Hello, Lani speaking. Are you ready to settle your body comfortably, so that your greater consciousness as your body of light can come and assemble in the receiving area of that energy dimensional structure known as the Station of Light?

This is how we begin these particular energy insertions into that dimensional space identified as the Station of Light, and it is a dimensional space, just as you could refer to yourself as a dimensional Being - consciousness. Your consciousness steps away from your housing vehicle - your body - to be here in this space, at this time.

So, let's be open to receive the energy and information coming around us all at this time.

“Welcome again into this space, as you have connected your consciousness and you have consciously connected your Is-ness - your state of awareness - and that which we identify as your body of light, into this space with us.

So, as you more firmly expand your perception to receive it in every way that you have utilized your perceptions, then you will experience and formulate around you to experience, different spaces so that you resonate with the group of Beings, or the particular space, or the energy of this entire dimensional vessel here. As you do that, this satisfies the aspect of your own thought processes relative to your physicality and that in turn will allow you to be more receptive of what comes in.

We are here in this moment to allow you to evaluate yourself and accept yourself more totally as an energetic formation of consciousness and as a Conscious Being you then identify the elements which you brought in from your original identification as a Being, as you emerged from Creative Source Intelligence.

This is the powerful presence that you have already identified yourself as, and as we have said, you have existed in many different galactic forms, stations, existences, life patterns, plans, purposeful plans underlying many of those transitions into a physical form and was the intention to elevate all of that energy that you were back to the realization that you exist in a continuation of life. In every particular incarnation as you are in your locality in this moment of connection, you also are elevating aspects of your conscious mind and the cellular process into the greater expansion of Creation, of Life, of the pattern of enlightening every aspect of your Self.

This will dissipate the very powerful overlying presentation that keeps you into the bias toward anxiety, analytical processes which generate fear, and this separates you entirely from the balanced point where those existences of comparisons cease to be and you come back into the awareness that you are consciousness existing now.

We have presented you into different energetic spaces and the prime one being the evolutionary step you are taking into existence into that very active existence presented to you as the crystalline light cities. We continue to do this so that it becomes part of your overlying network or processes and all of this has to be readily enveloping all aspects of your energy field matrix - your individual matrix of creation. When you completely identify with those different realities of civilisations evolving, it changes the energy field of your existence as a physical form.

The physical form will be changing, as it is now, because you are absorbing a greater level of energetic pattern deeply within you, the energy of the cells, the energy of the coding of the cells, and so you are adapting with every immersion you take into higher evolved dimensions. That adaptation process strengthens and reinforces the energy network around you, known loosely, described in these sessions as the starfield energy matrix surrounding you. That framework of language is used because it then helps your mind to process that you are part of that galactic visual representation that you see in the night sky as the light from the sun moves around to a different aspect and you can visibly see into a greater depth of creation.

It is necessary to explain this to you in many different ways so that you also feel you are no longer isolated in what you are accessing and achieving in the transformational processes of your energy systems, of your physicality systems. Alongside this, you are becoming more aware of other dimensional Beings existing alongside you and supporting you.

The Galactic Beings, not always those of us who present ourselves to you in these continual gatherings, as this one is. You all have other Beings, remembering that there are different layers, representations, and those different representations resonate with your understanding and what you are prepared to accept of those who will come forward to you, presenting themselves in a different form.

It is one great level of consciousness that you are resonating with. Every time we present these to you, you are taking that energy back into your base formation of consciousness and you are allowing that greater expanded state of consciousness to enter into your daily functioning, into your presentation in your daily functioning.

Many times you view the beauty around you existing on this planet named Earth. Do you also see the beauty within you, within your energetic framework, within you as a Being housing consciousness, greater levels of energy, and you may feel that is presented to you in different patterns of light, or formation. When you call upon greater depths of consciousness to assist you when you feel some discomfort, or when you feel you have come out of deep connection with your pure origin, then that energy system comes in over you and around you and can also be experiencing it as a beam passing through you to assess what is needed for you to accept in a restorative fashion.

This is known to you, because in the higher evolved origination state it was a very natural process. In other formations and other entry into form and different land masses or galaxies, you may have created a pattern, a pathway, a space that you would enter within to access the restorative energy and more than that, to accept the incoming pulses containing energy and information data appropriate for you, just as you are doing as you are receiving these words.

The words contain a data field and this is in you, in your buffering system described to you previously and thus you have all around you the current data field for you to process and the energy system around you, described as your buffer, then will release in the appropriate pockets of information what you can easily process in your current thought patterns in your state of consciousness.

Remember, do not limit yourself by thinking you have to think about it and let every thought arise in you as if you were reading it on a page. It is entirely different to that. There are depths to it. As we say, a concept contains the entire informational package in a multi-dimensional form and you as a Conscious Being understand that and so you can allow yourself to adapt to all of that informational conceptual package.

You have received this in these few words spoken to you with the energy, so now you are designed to assimilate all of this, realizing that in this moment again around you is the representation, as you perceive it to be, of the receiving area in this Station of Light.

This concludes your immersion in this session in this moment, and I withdraw

Orem out “

Thank you Orem.

Lani again, presenting myself to you and I also take these moments in this receiving area to absorb everything received. Even in this space, take in a breath, knowing that you are taking in everything presented to you. Even if you have not physically heard the words, on some level you have received what you needed to receive.

It is time for you to bring this back now into your current physical form and location. Perhaps you will view your form in a different way and understand it in a different way, as you continue your individual interpretation and acceptance of that greater consciousness field of information.

Now take in a breath, [open your eyes if you have been listening to this] and orient yourself fully back in the present moment. Perhaps you are aware of the big download of the energy and information clicking into place somewhere in your energy field.

It is very interesting the way it is presented and often it is the same information, presented in a greater depth through different words and through a different aspect of the entire concept and that makes it easier for you to adjust to it. Again, this will be ongoing for you and so I just acknowledge you in the many ways that you accept who you are, in the most loving accepting way.

Thanks again for being present and I trust this assists you in your evolutionary process.

I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
