Session 1047

Date: December 3, 2020

Time 9.30 am

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Lani again with you. Are you ready? Are you ready to come on this journey? As you breathe in and breathe out everything of the world around you, you are breathing in light which gives attention to your consciousness body, your field of consciousness, that exists as a body of light, and it is the body of light which assembles, gathers together with the group in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

You may feel it is drawing you into closer alignment with some higher level of existence. You may feel it is drawing you into a space where you are directly receiving flows of energy and information through our central sun in our known solar system, or you may feel you are somewhere stationed just above Earth, above where the satellites are. I am sure it will be made known to you your exact positioning where you choose to align with the station and your presence within the station, and this is where it is.

“We are with you, initially Orem addressing you, gathering you into this space once more, as we assess you. We assess your energy field. Through the energy field we also assess your physicality circumstances and changes. This is what you bring into the Station at this time. We assess you as we draw you to be within the energetic flow, or beam, which clears your energy field of all of that data and energy systems you have accumulated.

This is essential at this time to continue the activation and strengthening of the active circuits in your vibrational frequency which allows you to be more consciously present into the higher dimensions of existence. In effect, you are again filling yourself up with the energy and information that is required where you are positioned in your lifestyle, and in this way you are automatically receiving updates of energy, of sequences of change and you are automatically aligned with the dimensional portals that are allowing more of this change to come into you, through you and into the Earth as it is positioned,

You already are experiencing the change, perhaps in a way that you feel Earth is being held in a beam of light and is being moved or going through a transition process. You are caught up in that, of course you are embraced in that. You are embraced in the energy transition as you are receiving this where you are presently conscious where you are with us. There is ongoing movement. You are more aware of this because of the alignment process occurring, shifting you into this greater alignment, into a pattern where you may experience a physical transportation, a physical movement shift.

Whatever is appropriate for you as to the level that you are engaged within and what areas you are existing within and the process of energy patterns you are being aligned with as you open yourself to allow this to engage more deeply into the active processes within you.

Indeed, it may appear to you that you are present in this presentation into a different environment, a greater expanded environment, and there is movement you are aware of already. The movement is exciting you, it is energizing you to be more active in this energy field you are resonating with. You are coexisting in this energy field with higher aspects of you and with energy Beings you resonate with. There is a great deal that has been and is being prepared for you. It is not a definite delineation because of the dimensional fields existing which are overlapping, which are moving and exchanging energy fields information with you. In this way we are telling you there is no past present or future. It is existing now, but your focus and attention is existing into the variation which is an expansion and upliftment of the civilization currently you experience on Earth.

More often you will be visually identifying the new patterns of existence - new bridgework, new dwellings of a higher vibrational frequency pattern. Are you tuning into this to receive it? You will initially be seeing the merging and emerging of the manifested areas we are referring to. The importance of bringing this to your attention is so that you readily adapt to the higher field of functioning. This does not necessarily mean you adapt to the programming that is currently affecting you on Earth. This means that you are taking the opportunity to disengage from that and you are taking the opportunity to step into the more activated higher frequency pattern of existence. It is already there. You are already there. We keep reminding you of this, so you may find you need to mentally switch the patterns if you feel you are re-engaging into the lower field vibration. You have the capacity to choose to engage the higher field that you naturally resonate with.

It is what you chose to bring in and as we refer to this, be aware that you again are stepping through the portal that positions you into all of the commissioned Beings of the Galactic Federation and everything that is involved in that. You automatically identify yourself as part of that network of Beings. The communication field is what is available to you when you move through this open portal that you already are aligned with - you are already within it and through it. It is the next expansion of consciousness and consciousness is manifesting the establishment of the dimensional existence within you, through you, around you.

Some of you could be experiencing a continual alignment and adjustment that you may feel emotionally or physically throughout you. As you identify that as being part of the reconnection into the higher field frequency pattern, then the stressful areas dissolve away and clearness becomes more apparent. This is the opportunity that you are taking which is available. This is your choice that you are taking and making, so it is in this lightfull way that this session is presented to you in this immersion. As you continually re-immense yourself into this higher field pattern, you will feel that the area of the Station expands to incorporate Earth, to bring in the newer realisations and patterns for you to be existing within and around. Remember - it is more than just your current life pattern and the current existence as Earth is. You are moving into a different energetic phase of that pattern.

We are simply presenting it to you, through words, through visualization techniques. If you prefer to see it on a visual screen - perceive this now. Perceive the screens that have come up to show you in a picture form, in a multi-dimensional field where you automatically adjust your perception to see through different layers of the change. In many of the control centres here this is how it is perceived, but it is perceived through the awareness of the Beings who are operating the energetic field screens. If you liken yourself to one of those operators then you also perceive in the same way. You do not need specific gear, or a container, or a vehicle.

In that sense you are the vehicle, you are the visualizer, you are converting it into images that could be seen and shared with others. This is all part of your higher functioning energetic existence. As part of this viewing there is a pattern of order. We remind you of this. The order of the higher functioning field of Creation. This brings you back again to your original purpose and you are renewing that and you will be aware that you now have activated a higher field of potential that was within your original pattern of existence and this is being brought forward to you now - the intention of upliftment into a pattern of higher order.

You will also be aware that there are many ones you know who have decided to ignore the higher pattern and who are releasing the current body form, realizing that it is not the right vehicle for them to exist in and they may already be choosing a new body form to exist in the next field, the dimensional civilization already existing. The transitions can be free and smooth and easily achieved out of the current physical circumstances of the body. That is a choice as well, attended by many of the Galactic Beings, the extra-dimensional ones who are companions to all, who oversee the shifts and changes. There are many layers in this other dimensional existence. You are aware of those layers.

We bring your focus and attention back into your higher light body frequency pattern, existing in that always and so you have the functioning and ability to upgrade the functioning of your current existence so you bring in the higher pattern within the physical body. This is for you to know and experience.

Bring all of this back into your presence here in the receiving area of this Station of Light in this dimensional sphere of existence. You are well loved and acknowledged as you allow all of this to be implemented in you and through you. We acknowledge this, Beloved, in you.

Orem out “

“Thank you, Orem. I am Ulea at this time observing you again, preparing you to bring all of this deeply into your physical existence, into the physical plane of Earth, as you are aware of it, and you are also bringing in your awareness of your experience of the expanded energetic field of existence. You already are doing this as you allow this to be maintained.

Ulea out “

As Ulea leaves, this is over to me as Lani to physically bring you back with the physical voice back into your physical form, back into the time, the date, your location, and I do the same for myself as I bring myself back to my location in Auckland, New Zealand.

Remember all of this, remember the choices you made and continue to make. Bring in this higher order and connection and you are so well loved and supported as you do this.

Thank you. I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Fully ground yourself now and feel the shift taking place, feel the light that fills you and all around you.

Lani
