"Welcome. I am Orem addressing you and receiving you and as you absorb the energy in this space, you feel that you are here as a stronger presence than previous visitations. Also, if you are new to entering into this space, be aware that the energy body of you - the higher consciousness that exists throughout time and throughout space - understands the presentation of this dimensional vehicle here. So, that aspect of you will feel the familiarity of this space, of the energy here.

We advise that we continue to observe the population on Earth. We continue to observe the changes in positions that are made and we continue to observe all aspects of the higher evolving consciousness which are ready to be received in many places in the major population areas. You will become aware that there is a shift happening in the dynamics of the concentrated field of communication. You will be aware that the shift is happening, so that you become aware that you are identifying more with a higher state of consciousness, rather than existing and aligning yourself to politics and to areas of manipulation. As you gain your realization that you are fully connected to a higher state of consciousness, to that original point of existence of you, then you rise above the details of what is occurring, with the conflicts that are occurring, with the elements of that conflict which give rise to fear-based decisions. Therefore, as you connect into the original state of existence, you are readily accepted and you readily access the vibration in this dimensional sphere presented around you as the Station of Light.

This is the orientation that many of you have been expecting to unfold and to be around you in your physical energetic space, in your physical environment, in the greater dimensional existence. This already is in your locality, in your environment, in your energetic personal space.

You need to release all sense of conflict in yourself, of fear and doubt, to realise the manifestation of the higher state of consciousness already existing around you. When you exist in that, the way you interact with other people changes and you will find your interaction with other people will become more freely available in response to the freedom that you feel when you identify with the higher aspect of your existence.

We observe that there is coming into manifestation and available to you all, various structures. Some structures you have identified already or previously as those which will help you as an individual Being to restore many of the functionality aspects within your physical field. Already you have access to the dimensional manifestation of such devices. You label them as healing devices. They are remedial structures, they are within your consciousness field. As a remedial energy system, you already have them available in your personal energy sphere which you brought in with you from your point of origin existence.

We go over this for you, because some of you tuning in may not be aware of this - that in another time-frame aspect from your original point of existence - in that other time-frame aspect you brought into the Earth civilization an energy pod, an energy sphere, and you placed this within the energetic structure of the Earth construct - the Earth-being construct. This would manifest at different times of your appearance within the Earth planet-being in accordance with what was required for that particular phase of energetic shifting, of manifestation in the civilization. You have accessed it in many different timelines you have existed within. When you relate this to your present existence, then you will understand you have access in the present moment in your present timeline, to this energetic pod / energy sphere. As we bring this to your attention, you may have the feeling that you have contacted that and you are receiving various components contained within that energetic pod/sphere and these are encoded elements.

Hello. Lani speaking.

Are you ready to be with me in the receiving area of the Station? Is your body relaxed? Is your mind open? Are your extra senses ready to receive and be here and to recognize the energy body of you - that which I refer to as your body of light?

And, so we begin today.

They are frequency patterns, energy patterns, that you resonate with and for some of you, this is already completing a reconnection action for you. You will need to allow this to be realised throughout all aspects of your consciousness and your consciousness is also existing as cellular patterns, as processes within the physical body and processes within the energetic systems, and there are many systemic process involved in this, so as you realise you have accessed this element to complete a sense of restoration or remedial work, then you will feel that you may indeed be within an energetic remedial construct, perhaps as a pod, perhaps as a beam of energy. All of this is available to you now. The outcome of this is that you then respond to the energy patterns throughout the Federation of Galactic Beings that are all part of an upliftment, a shift process occurring energetically, physically, and this incorporates many of the Galactic systems that have come into alignment and they are creating and giving you evidence of Galactic Portals being opened and this encapsulates Earth and indeed the particular system it is connected in with, into this prime energetic matrix field for you.

Part of this also will allow free movement of many of the Beings existing on Earth at this time to easily transition into another field of existence. Some of you may feel this could be the death of the physical body, and for others it indicates freedom to move through multi dimensional existences where you will be functioning in a different dimensional existence and then you will also be aware you are still functioning within the physical aspect that you have known as your current physical body. There is this freedom of movement and that depends on your particular purpose and mission of your existence, both within the current timeline you experience and in multiple other timelines you are existing within and it will relate to your prime purpose of existence. Always we refer in this way to the upliftment process, to enabling the highest potential for life to manifest in many different ways.

You are all creators, you are all manifesting aspects of Creation in this particular intersection of dimensional patterns and these relate to the greater Galactic systems that have moved into particular coordinates to be known within the Beings manifesting on Earth. All of this is a coordinated pattern of existence that was destined - if you use that word in your understanding - to occur now. It is the appropriate intersection for this to occur. There is the alignment process of many of these dimensional intersections and portals coming into close proximity to Earth in the sense that the freedom to travel between is available. It does not mean in lineal distance they are any closer to you. This is a dimensional existence through particular portals that occurs.

You may be sensing elements coming through these portals, of purification, of evolvement. If you feel you are standing within this energy stream, you will recognize it is continuing the upgrade process and all of this also is contained within your individual personal energetic pod/sphere referred to. It is all connected. It all resonates in the particular energy field that is appropriate for you.

We say to you the words which may resonate to you - Wake up Beloved Galactic Being - and be filled with the joy that you are expressing and experiencing, and that you are now enabled to express in every action, in every word, in every thought which you have, through all the multi-dimensional aspects of you, that is known as you as a Being present in the current lifestream on Earth.

We now bring your awareness back to being within this receiving area of the Station. We observe you. You will be aware there are companions here who are assisting you to adjust to this. Even in your aspect as a Being of Light here, adjustment is necessary to what you have engaged within you and the pattern is already in place for this to be active within your physicality unit. This process, while we have indicated it has happened in this present moment of existence here, will continue to unfold in the time reality that you exist in, in the physical body, so be gentle with yourself as you allow the adjustment to occur, as this will incorporate a clearing out of older patterns, letting go completely of many things that you will not be realizing you still have attachment to or in some way exist there. The higher aspects of you understands this and is facilitating this shift within you. You are supported in this. I withdraw now

Orem out “

“Thank you, Orem. I am known to you again as Ulea and it is always my pleasure, my enjoyment, to link with you to help you assimilate all of this intense energy and to allow it to gently work throughout you. You may already be experiencing some internal movement and change as your body unit responds to this and as I bring these words to you. I am now assisting you to reconnect back into your physicality unit. This is important for you to do. It is necessary, because it engages all of this deeply within your energetic structure, it enlivens it, it helps you to recognize the Galactic energy being that you are. This is required of you. I leave this with you,

Ulea out “

Lani again. I am aware that you have returned to your physical body, the process still occurring. Breathe in all of this and breathe out resistance, letting go of everything. Orient yourself fully back into the body, connected into the Earth energy grid and patterns and the higher Galactic inter-dimensional pattern of existence.

Thank you for being here, receiving this, and taking your part in the upliftment and shifting consciousness on Earth. It is all important
