“Welcome and greetings. Orem addressing you and drawing you even deeper into this energy space, as you transition between the information and knowledge that you have in your current lifetime focus into this greater dimensional aspect.

In this aspect as you assemble here, you do have connection with other aspects of your individual consciousness in a greater consciousness state and you are able to gather into you more resources, more patterns of light and energy which may assist you in your current processes - whatever they are, and there are many diverse processes each of you have around you, connected into you in different ways. Some of those will be with relationships, some of those will be how you relate to the environment, some of those will be how you - the higher pattern of you - relates to other more conscious states of mind and emotions. So, as you present yourself here and allow yourself to be the one individual essence as you were when you evolved from Source Energy into the original state of individualisation, that state held many of the answers and what you need at this time. You are being reconnected directly with that again.

In this way we see you as we often define you, in your individual sphere of energy. Momentarily you will feel you are being suffused with a particular flow and pattern - a vibrational frequency that you resonate with, within the very depths of your knowingness - you resonate with this because this is what you are and you are reconnecting to it and in that process there is adjustment and sorting out. You are doing this for you but we are facilitating this for you. It may not be achievable to this depth when you do it outside of the deeper connection that you have. In this way, as you attune to what is important in your process, there will be information and realisations that will surface in you as you regain this, therefore take this opportunity to absorb all of this as you will, and it is, as it were, life comes to a standstill, time as you measure it does not exist in this reconnection, and in this reconnection you could also be going out into different civilisations and states of civilisations assisting or learning or experiencing in what is appropriate for you.

This will help you understand why we explain the importance of choosing the area and the energy and the life that you wish to be involved in, from a higher perspective, from your higher immersion into this original state of conscious beingness.

As you integrate all of this, in your sole state of connection, you will realise that expands as you again embrace and are embraced within the energy that is Creation. It has an impetus and you responded to the impetus to come forth into this current lifeform you have. It will help you if you perceive yourself in an expanded dimension beyond the current memory and how you perceive yourself if you touch yourself and perceive yourself in a mirror image - look through that into the state of energy. As you observe the state of energy that you are, is this the state that you would expect to recognise now that you have again reconnected with your original energy space?

You are able to bring that impression into you, rebuilding specific aspects of your energy field and processes. This is the continuation of assisting your upliftment and responding to a higher pattern within the energy DNA pattern of you and what is behind and encompasses the energy DNA pattern. The DNA pattern of course is given to you, because this is how you recognise the core energy that you were created from, so the enhancement of this - the upgrade - into allowing you to continue to exist on planet Earth due to and through the changes it experiences, that is the purpose of this session for you at this time. To realise that your energy system is being upgraded and initialised into a higher framework above everything which becomes created on the Earth-plane and you may perceive that as various layers that penetrate throughout the atmosphere, throughout the land, throughout the creatures and Beings and as you absorb this higher initialisation, you experience being uplifted and separated from all of that.

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Hello, Lani speaking, again welcoming you into another phase of energy and information, welcoming you into the gathering of us who are already familiar with this type of energy inner journey and expansion into other states of our consciousness and into the consciousness field in the other dimensional existence where the Station of Light is positioned.

So, already, because I have linked with the Station of Light, you are with me and you will participate in what comes forward and what you are brought forward into. It is all one, there is no separation really, it is just that we disengage from that higher dimensional state of existence at times in our life. So, take this opportunity reconnect, re-engage yourself into the higher energy patterns. This is where I recede and allow Commander Orem of the Station and other Ones that he brings through to surround us all in their presence.

You become into a more pure state - stronger - and you will be resonating with a field of frequency which has been introduced to you previously, known as the crystalline light pattern. Part of that also is the light spectrum defined to you as ultralight spectrum. This is what you are immersed in, in this deliverance to you. Again it will be strengthening different aspects of your individualised energy pattern and even though you are assembled here in different states of dimensional existence, you are receiving what is being delivered to you through the words in the energy and many layers of you as you are still connected back to your physicality are also being affected by this input to you of this energy. This is all in accordance with a pattern that you contain within your personal energy sphere and it arises back to your original existence where you were fully immersed within that power of Creation - empowering you in this moment and while this may seem intangible, as you restore yourself back into your current state of physicality, you will register the changes, in an ongoing way.

At this time, this was the importance of drawing you into this gathering in this way. Remember, time does not exist as you measure it, so while this is delivered to you in the current state of existence, it is available to all aspects of you. In this way again, it will be available to you at every stage of your development. Every stage, every existence and this energy field, the ultralight crystalline pattern of light is all codes. They are patterns, vibrations, which are patterns, so as this is around you in your light consciousness existence here with us, you are going through a state of processing this, even into your light form here. Momentarily, see in this inner seeing you have - the sensing you have - the light form of you and thus you will see this immersion as your light body takes it in, this ultralight crystalline light encoding. All you are in this moment - all that surrounds you in this moment - is this patterning.

We now bring you back with this energy and you in your energy sphere, into the initial transition space in this Light Station. The Light Station here includes, because it is part of the overall connected state communicating, you might describe this as a Central Command, of the Central Command of this aspect of Creation for this particular galactic creative state. In this way we are letting you know it is more than just stationed above Earth for Earth and the ongoing habitation here. It also draws in the entire galactic creation and support, which is why you often perceive different galactic members positioned with you, assisting you. They have existed also throughout time as you know it. There have always been stories of the appearance of other ones who are different to the current population in the area at the time.

Now in this way many of you, because you have expanded your dimensional sense, can often appear back to when you were existing in a different civilisation, so you are going back to assist that aspect of you to be clear and to take in this energy that you are immersed in, in this session, into every aspect of you. A gentle flowing of light and love, compassion and joy and upliftment. This has an impact on you in your current journey of life - all that you are.

This is with you Beloved. I withdraw now

Orem out “

“I am known to you as Ulea and I give my appreciation to Orem for what he has been delivering you into. You will be enjoying this, as you harness the different aspects of it.

As I observe you in this state, I see different aspects of you and you drawing in different lines of connection and communication, enhancing you to be greater than you are in your energy field existence and therefore it is increasing your state of well-being and realisation and this is all in accordance with the appropriate expansion of Light coming through the solar portal into you for Earth at this time. There is more light coming through, so perceptively you will be noticing change, noticing improvement and that enhances the improvement, increases it, as it does as you notice improvement in you and your life, as you acknowledge people you have contact with and you seem to be resonating with them, sharing a smile, sharing a look and this is uplifting each one of you at this time - just as we are sharing this information with you in this way.

I am responsible now to assist you to return to your physical form located where you are in your different places of existence on Earth. Remember all of this patterning that you have taken into you. Remember that you have the support of a greater galactic team, a connected consciousness in that sense, and this is what we encourage you to connect with and this will happen naturally when you connect through your higher evolved self. Be still with this. Let it instil you with all of this patterning revealed to you today.

Now I am with each one of you as you become aware of your body and become aware of the enhanced energy that has been initialised within you, for you, deeply into all of the energy pattern that is you, which is within every cell.

I see this as you and I now withdraw

Ulea out “

Lani again. Thank you Ulea and Orem. I have the sense of her with you, simply because she is able to do that from the dimension she exists in, just as we could be anywhere and everywhere, just as you experienced in part of the session that Orem was having you experience.

Now, take in a deep breath open your eyes and orient yourself fully back in your body, take note of the day and time and be filled with this amazing joy and light for all the activities that you do, for everything that you are.

Lani
