaps you perceive you have a lack of something. We are talking about accessing the energy and what you need to manifest in the most natural way - tools to help you. Perhaps it is an energy system within you which is most needed and then your creative aspect will manifest completely for you.

In the presentations we have been offering to you over several of your cycles that you call years, there has been a shift in your understanding and realisation. Therefore, you may find that predictions you may have received in earlier of your years and patterns and codes did not manifest and in fact there has been an improvement generally as a result of you taking in the higher light spectrum. This comes through this energy matrix of the greater starfield. It is a layer, you see, as you expand your consciousness into that which already exists, known as the starfield matrix. Caught up in that, linked with that, communicating in that starfield matrix is the intentional wavelength of support and you brought that into your reality space, into your current civilisation. Continue to do this, to purify, to uplift, to clear and then you are working more constructively with those of us who assemble in this Station.

You then are working with the Council of Light in a very personal, individual, way, for they also work with this manifestation principle as they oversee the evolutionary process.

Let yourself be filled with joy and love for this that you are participating in. Help it to assist you to be on the clear pathway and that involves all of your actions, all of the places you travel to, all of the substances you take into your body. You will realise what gives you the clearest aspect for well-being, to nurture your energy systems which in turn nurture the physical elements of you.

This is all that is needed at this present time for you. I bring your realisation back that you are receiving this in the transition receiving space in this Station of Light. There is again the linkage at this time for you with many of the planetoid energy systems connected with Earth. Every aspect is receiving the pure light of energy through central energy system, surrounded by what we label the starfield matrix for you. And thus it is done and therefore I withdraw from you at this time.

Orem out “

reconnection in the clearer pathway and pattern and I assist you with this at this time.

I also assist you now to return to your physical body, bringing your attention into it and with that attention you bring with you all of this energy process you have received in this session. Let it enliven you. Let it free the different aspects that may have become stressed in any way, or changed from the original healthy pattern. This is all part of your process to take in the energy of this freedom, enlivenment, upliftment.

You are one with all of this

Ulea out “

This is Lani speaking again and I thank Ulea and Orem, Council of Light and I think there were many other Beings present but in my state of allowing the information to come through I am not always aware of what is happening in all of the multi layers, and of course that is unique for you.

I trust you have enjoyed this and have connected in with the energy. Bring it down through all of the cells of you, through all of your energy systems down even to the energy beneath your feet as it connects into the Earth pattern.

I have enjoyed bringing this to you again and we will continue at another time. Bring your attention into the current time as we measure it on Earth, being aware that you are also connected into universal, or dimensional alignment time existence.

Thankyou. I close the Omega Communications

Portal at this time. Lani
