“You are acknowledged here as you present yourself into this space, Beloved. Orem addressing you, drawing you deeper into this space

What are you going to allow yourself to receive in this space? Have you chosen a particular theme, or pattern, which you would wish to experience? It is all about the energy and information that you are immersed in here giving you concepts and realisations of exactly your purpose and presence, not just in this Station at this moment, because this is just to remind you of your initial entry into this current life pattern.

You have had many different life patterns and all of those exist in an aspect of your consciousness. Being presented here, you are in a sense connected to the energy system of your prime intention and prime purpose for coming into existence. Therefore, everything that you touch, everything that you remember, everything that you would have a sense you want to change, is available to you because you are connected back to that intentional inflow of light, of energy, of the pattern of creation. Therefore, you could ask yourself why did you create the life you are in. There are many layers to that and many different answers.

We would offer you the opportunity to be focused consciously present here in this moment and in this moment you may observe that you are in the centre of creation yourself as a creation being informed, and being informed means that you inform your creativity energy aspect of all of your consciousness into form. Even as you receive this pattern of words, the energy of it is opening up that perception to you where you will be fully engaged in recognising what this means for you. You may have an image or you may have a thought pattern of what that is, and in that thought pattern of being engaged in the Centre of Creation, there is a moment of stillness where you are able to completely charge yourself.

You are all familiar with solar panels and how they are charged by the rays of light coming through your sun. Think about yourself as this particular solar entity being recharged with your immersion within this pattern of light, of central creation and you may also feel you are being engaged in a movement coming through the solar portal of the sun known to you, that all of you receive. Even if you exist normally under the surface of Earth planet, you are still receiving in some way the energy coming through your sun portal. That is a different matter to be defined to you, but we wanted you to understand that. Also if you are living in a habitat underneath water, oceans and also deep within freshwater, you are also receiving the energy because the energy coming through your sun is distributed through an energy matrix, or network, and you are able to access that wherever you are. Remember, you have connecting nodes in your own individual energy system pattern. When you forget about the physicality and realise you are an energy system, then that energy system will reveal to you different connecting nodes, as if you would plug yourself into certain aspects of this energy matrix which is again enlivened with aspects coming through the solar portal and this is available everywhere to everyone. It is also part of you being able to restore yourself and regenerate yourself and re-energise yourself.

Many of you perceive those of us addressing you and although I am known to you as Orem at present addressing you are other Beings. “

“Coming forward to you now to address you briefly, I am that one known to you as AnTur and as I observe you, I am also connecting you into streams of light and energy which are being disseminated through a higher order through the system of gateways, portals, into the dimension that you exist in primarily. You now of course realise you exist in different dimensions than what you just see physically and touch physically with your hands at present.

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Hello, Lani speaking. These are more than just transmissions. They are for you to experience shifts and energy as you absorb the frequency patterns that you will be immersed in, in the session.

Already we have Beings assembling, so are you ready to come into this different space - the space where you have heightened awareness and you are able to let go of the concerns of the physicality, that means your personal physicality, your environment, the planetary environment so that you are free to again restore yourself back to the prime intention for your existence. This is how we begin today.

Feel that you are present within the receiving area of the Station of Light.

So, there are energy systems available to you at this time. In particular, we are bringing to you knowledge that the environment of the planet is going through a regeneration, it is also being nurtured by some of the different vehicles who have come forth around the planet, because there has been new seeding in the form of not just plant life, but opportunities to investigate, to use resources in a different way that are already available on the planet and you will see this coming forward strongly, because more people are receiving instruction in individual ways to create and manifest new ways to use resources. In particular, there is a focus on resources available with transforming some of the rays of light into different creations. Some of these are generally known to you as creations involving plasma type fluidic or rays of light that can be captured and modified to provide a substance that can generate many other substances and can assist the overall creation.

You observe destruction in many ways. Destruction of modalities that serve to help people. Destruction of types of dwelling construction which has not served the right purpose to protect and shelter people. You will be observing again an uprising in more natural, harmonious shapes created using new materials. Some of the materials and types of construction have been used elsewhere in the overall galactic system as housing, as protective areas over lands of plant life for sustenance, in many different ways. You will be aware of many of these. They will come to your attention in many different ways. The more that you acknowledge that they are already being constructed on planet Earth, then this is when you will observe more of them and you will be engaged in the energy field relating to those.

This is a small insight into what is available to you now as you have encompassed yourself as a greater evolved dimensional Being.

In saying that to you as an individual, you will feel the change in your energy field here as we are communicating with you.

This is done. This is you. This higher expanded energy system of you, and thus I withdraw

AnTur out “

This is Lani again speaking to you, present again with you and in a strange sense, I feel we have been experiencing and are still experiencing being within a vast protective area. The word habitat comes to my mind again because this came into my mind yesterday as energy was being brought forth to be presented to someone else, and so this is relevant for all of us at this time.

You will feel the change. You are instructed through the energy system coming through me to impress me with the words - that you need to focus into the highest aspect of your creation of the light system. This serves to keep your energy system very strong. I know many of you think about us being in duality, we have night and day, we have light and darkness and yet in one sense it is one because light is always present. In our Earth system it is simply that Earth revolves and is not receiving the full impact of the light and in that sense we are geared to switch off and regenerate in the night-time dark state, but we know light is there and light we receive in the daytime is being transformed and utilised in the body. There will be all of this present in your mind, and I am reminded to pass onto you that you always entrust yourself to the light coming through solar portal from Source Energy Creation and of course your higher evolved state is that. Use this energy formation, the frequency - I continually have to use the words light energy as if it is one. I am sure higher scientific minds would describe them separately, but for the purposes of our experience, we use the combination of them.

Now it is time to bring your awareness back into the assembly space in the receiving area of the Station.

I am very happy that we are all here in this state and there may be a time when we will consciously find ourselves together, recognising each other.

It may be some time in existence beyond this, perhaps beyond this present existence that we focus in we have already done this and we are just reminding ourselves, re-aligning ourselves into that experience.

Again, now it is time to bring your attention back into your physical body, back into appreciating what you have become, appreciating the energy that is available for you to bring in. You just have to allow that to happen - that part of the mind that needs to allow that without criticism or judgement, because every aspect of you will benefit from this energy you have received in this session and preceding sessions and all that which will come forth in other experiences.

Thank you and I now end this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

The image of Orem was painted by Karen Elsworth, extradimensionalart.com and I give my thanks to other creative artists on the internet where I have not been able to find the original artist for some of those images but I value and appreciate that they are available for use.

We will meet again next time you choose to connect in with the Omega Communications.

Be fully present back in your body, as your energy form encompassing this body and in the current day and time. Feel your alignment connected to Source Energy.

And so it is
