Date: August 19, 2021, Thursday

Time 10.30 am

Omega Communications Portal Transmissions

Lani speaking to you from within my Station which is a bubble which is connected with the Station of Light.

As I begin this session with you, take in a lovely breath - the vital essence that you breathe in and out and each breath you take connects you deeper to your true essence. It is this true essence aspect of you known as your body of light that comes easily and quickly transitioning into the receiving area of the Station of Light for this particular session today.

Allow any thoughts that have been surrounding you, or the current circumstances that you are experiencing, let all of those just drift away and bring your attention into this pure state of existence. In this way you will be able to access energy and information appropriate for you today. This is how we begin this session.

"Greetings and welcome to you. Orem addressing you and it is a privilege, it is a gift, to join with you in this space. Do you recognize that? It is both a privilege to connect with you because you willingly come into the space and it is a gift in the sense that you are receiving a clearer pattern of energy and this will be energizing and clearing your particular energy field. It will clear from you conditions or thought patterns and emotions that tend to get entangled in your thought patterns and therefore in your energy field. That in turn affects the cellular response within your physical body forms.

We understand this. We observe it in you and therefore we gift you this time to step out of experience and to come into this clear space where, as you accept this space, your energy field expands, your consciousness again reconnects to an aspect of creation that you are bringing into you, into your time space reality. You access the greater dimensional field that is conscious, or consciousness, that is an energy pattern that we are using - a word that you could accept and understand easily. So it is this that you are reconnecting with and bringing into you and through you.

The conditions around you are improving. Focus again on the overlaying energy matrix field that is emanating through your solar portal and surrounding the planet. There is a resonating effect with this that is expanding the Earth energy field and there is the continuation of the opening and the shifting in the energy field of experience within the dimension that Earth had been experiencing.

In this instance we refer to that dimension as an experience of civilization.

All of that again is an energy imprint that you are aware of that is part of your present existence where you are located in the physical body, so in shifting your attention and reconnecting into the greater overlaying energy matrix, the dimension, then you are participating in a shift of your reality and the reality that is yours is what you are continuing to manifest. Again, it is impressed upon you to continue to align yourself to your original point of existence and in that dimensional existence, that framework of that, the matrix of that original dimensional field draws you into that expanded state and so you have a greater viewpoint and you have greater clarity.

The focus is always on you to expand you and to clear you into the state where you exist in that level, that dimensional level that you could describe as advanced or expanded, that is where the influence is able to move around the planet in the greater expanded energy field and it is that energy field that is resonating with the clearer imprint, the clearer pattern. It is always about this. It is always about reconnecting you to this clearer pattern. Therefore, those of you who are remembering how to materialize the new expanded coordinated civilization, you are receiving how to do this, you are receiving patterns that you can implement. It all exists in that consciousness field and therefore into the thought patterns as you interpret it in the various patterns that exist within you. If you are not actively engaged in the manifestation of new aspects, then your role is to simply absorb all of the energetic codes containing the potential of a purer line of existence coming in through you and to you.

Now, in delivering this to you in this moment, you will be aware of your attention being drawn to different landmasses and different energy pockets within or beneath the landmasses or beneath the oceans. Again, this is connecting you into the enlivening processes that are very active, even though they are not generally presented to you through your normal news media patterns.

In accessing this point of connection within the Station and with what you are receiving in this moment, you are more actively engaged in the processes that these separate stations of light are actively working with and the principles being emitted are also very strongly within your own sensory patterns. Remember, it is natural in you to sense the correct pathway, to sense what is disturbing and what is enlivening and clearing and so through this process of your pure connection, all of your sensory patterns are strengthened and therefore this is strengthening your inner patterns of light that as you are as a living organism that responds to light. So here we are again. we have delivered you into this clear space.

There are groups here that you have become aware of who communicate with you as an individual, who greet you as an individual component of the network specific to the energy patterns that you resonate with and the overall connectivity of all of these is part of the galactic commissioning groups who come forward in the process of observing and helping the upliftment and clarification of you all.

There are many methods engaged in this process. Again, you will be sensing, you will know the particular pathway that is correct for you and other pathways that are confusing to you or not clear enough. You are choosing and you may be choosing multiple pathways. In that sense, the multiple pathways you have already chosen, you have already experienced. Those are the multiple aspects of you that exist. There is a necessity to share your pure elemental vital essence through all of those multiple aspects of you and in return, the higher resonating frequency pattern will come back to you to reinforce your true perspective, your true purpose, your pure alignment.

This is all part of you as an individual conscious Being and those of you who are aware that you exist in multiple timelines and aspects with us in the Station and within different groups who travel out in different energy spheres to parts of the planet and other planets.

This is all validating what you have been feeling and experiencing. In this particular aspect here also, be aware that the energy pattern is very strongly activated and this pattern is centered in the upper part of your head, in the central area within a central receiving sphere of energy. Let your awareness be on this and you will be aware of the activation and aspects of patterns you are receiving and there is an automatic sequencing occurring which goes beyond your known medical science patterns. This is a dimensional unfolding of patterns that you resonate with as a clearer Being essential to maintaining the new pattern of life on this planetoid that you are inhabiting. So, what you are receiving is upgrading the natural patterns within your energy systems that your body responds to as part of the enlivening. This also will be clearing away patterns which may have become imprinted in your energy field in some way that are not natural to your body systems.

We bring your attention to the way that the natural elements of the planetoid are being upgraded and releasing a clearer pattern through the earth, through the water, through the plant life, through the light, through the air and all of that are the vital components that your body takes in and in the taking in of that, it is taking in the photons, the light photons necessary again. It is all about you in this moment and the active work you are doing in emitting the clear light patterns.

This was what was required for you in this moment so we bring your attention back to where you are within this grand receiving area within the Station. Stabilize yourself here and we see this strengthening you.

Withdrawing now

Orem out “

Lani again with you and with all of those Beings who are known to us through the Station- Ulea and the Star Beings who come through as a different patterning to how Orem is presented to us. They are all supporting you and there are specific ones supporting you as an individual assigned to you, ones you have brought with you into this life pattern.

Now it is time to bring all of this back into current time on Earth, so take in a lovely breath and as you breathe out, breathe it back into your body from above the top of your head, through your body and around your body, to the soles and the tips of your toes and feet and into the various areas within this planet. You will be absorbing everything you have experienced in this session through the words and beyond the words. So allow yourself to receive this gift and to maintain a very strong energy field in your existence.

Again, bring your attention back fully into your body and into the present moment. Thank you, and this ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal
