“We are present with you, Beloved. Orem addressing you again in this space, this familiar space to you, as you allow your senses to expand, absorb and integrate into the energy patterns surrounding you here in this space. These energy patterns are easily recognised by your higher expanded consciousness that you exist as in this space. This is the only way at present that you are able to assemble into this area, this Station of Light, and every time you do assemble in here, adjustments are received and are ongoing for you as your light body energy system and in turn, that is assimilated into the physicality, into the depth of cellular pattern, every intricate intersection of the flowingness that is essentially what your physical unit is.

Your physical unit has been created for the perfect state to exist in, within the Earth pattern of structure. With the changes occurring to the Earth energy structure, then your body also, your Earth body structure, is changing as you realise you are taking in the higher impulses coming through the solar portal for you. It is all part of evolution. It is all part of what you chose to materialise into and to assist the process. Up until this point, and ongoing from this moment in experience, you have accumulated all of the energy necessary for this interchange of energy to occur through you and through the planet. It is simply a natural process which you participated in, in your reality where you originally were constructing lifeforms. This is the power of your creationism individually, using the collective presentation of energy processes presented into all that is manifestation. Manifestation does not necessary just include what you see physically or touch physically. Manifestation is also that which is energy as it coalesces or draws into a specific pattern for a specific purpose, and here you are in the midst of this. You are manifesting creation.

Moving forward from this moment, we again have the portal presented to you here for you to enter through, if you are willing to do that, and again experience life in a different sphere of existence. You may be momentarily envisioning and experiencing a state that is very cold, as you would recognise ice and snow areas on your planet. Very cold, very pure, and as you manifested into this state in this reality you are experiencing, you also were drawing in patterns of Light. Through the patterns of light came the potential to create organisms, to create plant life and therefore those areas were able to be transformed into another type of existence and so you might see more water evolving from that. You might also see some areas revealed which were above waterline and which now are becoming covered with plant life, and with plant life, inherent in that, are other organisms to spread the seeds of the plant - the energies around the energy mass of the land, of the particular planetoid sphere.

There are processes. There are stages in the evolution and all of this is greater than the scientific minds are able to produce naturally, because everything which is produced needs to come through the manifested process of Creation because there is a higher balance and order in all of that. You will also see that areas modify themselves, they adapt, they adjust and this is why we are bringing this to your attention. You adapt to the higher pattern frequency that you are receiving through solar portal from Source Creation. The One. Oneness that you recognise as a term.

You will feel this within you. You will feel a pattern being activated within you, which creates the release from you and as part of this release, you will be recognising already certain patterns you no longer need to have, which perhaps have been proceeding through a course of evolution through your body. In this choice that is presented to you, to your conscious mind, you become aware of those patterns that have been disturbing your sense of natural order and how you perceive the natural order for your healthy organism to be present on Earth.

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

This is issue 1000. I was prompted to start this type of session in February 1988. Over time the Beings have changed who have come to help us. This is because my consciousness has changed, your consciousness has changed, the energy which is needed that Beings like you and I are drawing into the Earth, we are bringing in energy needed for the present. You are all part of this. We are creating this reality, even as I am speaking to you, we are creating a changed perspective, a changed level of pattern or frequency. This is a way to start this session today. Allow yourself to be open, curious, and allow yourself to receive impressions, concepts, of what is presented to you in these words. In this way, as you grasp the concept of what is presented, you will expand into the realisation of what it is about. I let go of the concept of myself speaking as Lani and I allow the concept of us all to be in the receiving area of the Station of Light. Remember that in the previous transmission we were reminded we are each in a sphere of light, filled with whatever, and everything, which is needed, which you draw into you. I leave us to allow the dimensional Beings to come through with their energy information Presence.

This is how you allow cleansing and bringing in a state of reconnection to the higher pattern of Creation - that overlaying crystalline energy matrix or field, which is becoming more apparent to you. Many of you are able to perceive this in many different ways currently in your existence. Some of this is through different chemical equipment, some of it is as you see clearly through a higher enhanced aspect of your visionary processes, this crystalline energy which is present. Some of this also will be bringing forward the clarification/clearance needed in some of the layers of your atmosphere around you.

You see, what is presented comes forward to balance situations or to change situations to restore it to a higher field dynamic co-creative process and as you understand this, you will see that the higher pattern of energy is always there to be drawn upon and utilised. This is the main purpose for bringing you into this presentation at this time - to realise that this pattern exists. The process exists. You may already have the mind pattern that says - oh, there is always a higher way to change what has happened, or to restore a better pattern, to bring in a better way to do this that is more natural to the process of evolution in its natural form. It is through curiosity, questioning, realisation that you are able to access and resonate with the exact frequency which manifests in some way. We could call it assistance for you, or for what is presented around you that you are immersed within.

We do perceive the great activity that many of you are involved in already in creating new processes to assist yourself and all of Creation on this planet. There is always higher working occurring and with that, you have been reminded that you can call on help from other dimensions. This is presented to you in this way today.

You are surrounded in this space with multi-galactic cultures who have all come forward with the same intention of assistance here, simply because you put out the call that people around you, that the planet perhaps - that the people need help, that you as an individual may have called for help. Help will come in accordance with the resonating field of energy and this is the overlaying crystalline energy field that is present around you. This is already within your personal individual sphere. Draw this in around you, into this assembly space now, in the receiving area in the Station.

We acknowledge you and your presence

Orem out “

“We who come forward surrounding you briefly in the process in this session - simply a Collective from what you would also associate with as the Council of Light around you. We assure you there is a stabilisation process involved in the upliftment and expansion around you, so as you continue to maintain your connection to the higher order of your own individual creation, you are bringing this into reality around you.

There is freedom in this process. You are free to choose, but the freedom referred to is that resistances, perhaps limitations that may have been around you for whatever purpose have dissolved away and you are now surrounded in this great Collective. You could simply refer to it as the higher Light of Creation, and the concept of that will bring up into you what is needed. It is simple. Do not complicate the process. You are enfolded in this Light.

We withdraw at this moment. “

Lani speaking again. I am with you. I thank all of those Beings - I acknowledge all of those Beings who came forward. Perhaps you saw some individually communicating with you. If you did, that is the greater intensity of this work of your placement here, the purpose for you being drawn here.

There are many elements that you can take in from this. The main ones that I am sensing being taken in by everyone are joy and love. Great joy, expanding, filling you. Remember all of this different Light that they are referred to as crystalline light, and of course that is a term given to us because we will recognise that. It is flowing. It is energy. It is Light.

Bring this back into you now and bring all of it back into your body where you are receiving this. Right through all of the processes and all of the energy system that is you, known as your particular name and physical self and all of the layers of you.

Be aware of your location, the day and the time and aware of your presence here in this civilisation. Thank you.

I end this session now through the Omega Communications Portal.
