“Greetings to you. This is Orem with you representing all of the other Beings in this space who have come forward to be with you at this time.

We deliver to you segments of information, packets of energy, codes of information within energy, so it is all around you here in a complete deliverance. Your part is to allow yourself to open to resonate with the particular information seed packets that are appropriate for you now. Each of you will be having specific needs and each of you also will be bringing forward into this space the needs of the entire planet system that you are functioning in and as. Therefore, you are receiving on all levels what is required for you.

There are many areas that are opening up to you that had not been available to you previously. We refer to areas within your own planetary land masses and water masses, areas that are coming to your information. Some of these relate to what we referred to previously as the star bases functioning within the energetic Earth as it is known to be. When you consider your Earth to be an energy mass that is manifesting the higher functioning order of Creation, then you become more familiar with specific stations of light in different localities within the Earth and around the Earth. This is what we refer to as areas being opened up to you.

Many of the areas sustain the higher dimensional frequency pattern and those areas of course are not visible and not known to the ones vibrating at a different rate, a different level of understanding and so they are not familiar with them.

They are familiar with energy that they resonate with.

We continue to bring your awareness into the civilisations of light dimensions functioning all around you. Every time we speak of this, you are vibrating to the higher frequency pattern of existence. Creation, creation of Earth, is still manifesting in an ongoing way. Thus you call it expansion of Earth consciousness and expansion of you into the greater field of consciousness.

There are many levels of civilization that have an impact on your energy field. Every time you come into the Station and you go through the energy which filters out from your energy field all of those other situations, you again receive more clearly the higher level that you have come into the Station to receive. You are helping yourself by being here, by being present. It clears you and this you may be experiencing - the clearance, or letting go, of elements or energy systems that come with you into the Station, because they are around you in your physical vibrating body and location. Those are the containers of many experiences and they get imprinted into layers of your consciousness field, especially if you continue to go over historical events. From the perspective that you are viewing this now, you will see that historical events have changed because there has been the imprint upon them of other viewpoints and definitions, labels, of what people think happened. All of that becomes irrelevant when you step out of that layer of energy into the higher consciousness field you are receiving now, and you receive it every time you connect to the higher blueprint and the core energy essence of Creation. It is vital to maintain this energy connection for you.

Many of you who are creating new patterns of light and systems to sustain the greater pattern of light for people on Earth, are receiving the necessary elements of Creation. It is that you receive it in a complete coded packet and this you receive it as it unfolds in your daily life in your thoughts.

Session 1065
Date: April 8, 2021, Thursday
Time 9 am

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Lani speaking to you.

Are you with me? Take in a lovely easy breath and as you let it out, let your mind and your body relax. Do that again and relax even more.

Do that again and this time allow yourself to be with me in the Station of Light in the receiving area.

It is an amazing space. Already you have freed yourself from many of the thought processes and activities you have been involved in, in your physical life. If you are heavily involved in metaphysical and greater dimensional activities, then you will be receiving even more of the higher pattern of energy and light to help you. This is how we begin today.

This is helpful to many of you who are initializing new energy systems to be freely available to all upon Earth. Already you have seen some of these come into manifestation with people bringing in the new creations to the Earth people and many people say Ah, we have been waiting for this, yes this is right! There is a continual unfoldment of this type of creative energy system. It becomes more real as the overall energy of the plasmic field is captured for the creators to use. There are different tools involved in that and they will come forward. Many are already being used but it is necessary to shield those from the lower functioning mentality groups. There will come a time when more of you will be using these new manifestations coming forward. You are stepping into this already and in terms of time measurement, you have been using it already. It came in some time ago, measured in years. Therefore, the energy field, the consciousness, is moving into alignment with those higher patterns of plasmic creations. Plasmic engineering you could use that term but of course engineering is associated with a lower level of creation.

So, you are learning to open up the parameters of the words that define certain activities you have been brought up with and passed on from generation to generation and yet, now that your consciousness field envelops and receives what is enveloping you from the higher fields of dimensional existence, then the parameters change. The terms that you are used to will change, they will be enhanced, new terms will come into manifestation, so you will find much of your literature will have to be rewritten, if you rely on that. Remember, the essence of you, that higher field consciousness of you that is you, understands this in a different way to what you have learned through teachings or text books. This is knowledge that is inherent in your full blueprint and remember the blueprint has expanded to receive more of the energy framework that is important for you to be functioning in and as now in your life pattern.

Bring it all into you now. Even that term 'now' is a framework but it does represent to you that everything is available to you in this moment.

You may also be aware of the greater connections you have in this state. Aware of different Beings working with you and also helping you to understand their presence and functioning in accordance with the pure essence of Creation - the light field. Step away from some of the thoughts how you would expect that to be and allow the presence of the Beings to speak to you and present to you their combined field of consciousness. The importance of it for you as an individual will come to you and unfold. There is always the continuation of freeing you from the way that you have thought life would be on the planet, so some of those also continue to clear you of the imprint of conditioning of the lower mental fields of existence. It is a process to enable you to be free of that and to be functioning with this higher dimensional field.

We do continue our existence as Beings taking in what is required and working in harmony with the natural field that exists that enfolds all of existence everywhere and this is the principle of sustaining life and expanding life into different patterns that are called civilizations. All you need to do is to experience this and feel how it expands your energetic field and as you bring this back around you now to be aware you are in the initial gathering space of the Station, you will feel those of you who have come forward from Earth present with you are also receiving this energy field that you share. This will enhance it for you as you move back and you bring it all back into your current life pattern. It is all about shifting you into the expanded dimensional fields of existence. You recognize this.

This was presented to you in this session. It will remain with you and will unfold. This is presented to you from us.

Orem out

“Acknowledged, Orem. Ulea again with you and receiving the energy that I bring forward to you. It is a continuation of the same principle of life for you, and this is shared with you and as this sharing is absorbed in your energy field that is here in this Station, I also assist you to bring this back into your energy form. I am with you in this. It is the energy field that is with you that I am part of as part of the expansion of consciousness of you and the Earth pattern.

I step back now to allow this to be fresh and empowering you at this time.

Ulea out

Thank you Ulea and Orem and all the other Beings that I sensed were with this.

Lani again and through my physical voice I help you to integrate all of this into the pattern of your physical life on Earth and even though you think it is a physical life, perhaps you realise it is a metaphysical life as well.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications portal today.

Do take in a beautiful breath, breathing in all the energy you have received and bring it fully into you in the present moment.

Thank you

Lani
