"We are with you. Orem addressing you in this space time reality, into this dimensional field you have entered into.

As we begin this session for you, you will feel that you are being linked into a specific element that is required for you at this time.

You do have specific elements that are already measured as part of your constitution as an Earth Being and there is also the element that you are here as, in an element as light frequency, a pattern that is clearly defined in an energy sequence and you resonance with the energy sphere which you are within in this space.

The many elements around you around the planet are shifting in their constitution. They are all receiving an extra source of energy and informational pattern and everything is vibrating at a more intense vibration. This is what you call part of the acceleration of the structure - some may say the atomic structure - within every cell, within every aspect of creation.

There is the basic element that records and receives and already in your civilisation you have seen much of this being utilised. We are talking about a crystalline element and the main crystalline element is pure quartz known to you and this is the core element which is receiving the energy which is moving through the pattern surrounding Earth planet, deeply into its core, and it is being emitted through your central sun acting as a particular gateway. It also receives specific elements and energy systems and in turn this is pulsed to your Earth planet dimension.

In speaking about this to you, your body of light element here will be resonating with this clear energy impulse which over the few days around this session, you will be experiencing an intense intensification of this energy.

You may be feeling that your inner states of perception where you visualise or sense in your particular manner unique to you, will be overlaid by a different sensation and you will be registering this in many ways throughout your energy field and energy system. Recognise it is your energy system resonating with the higher pattern frequency you are receiving as it passes through your Sun and from your Sun into the surrounding planets that are accompanying you on this journey of expansion in this particular universe that you identify yourselves as being within.

Beyond all that, the entire constitution of this particular vector of creation is receiving communication on a very deeper, different level, from other galaxies beyond your particular central Sun system. There is an increased awareness which generates much of this impulse that you are resonating with. This is as a result of expanding fields of consciousness.

Many of you experience a change in your mannerisms and responses and how you view and perceive your own individual self and life pattern. In accordance with this you will be making changes and we have often referred to you the necessity to align yourself to the Essence of Creation available to you and the aspect of you that has already taken this in, and that of course is part of your original existence and you are an aspect of that origination existence. Do you see the pattern unfolding to you? Do you see how you are expanding to acknowledge and receive this transitional state occurring through your resonance with all of this pattern that is surrounding Earth station, surrounding You as an individual?

While we make you aware of the external changes that envelop your Earth planet, we are also focused on you, as you become entrained within this resonating frequency pattern for you. You have consciously connected yourself to that. You created this situation which allows you to become more aware of this.

As we connect today in this way, allow the stillness to descend over you. Allow your body and your mind to relax and in that way you access the deeper states of your consciousness field and in this way also this is how you connect as your body of light in that state and in the energy essence of you where you can be drawn into this space in the Station of Light, ready to receive more understanding and appreciation of the energy that you are receiving at this time.

Therefore give yourself the space to allow yourself to enter this inner journey and you will benefit in many ways, beyond the words that are given to you.

This is all that is required for you to focus your attention into this space. So, as I relax further and expand my consciousness further, this enables the Beings here in the Station to come forward and to bring forward energy and information to you.

This draws you above many of the happenings that are being experienced around the planet and you will realise there is a mixed emotional layer within and around all of those experiences. Always, you are able to, with reminders, connect back to the highest level of Creation and in that state there is the resonating effect throughout you restoring higher field constitution to you, higher field realisation, higher field manifestation and as this surrounds you as an individual, you become aware that you are within a sphere of energy. Contained within that sphere of energy is you and in your capacity as being a vessel for light energy and information, in this way you are able to assist the general change and as part of this, you have the choice - choice which has already been manifesting for you. Choice has many levels that you can recognise and align yourself with and those layers relate to dimensional existences.

Many of you will find already you are within an individual sphere, even within the location and surrounding that location may be people experiencing something different to you. It is likened to a shield - a field of energy. As we refer to shields and fields of energy, you will be aware also that surrounding the planet at this time there is a layer which is recognised as a shield. It is a solar field shield and this is acting as a filtration so that what comes through will be able to be experienced and handled, absorbed, integrated, managed, in whatever terms you would use, in a way that is easily integrated into your consciousness field and used as a positive inflow and immersion in higher dimensional field energy frequency patterns. You naturally are resonating with this in this particular presentation for you.

You may feel the suggestion is that you isolate yourself from others' experiences. The isolation is in terms of building up your core energy strength and shield. Then you are more readily able to access information to help inform other people and to bring them into alignment with the higher pattern of light coming through from Source Creation.

This is the energy field that you are being exposed to in this session. As you experience this energy field around you, this was the major purpose for bringing you into this dimensional field in the Station of Light in this session. You may have experienced yourself as being well away from planet Earth and seeing shifts and changes occurring, with it all being overlaid with a higher layer of energy coming through as assistance through galactic portals, the dimensional fields that shift and align in accordance with what is needed to assist the population.

Now, Beloved, bring all of this, still within your energy field, to realise you are again within the receiving space within this Station of Light. This is what was required of you at this time. I withdraw now

Orem out

“ Thank you Orem. I am known to you as An-Tur and in this moment what I witness occurring for you is a balancing within the fires contained within you - the elements that in some of you bring up the fiery elements relating to emotional states. With the balancing of the crystalline light energy which I am witnessing now that is within your energy shield field, there is the re-organisation and stabilisation happening for you. As you adjust to the higher frequency patterns that you have taken in and which Earth is being exposed to currently in this phase happening now, you will realise it is all part of changing you to the crystalline energy pattern of existence, deep within the energy field structure of you, and this flows through all of your channels, through your cells, through everything within you. You could view it firstly as an infusion of clearance and then of lightening, and this is appropriate for you to realise at this time.

I leave this with you now,

An-Tur out

Thank you. Lani speaking again.

There are many things to incorporate into our thoughts as well as into our physicality at this time. Focus on the information and energy you have experienced and this will maintain a sense of balance and upliftment within you.

Now bring your consciousness back into your physical body, being consciously aware of your physical body now, and aware of this amazing, beautiful light infusion referred to as the crystalline light energy.

You will be responding to that, as even Earth is responding to it.

This has been extraordinary and appropriate at this time.

Thanks for being with me, thanks for bringing all of this energy into you, into Earth, as you continue to fulfil your main mission for being present on Earth as a Being of Light.

Now focus around you. Remember to tune into the day and the time as we measure it. This brings you clearly into the present moment. Even the present moment focus may give you the sense of a different time, a different world we are living in, so maybe this is part of upliftment and entry into a new dimensional existence.

I end this session now through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you.

Lani
