Session 1034

Date: September 3, 2020

Time 9.30 am

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Lani with you again to begin this session. You know the way. You know how to relax your body and to settle the mind and, in a sense, you open your mind, the conscious mind, to allow the higher activated self of you - your Galactic energy light body - to immediately assemble in the gathering, receiving, area of this dimensional space we know as the Station of Light.

Pause for a moment as you orient yourself within that energy sphere. It is existing. It has reality, if you could describe it as reality and it is definitely a place where it is easier to receive the information and energy from Beings of Light and these ones are part of what is generally described as the Galactic Federation of Light. They are all part of a greater consciousness field that you are drawn into, within this space.

“Welcome to you - each and every one of you. This is Orem addressing you.

You are known to me and I am known to you as an energy Being and you may be perceiving me in your vision in certain ways.

That will be to help you to understand that you are in the presence of Beings from other different galaxies and we maintain the semblance of the body form we had in existences there, although as we come in the Earth energy field, we have adopted the humanoid body form very much similar to yours. The energy around us presents it in a slightly different way to you.

There has been introduced into the energy field around Earth a variation of an energy field and there have been waves of energy coming in around you all, which you may have been responding to in different ways. Remember, the emphasis is always on your intention to connect with the very highest point of your existence, which is well above any of the disturbances which may come in around the Earth energy field.

You are being enveloped in dimensional portals which allows the Earth Station to move to accept a higher energetic field and this is touching upon you all in various ways. If you are ready to accept that you are indeed moving into a higher energetic framework of even your physical body and energetic body form moving into that higher dimensional framework, then you easily adapt to the higher energy field and opportunities which are being presented to you through these dimensional portals surrounding you. Your prime focus for that is to identify the flows of energy coming through your solar portal and while many of you may get this confused with what is described in scientific ways as various ultra violet rays and pulses and flares which will be disrupting devices or disrupting your energy field, if you look through that, if you look through energetic solar portal, you can then be receiving the higher framework of codes for the transition period that you are experiencing, into the more appropriate energy form and physical form to help you exist in the new positioning of Earth in the dimensional frequency pattern.

You are receiving this dimensional frequency pattern from your higher existence, as it is linking to you and drawing you through the solar portal back into that existence to refresh yourself and to receive the energetic codes in the energetic sphere that you bring back through the portal into your present circumstances. In that way you are upgrading your energy field, you are upgrading all of your existence in the physicality. Stepping aside from how you measure time in your years, the energy you are receiving through the portal in this moment delivered to you, is also encompassing all of you that existed through your current lifetime as your body and energy field evolved to what it is now. In the now moment you are being upgraded. All that is being downloaded and is available to you, then is connected into your energetic field. Receiving this in this moment is also clearing away some of the old patterns that still remain around your physical form, because part of you is still responding to the conditioning and what has existed in different energetic fields around you. There are some modalities that recognize those energetic fields.

In the time frame as you are in the present moment, there is insufficient data in your memory banks to identify all of which we are referring to, so then it comes to you resonating with the pure aspect and element of creation coming through the solar portal from your origination point which is serving you in your evolutionary process and moving into more fully identifying with the higher evolved energy from you have and all of the energy codes of that. - the energetic designated codes within all of the patterns that are known as you, as your bio-energetic form that you have.

Allow this to enter within your memory codes, entering into your energy pathways throughout you.

Many of those pathways have been formed to allow the absorption and integration of this higher energy field for you which you are receiving in this present moment. The potential of this is expansive, so when you realise the potential holds everything that is required for you and the planet you are existing on as it is in the present dimensional existence, then you see the effect you have in the coordinated energetic matrix field surrounding you all from that higher level above everything that has been constructed currently around the Earth, connecting back into the energy coming through the solar portal.

There are memories within some of you of the higher energetic field civilisations that have existed on the planet-being in a different dimensional field aspect and the memories of that and what is required, will also be surrounding you. Momentarily all of you will be experiencing an energetic field as if you are surrounded totally in water, in that energetic field that is known as water. This is a necessary part of helping you to integrate this higher energetic formation for you. While it appears to be water, it is the energy field that is water as it manifests into something that you are familiar with as water. There is a higher energetic field to that, and so that which is contained in your physical form is also being immersed in the higher energetic field.

Within the potential of all of this also is the higher energetic field of an energy you may feel likened to a mist of light field - the light that you see emanating from your solar being, the sun, as you name it. That sphere of energy. Again, this is being infused into you, accepted by you, when you realise it is a natural process of evolution and you step into that.

Feel that energetic field around you as if it is a golden light mist. As you are in this Station of Light it is easily identified, because that is what you feel you are, perhaps as this golden light energy form, and thus it will be easy for your physicality to accept that. This is all about evolving you, clearing you from the current energy field you are affected by on Earth which has not come back into balance yet.

When it is fully balanced, the higher rays through the dimensional portal through the solar portal will facilitate all of this higher energy field that is offered and is available to all beings, to all life.

Many people have conditioned mind patterns that resist understanding and wanting to understand and wanting to accept this type of energetic support, so you will understand why many people do not change, they do not want to change, or they perhaps have an idea of what the change would be, which in effect can limit it. In presenting you into the higher energetic matrix field and going back to your original point of existence where you all chose to bring in this higher formation for life into the current circumstances, then you already do accept this and you already are adapting to that energy field and what we are presenting you into in this session is easily accepted and so you easily accept the change and everything that is required in that energy field of potential that you brought in, and support.

You will be aware now of the many assembled Beings supporting you. They are around you in a flowing energetic field and you may be experiencing the sensation of sharing in that field of upliftment. You may recognize this as happiness, feeling filled with that sense. It is a very natural energy sensation and field.

You have received all that was necessary in this time as we perceived you when you initially stepped into this gathering space in this session. There is always the initial scan as we identify what is needed for you as an individual Being and as the collective being gathered, and this is done Beloved.

We withdraw now

Orem out “

“Once again we return here into the receiving area of the Station. Ulea addressing you through this consciousness of the one named Lani and we envelop you in that energetic matrix field containing all of this energy - That energetic field that you see identified as your starfield energy matrix that you identify as Earth moves into the formation where the light of the sun is not fully on it and you can see into that energy field. All of that exists always. It is there, it is part of the creative consciousness field.

Draw all of this into you as well as what has been offered to you in the presentation you have experienced in this session and adapt easily to the upliftment sequences that you resonated with.

Now we bring you back to connect in every way into your current physicality unit. Remember that it is changing, adapting to the next dimensional field of existence and it is being integrated into you now by your willingness and acceptance.

Ulea withdrawing now “

Lani again and thank you Orem and the Light Beings of the greater Galactic congregation and Ulea. Ulea is observing me as I am speaking to you, helping you to re-centre yourself back into your body and as I do this myself, I am aware of being enveloped in that golden light energy mist, all through me and you as well, fully clearing away disturbances of the previous existence.

Thank you for being present here. I acknowledge you all, many of the ones making yourself known to me receiving these sessions, participating in them.

I end this particular download. Love and Light to you Lani ❤️
